Ex-Mayor Enloe Makes Bid For A Senate Seat

William G. Enloe, 63, former City Councilman and mayor of Raleigh, who retired from the council in 1953, announced last Friday that he would seek a seat in the State Senate. Here are excerpts from his announcement:

"Having made a study of the political aspects in our District, and after discussing the possibility of my candidacy for the State Senate with many of my friends throughout this District, I have decided to become a candidate for this office, subject to the Democratic Primary next May.

"My record is well-known as a Raleigh Councilman for the past ten years, and as mayor during six of those years. My candidacy for the Senate is based on that record, with but one exception. If elected, I shall be serving all the people of Wake and Chatham Counties instead of just the people of Raleigh.

Although my experience in city government in Raleigh was a severe test of judgment and understanding, I have found the challenges of public life brought corresponding compensations and rich rewards of personal satisfaction. I believe the experience I have gained makes me better qualified to serve as State Senator.

"I am deeply grateful to all those who have supported me in my previous campaigns and to all those who have so graciously and generously offered their support during my forthcoming campaign for the State Senate."

DRIVE SAFELY! Lt. Frank Ellis Receives Mutual of Omaha Award

WASHINGTON D.C. — U.S. Navy Lieutenant Frank K. Ellis, (second from left) who lost his legs in an aircraft accident in 1953 and courageously rehabilitated himself in a successful effort to return to active military duty, was presented the Mutual of Omaha public service award in Washington recently.

The award, consisting of $1,000 and a plaque, was approved by the company's board of directors during a series of meetings held in the nation's capital. Presentation was made by Dr. Charles W. Mayo (left) of Rochester, Minn., and Lt. Gen. (ret.) James H. Doolittle, U.S.A.F. (second from right). Both are Mutual of Omaha board members and members of the company's awards committee.

In the citation, V.J. Skutt, (right) chairman of the board and president of Mutual of Omaha, paid tribute to Lt. Ellis, who was critically injured when he refused to bail out of his crippled jet fighter until he guided the aircraft away from a populated area near Point Mugu, Calif.

"We are presenting this award to Lt. Ellis," Skutt said, "for this instinctive heroic maneuver which resulted in the loss of both legs; for his self-motivation in restoring his life so as to be useful to himself, his family, and the community; and his contribution as a symbol of encouragement to every person whose life may be affected by some sickness or injury."

MOTHER'S MARCH BEGINS HERE

These captains need the help and support of every mother in each neighborhood. The day designated for the main "Mother's March" is Tuesday, January 27th. If you desire to march with the mothers, please contact Mrs. Dorothy Thomas, TE 4-5881 or Mrs. J. D. Hinton, TE 2-9995, chairman and co-chairman, respectively. If you cannot march, leave your porch light burning to let them know you want to make a contribution.

The final report will be made on the night of the March, January 28 between 7:30 and 12:00 o'clock at the Wachovia Bank & Trust Co. in Cameron Village. All volunteer workers are invited to come out during reporting time and sip coffee and eat donuts.

LOCAL YMCA JOINS NAT'L OBSERVANCE

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) The city Sunday with bulletins that have been furnished by the YMCA without charge. Factors have been invited to speak briefly on the new emphasis of the YMCA in the matter of improving human relations throughout the United States.

Raleigh's ministers will be the guests of the YMCA on Monday, January 27, at noon with a special religious service and a fellowship hour.

C. C. Smith, Jr., retired district manager of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Co., will be honored at a membership reception at the "Y" on Tuesday, Jan. 28, at 8 p.m.

A plaque of appreciation of four years' work on the YMCA's Board of Management will be presented. On Wednesday evening, January 29, a banquet honoring employees of Carolina Trailways will be held. "Youth Night" will be observed on Friday night, January 31, with a party, sponsored by the R-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Youth Clubs.

LOCAL STUDENT VICTIM OF DRUNK DRIVER

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) Wake County Jailor A. J. Proeschler late Tuesday night. The death victim was reportedly owned by James W. Preston, also of Ft. Bragg. A 1953 Buick Wildcat was driven by Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Wilson, two sisters, Misses Regelyn and Eleanor Wilder; and one brother, Leonard Wilder, all of the home; and his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson of this city.

TWO BOUND OVER IN ABC STORE BREAK-IN

James Burnett, Wake County's ABC Enforcement Chief, who was aided by Kelly and Wake Deputy Sheriff Lonnie Covert, called all of the Wake County towns having ABC stores to have them check for possible break-ins.

Within minutes, a call came that Wendell's store was missing five cases of whiskey. Entry was gained through a rear door and an interior door. The three men arrested said that they had found the whiskey which was in the automobile. Four of the cases of whiskey were found in the car at Apex, and a fifth case at Williams' home on Rock Quarry Road.

Bermuda Profile Year-Round Paradise

From the balcony, a view of coral sands and sparkling sea... the feel of a warm and tropical sun. In the distance, the sound of a calypso band. Small wonder that Bermuda—only an hour-and-a-half from the U.S. by jet—is one of America's favorite year-round vacation lands.

Key word for Bermuda is romantic. The capital city, Hamilton, maintains its old-world charm right alongside modern shops and facilities. A buggy ride in the city—with your sweetheart by your side... as they say in a native calypso song—is a must for every visitor.

Water is never more than a mile away from any spot on the island... and there's every kind of fishing available. Some hotels, like the Elbow Beach Surf Club, have private beaches and pools for their vacationers. Rooms at the Elbow Beach combine the best features of living room, bedroom, and outdoor terrace. There are also Lanai suites and more secluded seaside cottages. Guests can eat breakfast and luncheon on an open terrace... enjoy nightly entertainment in the chic supper club.

