JACK FAISON, BEN CREECY ENTER POLITICS

RICH SQUARE—While several thousand whites were gathered across the Roanoke River in Halifax County celebrating the writing of the famed Halifax Resolves Sunday afternoon, a group of 800 of Northampton County's staunchest ("Colored") supporters of freedom, education and representative government were meeting at the Branch's Chapel Baptist Church on the north side of the river, near here engaged in a county-wide drive to "save Shaw University" from closing, and to kick off the campaign of John W. (Jack) Faison of Seaboard, for its office of a County Commissioner; and the Rev. Ben Franklin Creecy of Rich Square for a member of the Board of Education, subject to the vote of the people on May 30.

If the manner in which 18 of the 26 churches in the (Northampton) Buellah Missionary Baptist Association responded to the Shaw University financial appeal—turned in $2100 cash—is indicative of the mood of the citizenry politically, then Faison and Creecy are almost certain shoo-ins for public office to represent the 70 per cent Negro population of Northampton County.

Foremost among the leaders of the Shaw Day Drive were the Creecy brothers—Rev. Ben F. Hollis and W. S. Creecy, Jr., the latter two teachers; along with John Forrest, secretary, Buellah Baptist Association; the Rev. R. E. L. Brown, Jack W. Faison and wife, James C. Boone, Rich Square; Cleveland Ambrose, Branch Chapel organizer, where the Rev. George (Long) Brown of Williamston is pastor. John Eley, Zoar Baptist Church organist assisted with the choir which sang for the special occasion of raising Shaw money and launching the campaign for Faison and Creecy.

Rev. Creecy spoke to the congregation about "good management" being essential to orderly flowing of our individual and collective lives, and advised against "...worrying the Lord for things He has already given us strength and wisdom to do for ourselves." Creecy added: "We can pray too much and not work enough; look at David as he battled the giant Goliath."

Creecy reminded, "he had a prayer on his lips, but he had a stone in his trusty sling-shot to win the victory." Thusly, Creecy encouraged that Northampton Negroes elect two members of their race to office if only they would unite and work; and at the same time help save Shaw by raising more money before the May 3 reporting date.

Faison has led an active religious, fraternal and civic life in his native Seaboard, N. C., community where he advanced from organizer and president of the local IBOEW (Elks) lodge to state vice-president; and now, Grand Auditor of the 450,000-member fraternal body.

Rev. Creecy's father, the late W. S. Creecy, Sr., was founder of Creecy High School, and a pioneer in helping advance the cause of Negroes in this area. Young Creecy has taught school before turning to the ministry.

ROCKY MOUNT-WILSON PYTHIANS MEET

ROCKY MOUNT—The Rocky Mount Livingstone Lodge Knights of Pythians and the True Vine Court of Calanthens observed memorial services recently at St. Mark's AME Church with the Rev. B. F. Humphrey delivering the sermon. Frank Cobb, vice chancellor commander was in charge of the lodge. Mrs. Maggie Chase and Mrs. Goldie Lewis were leaders of the Calanthens who served a bountiful dinner after the services. Joining with the local Pythians were members of the Wilson Pythians and Calanthens who also enjoyed the fellowship. The Rocky Mount K. of P. will go to Wilson April 19 to return the courtesy.

Westry Horns, local native, who works in a supervisory capacity in the public school system of Plainfield, N. J., was a recent visit to relatives and friends here. Also, John Perry of Woodbury, N. J., Walter Dudley, age 75, is a veteran of World War One, who spent a year in France. He is a native of New Bern, but is caretaker for a wealthy gun club group near Woodville and Elizabeth City. Mr. Dudley shed no tears over the death of Gen. MacArthur because he felt President Harry Truman was right when he called MacArthur in from Japan.

Third and Fourth Grade News
CARY—The third and fourth grade combination class, under the supervision of Mrs. E. A. Williams, is working like the "buzzing bees" of spring. The third grade is completing their unit on "Communication now and long ago." The unit has been of great inspiration as well as a challenge to all the pupils. We have followed the development and progress of communication from the cave men to modern times. The question still remains, "What will communication be like 25 to 50 years from now?" Who knows, one of us may be an inventor of a new communication system.

The fourth grade is now visiting the continent of South America. We are "At Home on a Ranch" in Argentina. We are learning about the many costumes of the people of Argentina, their methods of making a living, their schools and holidays. Also we are increasing our geographical vocabulary as well as our vocabulary of foreign languages.

