AFTER 27 YEARS — LINCOLN SCHOOL RE-ACCREDITED ROCKY MOUNT — After losing in 1937 accreditation which had lasted only two years, the local Abraham Lincoln Elementary School (oldest for colored people in city, since 1957) has again been recently granted full accreditation by the State Dept. of Education...

Reportedly the Old Lincoln lost accreditation after having it just two years due to inadequate classroom space, a condition which was never overcome (reason unannounced) until the 1963 examination by a State Accreditation Committee, the results of which has just been made public.

Two junior high schools—Parker, colored, and Edwards, white, remain to be accredited. Both are new schools about five years old. Alhio Lincoln was non-accredited for 27 years, Fields maintains that "It was state-approved, meaning it met the minimum requirements during the period."

INTER-RACIAL Easter services were observed here at the City Lakes with the Rev. J. H. Costen and G. W. Dudley participating with their white brethren. The Booker T. Washington High School choir furnished music under the direction of Mrs. A. W. Battle and Miss Brenda Byrd.

ROANOKE RAPIDS Hospital has reportedly "granted courtesy staff privileges" to Dr. Sailer J. Cochran, Jr., physician; and Clarence A. Shoffner, dentist, both of nearby Weldon. They will be permitted to send patients to hospital and visit and treat them there.

The hospital board of 14 members reportedly voted eight-to-four approval with two members absent. PRINCEVILLE, the all-colored town across the Tar River from Tarboro in Edgecombe County has just received word that the Army Corps of Engineers has approved a flood control project to save the annual floodings of the homes in the area along U. S. 64.

The project, under consideration several years, is estimated to cost some $436,000, but the funds are not to be immediately available to start work. Ray Mathewson is mayor of the town which has always had colored officers, including police.

A nine-member Negro Agricultural Extension Advisory Board was installed recently in Edgecombe County with the following members: Edward Taylor, W. M. Kingsbury, F. G. Battle, O. R. Stovall, G. W. Pulley, W. A. Jones, Stephen Bailey, Dunbar Hilliard and Benjamin McKinnon. Frank Wright is county extension agent.

MRS. BARNETTE NEW NCACT VICE-PRESKY PINETOPS — The local G. W. Carver High and Elementary School was originally honored during the recent annual convention of the North Carolina Teachers' Association when one of its faculty members was elected as vice president of the division of North Carolina Association of Classroom Teachers (NCACT). Samuel A. Gilliam is Carver principal.

Mrs. Juanita Felton Barnette, a native of Cordelle, Ga., and a resident of Rocky Mount since 1943, won the vice presidency over Miss Lucy D. Marsh, runner-up for the position. Mrs. Barnette is a graduate of Johnson C. Smith University, Charlotte, N. C., and has completed post graduate work at Columbia University, New York; and at Albright College, Reading, Pa., and has studied at East Carolina College, Greenville, N. C.

In addition to holding memberships in NCTA, NEA and AEA, Mrs. Barnette has served in various educational and religious capacities on local and national levels. An indefatigable worker in school, church and community, Mrs. Barnette is an elder in the Mt. Pisgah United Presbyterian Church, Rocky Mount, and retiring president of the Catawba Synodical (Woman's Association) of the Synod of Catawba embracing Tarheelia and South Virginia.

Mrs. Barnette has done both high school and elementary work during her score of years in Edgecombe County. Twelve of which have been at Carver where principal Gilliam is in high praise of her work. Gilliam said of Mrs. Barnette: "... during her 12 years at Carver she has given untiringly of her time and talent as she worked with the whole school program ... and has never asked anything in return." Gilliam added: "I can truly say Carver could never be the same without Mrs. Juanita Barnette."

HARRIS-HARRISON-DAUSUELS MEET Nine members of the united Harris-Harrison-Dausuels met for their second annual pre-Easter meeting on Maundy Thursday afternoon, where a joyous get-together was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Andrew (Bossis) J. Dausuel, 1803 Fifth St., N. W.

Motoring up from Rocky Mount were Mrs. S. M. Williams, Mrs. Baker and the J. B. Harrens with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph (Mary Harrison) Walker and Nathaniel Jones and Miss Cassie E. Harrison, all of whom enjoyed fellowship and lots of good eats. The Dausuels proved themselves admirable hosts extending a lavish welcome.

The group visited briefly with Mr. and Mrs. (Annie R. Harrison) Morton and sister Miss Bernice Harrison at 718 Quebec Place, N. W., Dec. 22. Present was Mrs. Elizabeth Haughton of Philadelphia, who was detained due to illness.