Death Of Prowler Is 'Justified'

TARBORO — An Edgecombe County coroner's jury ruled as "justifiable homicide" the rifle-throwing on Friday, January 17, of Jesse "Knot" Cherry, by Isaac L. Calhoun when he allegedly discovered Curry crawling in his bare feet in the Calhoun home during the night.

The 24-year-old Cherry was a former tenant on the Calhoun farm and reportedly was on a probation from a previous conviction of breaking and entering the same Calhoun home about a year ago. Investigation of the killing was conducted by Edgecombe County Sheriff Tom Barden and Chief Deputy C. C. Price, who reported the deceased lived across the road from the Calhoun residence where he was discovered "on his hands and knees" through the home of his white landlady on U. S. Highway 64 on Feb. 3.

Calhoun reported he "awoke about 4:30 in the morning to see a form crawling on its hands and knees" into my bedroom and back out into the hall. Calhoun said he grabbed a 22-caliber rifle and asked who it was, whereupon the "form" dashed into the bathroom and closed the door.

When Calhoun ordered the man to come out of the bathroom, he said the man came out hollering "Don't shoot Ike, it's me", but kept coming toward him, so Ike shot. After being shot through the chest, the burglar ran several feet and fell dead besides his shoes.

He offered to be more inspiring than demanding, because obligations and responsibilities.

WOMAN HELD IN CUTTING

The cutting incident is said to have followed an argument and took place in "The Bottom," a popular name for the area of Davis Street between S. Haywood and Alston Streets. Authorities at the local police department believe the entire altercation was a direct result of drinking as both women were allegedly under the influence of alcohol when officers arrived on the scene and both have previous records of liquor violations.

Miss Bridges is believed to be a native of the Garner area, and is known to have attended Garner Consolidated School at one time.

The sutures taken in the face and on the hand of the victim were listed by Wake Memorial Hospital as costing $20.75.

Trial for Miss Bridges is slated for Wednesday of this week in Raleigh's City Court with Judge S. Pretlowe Winborne presiding.

SNCC WORKER ASKS KENNEDY TO DEFEND HIM

HATTIESBURG, Miss.—A white New York man jailed here has asked Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy to come to Hattiesburg to defend him.

Oscar Chase, 23, of Queens, New York, asked Kennedy in a telegram from the jail to come to Hattiesburg to defend him. Chase, a worker for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, was arrested when he entered the Negro waiting room in a Hattiesburg bus station. He was charged with "breach of the peace" and "obscenity." Attorney General Kennedy is now in Malaysia and no word was available from his office as to his plans to defend Chase.

A 1963 graduate of Yale Law School, Chase has been doing legal research for SNCC. He was in Hattiesburg to gather information on the case of Theron Lynd, Forrest Lynd's brother, who has been convicted of falling to obey a court order compelling him to cease discriminating against prospective Negro voters. The United States Supreme Court refused to review his case of January 6, 1964.

In Atlanta, John Lewis, chairman of SNCC, asked Attorney General Kennedy to set free the young rights worker. Other telegrams were sent to Senator Jacob Javits and Kenneth Keating, Republicans of New York, and to Congressman Edward Roush of Queens.

Another rights worker jailed in Hattiesburg for "possession of narcotics" and two traffic violations, has indicated he will stay behind bars also. SNCC workers Peter Stoner, 23, of Berlin, Pennsylvania, fined $150 on each of the traffic cases Tuesday, January 14, after the "narcotics" charge was dropped, said he will stay in jail because "I am tired of Hattiesburg police harassing vote workers."

White Section Welcome Liston

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—"I'm delighted that Sonny Liston is moving into the neighborhood, and I want to go on record saying so," Lester Nelson of Miami was quoted as saying last week. Nelson had just learned that the world's heavyweight boxing champion has rented a house in the "white" section, a block away from him. Liston will live in the house until his Feb. 25 title fight with talkative Cassius Clay of Louisville.

To prove that he meant what he said, Nelson called Accountant Norman Green, owner of the house, who had rented it through Mrs. Martha M. Louis, wife of ex-heavyweight champion Joe Louis, and attorney for Liston, to express his approval. "I don't believe in all this riding horses, wearing sheets and burning crosses," Nelson declared. He said some neighbors had telephoned him when the news was made public and asked him to attend an emergency meeting to consider "the problem."

"I told them to drop dead," Nelson said. Located just five minutes from Liston's Tropical Park training camp, the three-bedroom home—with closed pool—will house the champ and his entourage until after the fight with Clay in Miami Beach.

Liston was expected to move in on or before January 18. Clay is already in training on the Beach.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY!

There's a new city rising in Central Florida. A city that will cover 36 square miles, have 150,000 residents and feature all-electric living. Rocket City is the newly planned billion dollar urban/suburban complex now rising between Orlando and the Cape Kennedy Space Center. It's filling the gap by providing land and housing for the people who will be working the 300,000 new space-age-created jobs expected in this area between now and 1970.

Within eight years, 65,000 will be living at Rocket City in 15,000 all-electric homes and 3,000 all-electric apartments in the 7,000 acre "central city". The new community will be created by several builders under the supervision of Rocket City's developer, All-State Development Corporation of Miami.

All dwellings will be built to Gold Medalion standards to make sure that each resident has today's most modern appliances plus adequate wiring to handle electrical conveniences of the future.
