Veep Of NEA's Classroom Teachers Here For Meet

Mrs. Elizabeth D. Koontz. Salisbury, Well-Qualified

Members of the North Carolina, future date Teachers Association who have not an opportunity to congratulate Mrs. Elizabeth D. Koontz, of Salisbury, for her election as vice-president of the Department of Classroom Teachers, in the National Education Association, will get their chance at the annual meeing this week.

Those who have fought the battle for proper representa-tion, by the proper persons, regardless to race or creed acclaimed it a signal honor that one of the members of the NC-TA was honored with such a

She was elected at the annual meeting of the national body in Detroit, Mich., last summer It is be-

Mrs. Koontz is well qualified for the position. She has been active in the work of the Association. She received her education at Livingsone College, where she won the A B degree. She received a M A degree from Atlanta University and has done graduate work at North Carolina College, Columbia University and Indiana University.

She is a member of the famed Duncan family of Salisbury. Her brother, Samuel. is president of Livingstone College. A sister, Julia Belle. is the registrar at the same college. Another brother, Fred, is the principal of Shanketown Elementary School, Concord, while another member of the clan, John, lieved that she stands a good is the first Negro Commissioner of chance of heading the group some Washington, D. C.

Dr. Boyer, Dean, Business Mgr. To Participate In Orientation

College has been invited to particiaugurate an intensive program of management training for college and university administrators, according to an announcement here today by Elmer F. Jagow, business manager of Knox College and director of the special project.

Jagow said about 50 colleges and

Credit Union Of The NCTA Still Growing

The Credit Union was organized September 1961, under the leader-ship of then NCTA President W. R. Collins. Eleven dedicated members bought $100.00 worth of shares and became the Board of Directors applying for a state charter. P. U. Watson of Raleigh agreed to serve as Secretary-Treasurer and T. R. Jeffers of Gastonia was elected President of the Board.

The Credit Union is a savings and losn institution for the 12,200 members affiliated with the North Teachers Association. Since its organization it has loaned more than $9,500.00, in the 2 1-2 years, its assets have doubled each year to total assets of $8,300.00. It expects to pay 4 per cent dividend this year. Funds are loaned at 1-2 percent monthly with no summer payments.

Actual membership is 275 and growing steadily. Fred D. McNeil,

The annual shareholders meeting of the NCTA Credit Union will be

GALESBURG, Ill. - President | universities from throughout the James A. Boyer of St. Augustine's nation have been invited to participate in an orientation meeting in cational Management. The program Atlanta, Ga. on March 16th to in-will combine seminar and classroom instruction for two periods of one week each. A unique feature of the undertaking will be a consulation service to be provided individually for each college during the interval period between the formal training sessions. Seminar faculty members and consultants are outstanding college and univer-sity administrators from throughout the nation. Seminars will be held from June 8 to 12 and June 22 to 26 on the Knox College campus. In addition to D. Boyer, the Dean of the College and the Business Manager will attend one of the one-week semi-teachers of mathematics and science and carefully selected high school students are expected to paricipate in North Carolina College's Sixth Annual Mathematics and Science Day, rescheduled for Friday, April 10, instead of March 13 as announced originally.

Math-Science Day Is Reset

The theme of this year's observance is "Some Implications of Our Scientific Revolution."

Principal speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Paul M. Gross, nationally known professor of chemistry at Dulge University, Durham, N. C. Dr. C. E. Boulware, associate prolessor of mathematics at NCC, and chairman of the day's activities

In the years preceding the Amer sembly authorized a group of high-held 4:30 p.m., Friday, March 20, ways radiating from Cross Creek 1964, in the William Neal Reynolds (now Fayetteville) to the back country.

Welcome To Raleigh NCTA Should You Have Car

Trouble Call

Mechanics On Duty To Assist You!

Capital Wrecker Service

600 N. Person St.

TE 4-4361

Welcome North Carolina Teachers Association

Brogden Fruit & Produce

Serving The Area For 59 Years

MRS. ELIZABETH D. KOONTZ

Patronize Our Advertisers

Plans Discussed For New NCTA Headquarter's Bldg.

building go through it means that one of the landmarks of Hargett Street will come down. The building was built by the late C. E. Lightner, in the late twenties, and has served many purposes since its con-

The building was acquired by the 13,000-member organizatoin and has served its needs for a number of years. The Building Committee met in February and voted to submit the proposal to the Executive Meeting. The proposal called for the tearing down of the old building and replacing it with a modern three-story structure.