WARREN NCACT LEADER IN NASHVILLE SPEAKER Nashville — In a special effort program designed to enlighten and inspire the Nash County area to enroll in and work for civic progress through the NCACT, the local unit of the NCACT presented Ernest A. Turner, former chairman and president in Warren County NCACT unit, at the St. Stevens Baptist Church Sunday night.

Turner recounted the experiences of his former 65-member NCACT chapter which has grown to over 800 members since a program of action, including picketing, boycotting and demonstrations have been put on in a successful effort which gained several colored clerks and other concessions on the part of the white community after the sixty-five per cent Negro population began withholding their money from the controlling 35 per cent white ruling class who owns eighty per cent of the land.

Questioned by white leaders as to "Why the Negroes wanted so much," Turner said his reply was "... because we have so much of your blood in us, because you have mixed your blood with ours since slavery began as well as since it ended." Warren and Franklin counties have a high percentage of light-skinned Negroes.

Claude Lewis Dunston son of the Rev. E. A. Dunston, Baptist pastor and energetic NCACT leader of the Louisa area, accompanied Turner and made a brief address in the same vein as Turner. Both men urged Negroes to "improve our personal development and stick together as a solid group in joining the NCACT and registering and voting."

Turner said, "Now is the time for all Negroes—regardless of social or financial standing—to come up now and be counted for freedom!" Turner mentioned the supporters of segregation within our own race group, as he mentioned a school principal in his area, who he said had fired 237 teachers during his twenty years as head of the school. Turner said they have been taking with school officials and have registered their protests over such action.

Because of the lack of employment for those who graduate from the schools and colleges of the area, Warren County has lost 7,000 Negroes through migration in the past. Mr. Turner declared, "During the bottling period the NCACT used as its motto: 'Old Clothes and New Dignity' which drastically reduced the revenue going to the whites. He urged Negroes to 'Teach your dollars too have more sense—to stay in your pocket until you get what you want.'" John Harrison, David Harrison, Mrs. Rena Arren, Percy Gorham, J. B. Harren and McCoy Boddie appeared on the program.

REV. COSTEN FILES FOR COUNCIL The Rev. James H. Costen, 22-year-old minister, of Mt. Pisgah

CARVER'S COVER GIRL — Miss Bettie Jean Bynum, a senior, was chosen as "Cover Girl" for the Carver High School Annual. Miss Bynum was selected on the basis of having been selected as the best all-around girl in her class. Marvin Johnson shared the honor for the boys. This is the first year that Carver has published an annual, which is under the direction of Mrs. B. S. Tyson. Carver is located in Pinetops.

Two years in a row WINNER BY H. M. JOHNSON CLINTON — For the second year in a row Loun Earl Robinson a senior N.P.A. member at Clear Run High School, has won the Grand Champion Award for the Tri-County Quality Hog Show and Sale. His 194-pound Duroc was purchased by Frosty Morn for $1.05 per pound.

He also received ribbons, a handsome trophy and the loin of a meat type animal demonstrated at the Show and Sale. The tri-county area is made up of Sampson, Duplin and Pender Counties.

SHOWS PAINTINGS IN FAYETTEVILLE Juanita Brewington, 10th grade student at Pleasant Grove High School, was auditioned at the Fayetteville Senior High School on March 14. She presented an oil painting, a water color sketch of Christ and four landscape scenes done with oil on velvet.

Miss Brewington was commended for her choice of media and velvet. Five winners of this audition will attend the Governor's School for talented pupils at Winston-Salem this summer.

The principal of Pleasant Grove School is F. E. Wright. ELKS HOLD SPRING SOCIAL Clarence Carter Lodge No. 1140 and Mosette Temple No. 829 located in Clinton, on Friday night, March 27, held their annual Pre-Easter Spring Social at the Elks Home on Lisbon Street. It was largely attended and enjoyed by all. Music was furnished by the Delta Carter Band, manager, Mr. William Sprull, Jr.

On Easter Sunday, March 29, Clarence Carter Lodge and Mosette Temple celebrated their eighteenth and nineteenth anniversaries at the Clinton Chapel A.M.E. Zion Church with the Reverend C. Trecoast as guest speaker. Rev. K. P. Battle, past State Grand Exalted Ruler, also brought an inspiring message. Presiding were Mrs. Flora D. Grantham daughter ruler and Moses McRae, exalted ruler.

WINGS OVER JORDAN CHOIR TO CITY On April 14, the First Baptist Church will present the famous Wings Over Jordan Choir in the Butler Avenue School Auditorium. Tickets are now on sale by the members of the church.

