

Shaw University Speaker:

'For The Life Of The World,' Rev. McCloud's Subject Here

"For the Life of the World," was the subject of the Reverend J. Orest McCloud's message at vespers Sunday at Shaw University. Rev. McCloud stated that during the twentieth century man has developed the technological capacity to eradicate the age-old oppression of poverty, slum, and disease. His techniques of production could lift the standard of living for all the people of the world. He has constructed means of communication and transportation that have turned the vast reaches of the world into a small neighborhood. YET MAN STANDS IN DIRE JEOPARDY. Fear, mistrust, suspicion, greed, corruption, prejudice, misery, and despair still abound, and are daily threats under which he lives. Two world wars in a single generation have failed to bring him any closer to the peace for which he longs. All his old securities have been swept aside by the tides of quiet revolutionary change. Reverend McCloud said that the church, which is called upon to serve the world is suffering from the very same ailment as the society it is called upon to serve. Today's church, through organizations, ecclesiastical machinery seems "over-committed" and "under-committed," he quoted. The false distinction of the church as being "spiritual" or "sacred" to extend that it ought to have nothing to do with men's so-called "worldly" or "secular" pursuits has kept the Lord of the church shut within a Book, captive in some theological formula, the property of this denomination or that sect. It has led to the notion that piety is a private affair, consequently, it has served to put much of the daily affairs of our society outside the bounds of the church's concern. It has separated religion and ethics from politics, economics, business, industry, education, and international affairs, which has made the church a quiet, remote retreat from the real issues of life. It has divorced faith from works and thereby corrupted the very heart of the witness that is our service to Christ in the world, he stated. THE LUCILLE HUNTER SCHOOL. On Thursday night, March 3, the Lucille Hunter Parent-Teachers Association met at the school. The meeting was presided over by the president, Edward Curtis. Committee reports were heard. W. W. Hurdle, principal, urged participation in the mass oral polio vaccine drive which will be conducted at the school on three dates, beginning March 22nd at 12:00 noon. After the business session, the parents and teachers enjoyed a recital by members of J. L. Edwards' musical instrument class and the Lucille Hunter Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Green. The attendance banner was won by Mrs. K. Thomas' 8th grade class.

Installation Services Held For Fayetteville St. Pastor

Installation services for the Rev. Willie B. Lewis were held at the Fayetteville Street Baptist Church Sunday, March 9th at 3:30 P. M. The Rev. C. E. Greene presided. Participants on program included Atty. George E. Brown, the Rev. D. N. Howard, and the Rev. Joseph D. Dempsey. J. W. Eaton introduced the Rev. J. H. Clinton, who preached the installation sermon. Others appearing on the program were: Rev. J. H. Bryant, Dr. N. L. Perry, Dr. P. H. Johnson, Rev. J. A. Avery, Honorable J. W. Reid, Mayor of the city of Raleigh, Rev. O. W. Burwick, Rev. C. W. Ward, Swade Sanders, Mrs. Catherine Petersen, Shiloh Baptist Church, Wilmington; Deacon Joseph Whitaker and Rev. E. D. Frutty. Music was furnished by the junior choir with Mesdames M. Chavis and Mary Rankins as soloists. Miss Janie Lindsay presided at the organ. A gift from the church was presented to the Rev. Lewis by Mrs. V. T. Brown. Refreshments were served by the members of the installation committee after the program. A delegation from Wilmington attended the services which showed deep admiration and esteem. Rev. Lewis is married to the former Miss Lillie Mae Hilliard of Whitaker. They have two daughters.

ONE COUNT BEHIND: MEMPHIS (AP) — Tammell Loveless Christy, 45, figures one day to break even, if he can stay away from the bottle long enough. Christy was fined $51 in Traffic Court recently for drunk driving, and $36 each for following too close and having no driver's license. This was the ninth time he has appeared in court on such a charge. He has already served two penal farm terms for driving after his license was revoked. In addition, he faces a 10th drunk driving case in Criminal Court, and his 10th state charge for a similar offense.

PASTOR, FAMILY RECEIVE GIFT — Mrs. A. E. Brown, right, presents gift to the Rev. Willie B. Lewis, pastor, from the members of the Fayetteville Street Baptist Church as Mrs. W. B. Lewis and daughters, Wilhelmina Jeannette, and Yvette, look on. Rev. Lewis is a graduate of Shaw University with A. B. and B. D. degrees. He comes to the present pastorate with a rich background. Shaw's Challenge To Math Seen In New Basic Method Used Here

A class of Basic Mathematics students is being taught the New Mathematics at Shaw University by George Thomas, Sr. Modern Mathematics is one of the specialties of George Thomas, Sr., Associate Professor of Mathematics and the Physical Sciences at Shaw University. When asked what is the impact of the new mathematics on today's school, Professor Thomas replied: "The effect of changes are many and varied and certain imperfections on the part of teachers of Modern Mathematics are inevitable." In order to meet the challenge of the New Mathematics in nation-wide In-Service Programs for every teacher of New Mathematics in the country should be the boundary conditions. More psychological insight is needed so that those teaching the New Mathematics as well as those studying the State University. He has done two years of study in an approved program leading to the Ph.D. in Mathematical Analysis at the University of Illinois. During one of his years at the University of Illinois, he was a teaching assistant in the Department of Mathematics. He has done additional study at Fisk University in the Department of Physics and the University of North Carolina in Mathematics. He has taught at the elementary and secondary levels. He taught mathematics at Florida A & M University as well as In-Service Institutes in Modern Mathematics supported by the National Science Foundation and the State of North Carolina. Currently, he is teaching Modern Mathematics to teachers in Harnett County.

At the same time, the nature of mathematics has changed drastically. A broader conception of the subject today has stimulated amazing new theoretical development, and in turn has led to new possibilities of application in the physical, biological, and social sciences. It is fair to say that mathematics will play a central role in the American culture of tomorrow. This requires an educational system that teaches not only fundamental mathematical techniques, but stresses understanding and originality of thought in mathematics courses. Thomas is a graduate of Savannah State College and Oklahoma

IN PEACE CORPS CAMPAIGN — When a team from the U. S. Peace Corps visited for three-days recently at A&T College, they were welcomed by Hardy Liston, Peace Corps liaison officer, and Dr. Samuel D. Proctor, president, both at left and of A&T College. The team at right included: Miss Mary Courtney, staff assistant; William Finster, returned Peace Corps volunteer from the Philippines, and E. Robert Hollowell, deputy director for Peace Corps volunteers. Since the visit, Dr. Proctor, who served recently as associate director of the Peace Corps, has resigned the presidency of A&T to return to the Washington post.

What ever think a car 213 inches long, 79 inches wide, 6 passengers roomy and Trophy V-8 powerful could cost so little?

Pontiac people.

You'll never guess what the Pontiac people get for their money in Catalinas. Pontiac styling? Well, obviously. Curve-encouraging Wide-Track? Of course. A Trophy V-8 that thrives on regular gas, if they prefer? No charge. Lots more that could cost extra, but doesn't? Sure, electric wipers and dual visors and foam-cushioned front seats. If you drove a Catalina, you'd feel like a Pontiac person. Smug.