At the February meeting it was decided that the services of William E. Jenkins be acquired and that he be instructed to draw plans for the proposed building. Tentative plans call for a building that house adequate offices for an expanded staff, office for the president, adequate reception room with a telephone switchboard. There are also to be a Board Room, library and lounge that wirll have space for display. The building will have a kitchenette and versatile auditorium, along with adequate rest

Welcome To Raleigh NCTA

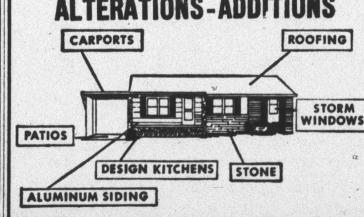

Make Our Store Your Shopping Headquarters

117 E. Martin St.

Raleigh, N. C.

TE 2-5926

Welcome To Raleigh NCTA

NO DOWN PAYMENT

6 MONTHS BEFORE FIRST PAYMENT UP TO 7 YEARS TO PAY

All Work Guaranteed

828-9109

IF NO ANSWER DIAL TE 3-0126 FREE ESTIMATES

Aluminum Siding & Remodeling Co. 12031/2 HILLSBORO ST.

ed with a minimum of difficulty. The proposed building will be financed by the members and is being proposed on a non-profit basis. The mtater of adequate parking space is being carefully considered by the Association. Even though the growth and development of the North Carolina Teachers Association has been due to the cooperation of all its members, the direction has been steered by the executive secretaris who hav served the organization.

The passing of the late Dr.
William L. Greene, whose name was synonymous with the body, caused many to fear for

North Carolina

Teachers College

Montgomery-Green

Company, Inc.

and

Stainless Steel

Fabricators, Inc.

Shop In Either

Of Our

Stores!

the future. There were others who felt that perhaps the au-thority should be vested in a commission. They decided on Dr. Charles A. Lyons, Jr., to shape the policy.

Welcome

tive secretary here. He soon exhibited the ability, tact and experience that it took to make the huge organization click. He has surrounded himself with an ade-quate staff and the work has mov-

Even though the job requires ex-tensive planning and direction, he found time to dig into the civic and political life of Raleigh and has made a considerable contribution to the life of the community.

When the remodeling of Raleigh's
Municipal Auditorium made it necessary that new quarters be found to hold the annual convention and it was thought that the meeting would have to be moved to another city, it was his ingenuity that led to the facilities of N. C. State Col-to the facilities of N. C. State College. It was his planning of the particulars that enabled the meeting to be held without a hitch, on this vast campus.

The matter of merging with the white teachers association has been going the rounds and Dr. Lyons has had to represent the Association in tryin gto bring about a satisfactory solution. He was quoted as being

Dr. Lyons left hi spost as dean of Elizabeth City Teachers College, and assumed his duties as execu-Motto As PR Guide

CHAPEL HILL — James S. Curicle, assistant treasurer for Carolina take a tip from the State Motto.

To Be Rather Than to Seem," in rie, assistant treasurer for Carolina Power & Light Company, told 300 North Carolina bankers Friday for progress, in a recent statement but made it plain that his organization had much to offer and he did not favor being swallowed up. He is reported as being favorable to negotiatoins that would save the identity of the NCTA.

At a recent meeting of the Building Committee he made the observation that the matter of integra tion had to be dealt with and that the NCTA should plan to meet the their public relations efforts. Banking institutions and public utilities as well should be concern-ed with projecting an image backed up by good service, he said, adding that the preservaion of the free enterprise system depends upon how well business performs and then informs the public.

DRIVE SAFELY!

Welcome To Raleigh NCTA

PROFESSIONAL LAUNDERING DRY CLEANING

Dixie Cleaners & Laundry

Look Sharp! And Really Feel Sharp! With Freshly Cleaned And Pressed Suit From Our Cleaners.

1 Hr. Cleaning 2 Hr. Shirt Service

DIXIE CLEANERS AND LAUNDRY

515 W Morgan St.

TE 3-4431

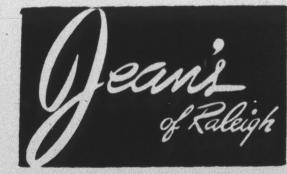

You Are Welcome TO

THE NEW SPRING FASHION APPROACH

Dresses, suits, coats, toppers, separates and accesories are all included in this collection of Fashions for Spring!

Downtown And Cameron Village