ANDREWS CHAPEL H.D. MEETS 13 members were present at the March meeting of the Andrews Chapel H. D. Club held in the club house. Mrs. Ada Mills, Home Economics Agent, gave a demonstration on "Good Lighting in the Home." It was very enjoyable. Marie Caldwell, president, presided.

Each member remembered Mrs. Anna C. Faison's birthday with a gift. Hostesses were Mrs. Rena Sams and Mrs. Anna C. Faison. The members enjoyed chicken salad on lettuce, pound cake and punch.

PERSONALS Rev. and Mrs. Freddie Robinson were hosts to the Daughters of Zion Silver Luncheon on Easter Sunday at their home. Many persons were present.

Mr. Percy Lee Kirby of Newark, New Jersey spent Easter Sunday United Presbyterian Church since 1963. He had been one of the three candidates for one vacancy on the Second Ward of the Rocky Mount City Council, subject to the May 5th election which is requiring a new registration of all voters.

Despite an intensive effort on the part of the Rocky Mount Voters and Improvement League, the NAACP and other groups, to get all eligible Negroes registered, the progress has been slow; and the reflection of a current church fight is being felt in the apathy of many citizens. Costen was an unsuccessful candidate in 1962 for the same office.

NEWS AND VIEWS - BY J. B. HARREN

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS FACE LBJ CHALLENGE WASHINGTON, D. C.—When Jesus walked the earth trying to show sinful men "the Way of Eternal Life" He sometimes miraculously fed people when they were hungry; cured them of their ailments and restored life to the dead—finally saving a dying thief on the cross while He (Jesus) was himself dying for our sins.

During his earthy sojourn, Jesus Christ the Incarnate—when burdened with the troubles of the world and sinful men—would oftentimes go into a garden to pray while asking his disciples to keep watch for the enemy whom He knew sought his life. The disciples failed Jesus and went to sleep; and Peter did not have the faith to walk on the water to Christ. Jesus also went upon a mountain to pray apart from the crowd. There the Devil sought, unsuccessfully, to have Jesus succumb to the temptation of a thirst for wealth and political power, but the Master ordered Satan to "get behind Me."

Last week our President Lyndon B. Johnson tried something of a similar nature with 150 Southern Baptist ministers and leaders, as he entertained them at the White House here at the lower end of famed Pennsylvania Avenue facing the National Capitol where the Senate is haggling over the latest edition of a civil rights bill designed to give to Negroes and other minorities a bit more of responsible citizenship status.

Press reports said Mr. Johnson, after telling the clergymen several lively stories, walked them out amid the floral beauty of the Spring and began to try to impress upon them the need for their standing in the suffering and dying Nation and the Word the need to clean up this civil rights mess in our country and the world.

The next day headlines said "Baptists Divided On Appeal By LBJ" and hundreds of similar ones here with his mother, Mrs. Addie Kirby of Carter St.

Mrs. Rachel Ray returned to her home in Clinton after spending some time in New Jersey with her daughter, Mrs. Annie Lee Faison. Miss Patricia Herring and Mr. Wood of Washington, D. C. spent Easter here with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howard.

Mrs. Lee Powell and children of Washington, D. C. were the house guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vest Sampson.

IN HOSPITAL Mrs. Maggie Allison is a patient at Sampson Memorial. Mr. Harry Lee Herring, brother of Mrs. Hazel H. Howard is a patient at the Veterans Hospital in Fayetteville. We wish for both a speedy recovery.

Mr. James Escell, Jr. is a patient at Sampson Memorial Hospital where he underwent surgery. He is much improved at this time.

FORMER SAMPSON COUNTY MAN AND WIFE KILLED IN HEAD-ON CRASH Funeral services were held for Craven L. Goodman, Sr. and his wife, Maxine, of Camden, N. J., recently at the Kaighs Avenue Baptist Church, Camden, N. J.

The Rev. H. Hayes Watts delivered the eulogy invocation was given by the Rev. George Hairston, minister of the First Refuge Baptist Church, Camden.

Condolences and the obituary were presented by the Chapel Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Edgar Jackson.

Surviving are a son, Craven L. Goodman, Jr. and a daughter, Dawn, Wayne, Indiana; 2 sisters, Mrs. Anna Williams of Chicago, Illinois, and Mrs. Beverly Porter of Fort Wayne; Mr. Goodman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gabel McPhail of Clinton; two brothers, Walter Goodman of Boston, Mass., and Thomas McPhail, who is with the U. S. Air Force in Los Angeles, California, and his grandmother, Mrs. Sula Brewington of Clinton.

