TABLES TURNED — Miss Donna Offutt, of Louisville, Ky., who played the part of a hospital visitor, doubles up in pain after tasting food brought to nervous patient, played by Miss Mittie White of Newark, N. J., while nurses, portrayed by Misses Anne Middleton, of Atlanta, Ga., and Jamelle Rackley, of Orangeburg, S. C., look aghast. Scene is from "Consolation," one of three one-act plays presented and directed by Bennett College students last week.

Alphas Hear Shaw's President At Annual Founders' Banquet

Phi Lambda Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity observed the founding of Alpha fifty eight years ago at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., by seven Negroes who were in attendance, with a Founders Day Banquet. "The Cellar" of Hamlin Drug store, here was the site of the affair. Attending included twenty-two members of the local chapter, and their wives, Bro. Dr. H. L. Trigg, of Livingstone College, Bro. Rev. J. R. Dungee of Henderson, Brother Arthur J. Clement III, of Durham, Brother Peter Golden and Mr. James Mason of St. Augustine's College. Highlights of the evening included History of Phi Lambda by Brother H. L. Trigg, in which he made the point that the early pioneers in Alpha felt in the early days that the curriculum of Negro colleges were not of the type to train Alpha men. He also related some of the problems that the chapter had faced in 1926 the year of its organization.

Gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Burke, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Barfield, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Lewis for new additions to their families. The following brothers were recognized for having had continuous membership in Alpha for more than twenty five years: Brothers, R. L. Lynch, H. L. Trigg, G. F. Newell, R. H. Toole,

W. C. Davenport, J. A. Mann, J. W. Eaton, and M. L. Wilson of Selma.

The main feature of the banquet was an address by Brother Dr. James E. Cheek, Shaw University. Brother Cheek pointed out how Alpha Phi Alpha had led the way over the years in stimulating and urging Negroes to seek for first class citizenship. He stressed the importance of supporting all things that led to progress. Dr. Cheek charged that Negro organizations are by no means doing all that they can to give our boys and girls the best that can be secured. He pointed out that all Alpha families in this immediate community were behind him.

Brother Dr. Joseph Jones, president of Phi Lambda Chapter, presented a check for the general fund of Shaw University to Brother Dr. James E. Cheek as an outward indication that all Alpha families in this immediate community were behind him.

Sporty New Molded Salad

Whether you're a snow-sports enthusiast or simply an admirer of good cooking — or both — "Ski Slope Fruit Salad" should have easy sliding into your book of favorite recipes.

It's an impressive, almost mountainous, mold with zig-zag alternating layers of spicy peach gelatin, one layer sparkling with canned fruit cocktail, the other "snowcapped" with sour cream. Accompanied by hearty sandwiches, hot chicken consommé, a warm custard for dessert and lots of hot coffee or tea, "Ski Slope Fruit Salad" will highlight a meal of championship proportions.

This time of year when fresh fruits are rather scarce in markets, canned fruit cocktail is plentiful at attractive prices to bring five different fruits — cling peaches, pears, pineapple, maraschino cherries and seedless green grapes — into your menu-planning.

SKI SLOPE FRUIT SALAD

1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) fruit cocktail	1 cup boiling water
2 packages (3 oz. each) peach gelatin	1/4 cup tarragon vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt	1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
	1/2 pint dairy sour cream
	Crisp salad greens

Drain fruit cocktail well, reserving syrup. Dissolve gelatin and salt in boiling water. Stir in syrup, vinegar and lemon rind. Chill until mixture mounds on spoon. Fold fruit cocktail into half of gelatin mixture; fold sour cream into remainder. Holding a 2-quart mold on a slant, spoon in alternate layers of fruit and cream mixtures. Chill in refrigerator until firm. Unmold on crisp greens to serve. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Young America Bakes— Raised Gingerbread Doughnuts

RAISED GINGERBREAD DOUGHNUTS
Makes about 2 dozen

1 cup milk	1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup dark molasses	1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup (1/2 stick) Fleischmann's Margarine	1/4 cup warm water (105°-115°F.)
1 package or cake Fleischmann's Yeast, dry or compressed	1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon	1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon allspice	2 eggs, beaten
3 cups unsifted flour, (about)

Scald milk; stir in brown sugar, molasses, salt, and Fleischmann's Margarine. Cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into a large warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in Fleischmann's Yeast; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture, ginger, cinnamon, nutmeg, allspice, eggs, and 3 cups flour; beat until smooth. Stir in enough additional flour to form a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, about 8-10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning once to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour and 15 minutes.

Punch down. Place dough on lightly floured board and roll out to about 1/4 inch thickness. Cut into doughnuts with 2 1/2 inch doughnut cutter. Place on greased baking sheets. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Drop into deep hot fat (375°F.), raised side down. Fry 2 or 3 minutes, turning once. Drain on absorbent paper. Roll in cinnamon-sugar mixture, if desired.

GRANDMA wouldn't recognize these doughnuts. They have the same yeast-raised texture, but delightful new gingerbread flavor.

Old-Fashioned Favorites with New Flavor

One of the best sweet-tooth triggers is the doughnut. Americans have been enjoying doughnuts in coffee or milk for many a year. And the home-baked variety is impossible to beat. This yeast raised favorite is remembered as a specialty just like grandma used to make. Now the old-fashioned treat has a new look. Youthful doughnut devotees are making the same yeast-raised recipe with molasses, brown sugar and spices added for a special zesty flavor. They have the flavor of gingerbread, but the same delightful texture of grandma's best. Eat them plain, or coat with spiced sugar.

"History Of Man Is Continuing Story Of Denial, Betrayal: Rev. A. Stanley

GREENSBORO — "The whole history of man is a continuing story of denial and betrayal," the Rev. A. Knighton Stanley declared at the morning worship service at Bennett College Sunday.

Director of the United Southern Christian Fellowship Foundation at A&T College, the minister cited examples from the Old and New Testaments and from present day civilization to make his point. "The Bible also gives witness," he continued, "of God's seeming betrayal of man, the most classic example being the story about Abraham's sacrifice of his son, Isaac."

Modern literature and art, the minister believes, capture the mood of this generation, marked by distrust, fears, anxiety and death. The fact that some persons take delight in the misfortunes of those whom they insist are their closest friends was also cited in evidence.

"Even the church today," said the Rev. Mr. Stanley, "betrays the name of Jesus Christ," and he urged the student, who are about to embark upon a new semester,
