

The Veteran's Corner

Here are authoritative answers by the Veterans Administration to questions from former servicemen and their families:

Q—As an amputee, I have been receiving a pension for nonservice-connected disabilities. During my present hospitalization, it was necessary to amputate my other leg. Can I receive a greater pension now?

A—You may now be eligible for an additional allowance for aid and attendance after discharge from the hospital. This is not a general benefit but one made based on individual circumstances. You will have to apply to the VA for it.

Q—As a non-veteran, may I buy a GI home when it has been repossessed and again offered for sale?

A—The Veterans Administration has for sale to anyone who can qualify as to credit standing a large number of homes which have been foreclosed following non-payment by the GI purchaser. See your real estate broker, since most brokers are cooperating with the VA, to find out if any of these foreclosed homes are in your area.

Q—Can I make a personal loan from the VA to meet a financial emergency?

A—No. The benefits granted to veterans by Congress do not include provision for personal loans.

NATIONAL FISH
KRIBI, Cameron (ANP)—While fishing in one of the many streams in this area, a fisherman who was not having much luck, suddenly had a strike. Jubilant over the fact that he would have at least one fish to show for his long wait, he began reeling in his line. As he pulled his catch out of the water, he gasped in amazement. Other fishermen came running as he shouted, "Look at this, will you?" "His catch was a fish true enough, but what a fish! Its body was colored green, red and brown—the colors of the national emblem of the Cameron Republic. The fish was taken to city hall, where it has been mounted on a board and hangs from the wall in the public gallery for all to see.