Interment was in Sunset Memorial Park, Pennsauken, N. J. BIRTHDAY PARTY The ninth grade of Pleasant Grove High School held its monthly birthday party last Friday in the school gymnasium. Students honored the party were: Hubert Draughton, Glenn Weeks, Larry Williams and Dorothy Oates. After singing "Happy Birthday," the class of 65 sat down to delicious cake and ice cream. The boys furnished the ice cream.

Maxine Butler, Diane Baggett, Thelma Suggs, Ernest McAllister, Clarence Williams, Grace Langston, Willie Ray, and Phyllis Peacock, furnished the cakes. The teacher, H. M. Johnson, doled out the ice cream, while Maxine Butler and others served the cake.

SPEND EASTER WITH RELATIVES Mr. and Mrs. Marion Butler motored to Washington, D. C., last Friday to spend Easter with relatives. They were accompanied by Mrs. Annie Tatum, Muriel and Deborah Tatum. They were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Lane.

VISITS MOTHER AND GRANDMOTHER Mrs. Godie Bratha and children of Durham spent Easter here with her mother, Mrs. Bettie Tatum.

denoting that those Baptist leaders of ten million Southern Baptists not unlike millions of others who call themselves "Christians"—like those who hailed Jesus one day on the way to Jerusalem and cried "Crucify Him, crucify Him!" another day—are not quite ready to fully renounce their sins of segregation and discrimination against their darker brothers and sisters, some of whom are closely related to them.

Back in Tarheelia we found that Baptist leaders were reported as being "generally reserved on what action—if any—to take" on President Johnson's request for pulpit appeals for civil rights legislation to impress the church generally for enactment.

And when the President told the Baptists: "The civil rights cause demands prophets in our time, men of compassion and truth, unafraid of the consequences of fulfilling their faith," he really laid down the challenge to Christian leadership among the colored as well as the white people.

NAACP VICTORY AND HISTORY Monday morning the U. S. Supreme Court threw out the contempt of court conviction from Alabama ("I) against a colored woman who refused to answer in court to her given name without a title as applied to white women in the same court. Whether many of us think so or not, this is another one in a long list of signal victories won for Negroes by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), which is composed of the most ambitious, far-sighted, courageous, religiously dedicated American Negroes and Whites in the USA! And we truly feel sorry for Negroes who haven't the guts to join so great an organization to help carry this fight for freedom on to its completion.

NAACP seeks to win our rights, principally, thru the courts after moral persuasion fails, rather than through overly drastic demonstration tactics, thus saving many thousands of dollars needlessly spent in other headline-gaining actions. Fifty-five years in the rights fight have demonstrated the NAACP plan to be the BEST in the long haul, although sometimes less glamorous. Many are now turning back to the NAACP methods to win.

A salute to two New Hampshire newspapers who, altho publishing paid advertising of anti-civil rights groups, have the revenue they spend in the NAACP. A hat-lo also goes to another New Hampshire daily, Lebanon Valley News, which has offered to carry an NAACP full-page ad FREE to answer the seggies. The Keene Evening Sentinel gave NAACP its $215.51 paid by Mississippi State-sponsored Coordinating Committee for Fundamental American Freedoms. The Claremont Eagle gave the $198 ad money, paid by the White Citizens Council.

After stating the Sentinel's view that the newspaper fully "supported" the civil rights bill and the whole movement for extending basic civil rights to American Negroes and other minorities," the Sentinel further editorialized that it believed "a newspaper has an obligation to publish advertisements on public issues, even if it disagrees vigorously with the views contained in the ads themselves."

(Regrettably, many southern newspapers do not have that broad view of free expression.) Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) revealed in the Senate March 17, that an investigation indicated that during the last six months of 1963 some $120,000 of the $31,201 contributions received by the Coordinating Committee sponsoring the nation-wide fight through advertising AGAINST the pending civil rights bill had come from the MSSC, an agency of the State of Mississippi, thus forcing colored as well as whites to pay through public taxes for the seggie ads. John C. Saterfield, sec'y of MSSC is paid $25,000 annually to direct and spread the hate propaganda ads which were vigorously denounced by Senators Thomas H. Kuchel, Jacob Javits, Kenneth Keating and Humphrey. WON'T YOU JOIN THE NAACP AND HELP!

BY MRS. LOUISE COLVIN APEX—Last Sunday, from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. was the beginning of worship at First Baptist. It was our annual Sunrise Service. The attendance was very good.

The supt., Mr. A. B. Horton, of the S u n d a y School was very proud of the attendance and the class reports. All of the officers of School were happy to have the Hester family of Morrisville visit our S u n d a y School.

MRS. COLVIN worship services at First Sunday morning at 11:00, our Baptist with three of our singing groups on duty. They were, the Male Chorus, Gospel Chorus and the Junior choirs combined. Rev. W. M. Phillips read the scripture, and the pastor, the Rev. W. T. Bigelow, brought to us our annual Easter message. His text was taken from the Book of I Corinthians, 15:55-58, context, Revelations, 1:18. His subject was, "Conquering the Unconquerable." It was an interesting message.

We were especially happy to have worshipping with us Mrs. Alma Latta and daughter, Matryre, and son, Mr. Herman Latta, Jr., and wife, all of Raleigh. The Lattas are former members of First Baptist. Other visitors were Miss Betty Hawkins and Miss Virginia White of New Hill, and many others from Mt. Zion Baptist and Hatcher Grove Baptists.

YOUTH FELLOWSHIP HOUR Attendance was good at the Youth Fellowship Hour and the youth enjoyed a film strip of "The Holy Land."

On Sunday at 8 p. m., the committee for the Easter program of which Mrs. Matice Marrow was chairman, along with the Sunday School teachers, presented a lovely program. The primaries, juniors, intermediate, senior classes and the adult ladies who made up the choir, all performed beautifully.

HATCHET GROVE CHURCH Friday night at 8 o'clock at Hatcher Grove Baptist Church, "The Seven Last Words" service was held. Rev. Moses Hardy is pastor. The Rev. James Stewart of Durham, presided. The first words: "Father Forgive them."

As readers in this vicinity know, the Rev. Lee Jones, and family live in Alaska (Anchorage). They called to let everyone know that they are fine, as you read or probably saw on TV they had a very hard earthquake there. Damage was done to the church he is pastoring, but the family is fine.

CP&L Pioneers To Meet Here April 9

Carolina Power & Light Company Pioneers, employees with 25 or more years of service, will hold their annual meeting in Raleigh on April 9.

About 325 Pioneer members, wives and husbands are expected to attend the meeting at the Sir Walter Hotel, according to E. M. Good, CP&L regional superintendent of lines and regional Pioneer chairman.

A highlight of the annual program is presentation of diamond membership pins to new Pioneers by Louis V. Sutton, chairman of CP&L's board of directors. CP&L President Shearon Harris and H. G. Isley, vice president in charge of sales, will be special guest.

Featured speaker will be the Rev. Thomas Haggl of High Point, noted lecturer and radio personality described as the "businessman's preacher" and namesake of a foundation dedicated to promoting patriotism through religion.

CP&L's Pioneer Club has membership of 45 employees. Of that number, 194 are members in the region covered by the Raleigh meeting.

New members to be inducted are Miss Josephine Colie, secretary at Raleigh; Harry L. Craig, sub-foreman at Raleigh; Julius M. Johnson, lineman at Mount Olive; Reagan H. Fox, Jr., senior meterman at Raleigh; Ivan L. Holleman, engineer at Raleigh; Herman R. Perry, local manager at Bonnie Doonee; and Howell R. Rickman, buyer at Raleigh.

TOLEDO, Ohio (ANP)—Mrs. Helen Anderson, 32, was found dead of a gunshot wound in her apartment last week, and a white friend was arrested in connection with the slaying.

Alvydus K. Dragunalis, 29, first arrested as a material witness, was later bound over for grand jury action on the charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

He admitted, police said, that he visited Mrs. Anderson in her apartment and that she was shot in the stomach accidentally while he was showing her a revolver that he was carrying.

He said he fled the apartment in panic and threw the revolver away. It was recovered two blocks from the apartment.

Mrs. Anderson's body was found by another friend, Stephen Foster, who visited the apartment eight hours after shooting.

Washington, D. C. visited Mrs. Nancy Howell and family Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Everette and family of Princeton, accompanied by Miss Hardie Everette of New York, visited Mrs. Howell and family Sunday evening.

Miss Christine Howell, Mrs. Goldie Hardy, Alvin Eddie, John and Kevin, accompanied Mrs. Nancy Howell to their Union at Little Nahunta, Primitive Baptist Church in Fremont, Nev. Curly Sands is the pastor. There were many persons who took part in these services. Every message that the Lord blessed each one to deliver was enjoyed by all present.

SOME PEOPLE JUST DON'T LIKE WATER CHICAGO—(ANP)—Isham Jones, 21, is evidently allergic to water, whether it is inside or outside of him. He and a friend, Livestor Diggins, 35, were having a beer party in Jones' apartment. After consuming his load, Jones fell asleep. Diggins in trying to awaken him, poured some beer on his crotch, but nothing happened. Running out of beer, he began using water. Jones, rudely wrenched back from his alcoholic slumber, whipped out a pistol and began shooting. Of course, Diggins bailed out and went home. However, enroute he collapsed and died.