Both classes are working together on science projects. Our projects are "Plants," "Sound," "Airplanes" and "Animals of Long Ago." After studying various units in science, we became very curious as to the what's, how's and why's. We decided that we wanted to do more research on topics mentioned above. Ralph Burwell is the chairman of the committee working on "Animals of Long Ago." Ruby Matthews is the chairman of the committee working on "Sound." Brenna Mayo is the chairman of the committee working on "Plants." Wilfred Joyner is the chairman of the committee working on "Airplanes." We also salute the pupils who made the honor roll in our classroom for the last six weeks: Rita Mayo, Susan Davis, Deborah Farrar, Robert Harris, Cheryl Battle, Michael Walden and Stephen Henderson.

Ligon To Conduct A Science Fair

The J. W. Ligon Jr.-Sr. High School will hold its annual Science Fair on Monday, April 20, in the school gymnasium. Entries will consist of projects in the area of science and mathematics done by students on the junior high and high school level.

Medal for first, second and third prizes will be awarded in the areas of physical and biological science. These medals are furnished through the courtesy of the Raleigh Engineers Club.

Immediately following the judging of the projects which begins at 3:30 p.m., the public is cordially invited to view the displays. D. R. Ingram, chairman of the science department stated that, "We hope our parents and friends will avail themselves of the opportunity to see some of the work done by the students academically."

The Science Fair will be held open until 9:30 Monday night to give the PTA members a chance to see the exhibits after their regular meeting.

The pre-school clinic was held on Thursday, April 2 at 9:00 at the Cary Elementary School gym. About twenty children attended the clinic. Those parents who did not bring their children to the pre-school clinic are asked to have all the necessary inoculations and immunization records before the 1964-65 school year.

188 Pack Meeting
The 188 Pack gave a dinner-Prud Club evening in the school cafeteria, April 10th the program, the "History of the Scouting," by Edward Ferrell, "Salute to the Flag," Jacky Farrar, "Resume on the trip to Goldsboro, Richard Barnett, others appearing, Regie Bywater, Bryant Burt, Stanley and Ray Reaves. The principal, Mr. E. F. Rayford, presented the guest, Mr. P. A. Williams of Durham, former principal of Apex Consolidated School and Rev. D. N. Howard, Scout Master of Raleigh. These gentlemen gave inspiring and timely remarks. Cub song to the mothers. This was a gala affair for the club. Mrs. Viola Barnett is Den Mother. There are twelve in number. Everyone enjoyed the dinner.

CLINTON NEWS

BY R. H. JOHNSON
CLINTON—On last Wednesday night, April 8, the County-Wide Father-Son Banquet was given by Deacon John D. Summerville, Scripps. The program consisted of Scout contests in first aid, (arm sling, ankle band and respiration). A musical rendition by a Scout troop, also a fun skit. The Scout Troop from Garland won a tent, while James Ghant, a member of Post No. 177 Pleasant Grove High School, won the mental contest and received a lovely Scout canteen. Boy Scouts participated from Bland School, Clinton School, Clear Run, Hargrove and Garland Schools and other units throughout the county.

Barbecued chicken, candied yams, slaw, hot rolls and punch were served.

MEN'S DAY AT FIRST BAPTIST
On last Sunday, April 12, Men's Day was observed at First Baptist Church. The male chorus was in charge of the music, under the direction of Rev. J. L. White. The cantata worship was given by Deacon John D. Summerville. Scripture was read by Mr. Willie Armstrong and Deacon Frank Faison followed with the morning prayer. Rev. J. L. White, pastor, also brought the morning message, using as a subject "God's View and Certain Politian's Views of Man."

On Sunday night the Male Chorus gave a musical program. $567.16 was raised during the day.

NFA PROGRAM AT P. G. HIGH
The N. F. A. boys at Pleasant Grove High School presented a program last Friday. Prayer was offered by Roy Lee. The opening ceremony was given by the N. F. A. A speaking contest was held. Sherman West was the winner.

The fifth grade of the Pleasant Grove High School motored to Durham, N. C. last Friday to tour the Liggett Meyers Tobacco factory and the Health Fair at the gymnasium at Duke University.

After the group was served cold drinks, they went upstairs where they observed cigarettes being made. The students were shown how some of the electronics devices work.

At the University, many excellent exhibits on all phases of health were on display. The students were accompanied by the mathematics teacher, H. M. Johnson.

Mr. Johnny Faison of New York spent last Sunday here visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. Gladys McDougal and daughter returned to her home in Winston-Salem after spending a week here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellie Faison motored to Salisbury, N. C. last Saturday to see Mrs. Faison's brother who is a patient at the Veterans Hospital. Mrs. Hattie Matthews accompanied them on the trip.

PLEASANT GROVE UNION NEWS
BY IDA F. ENOCH AND JOHN W. GRAVES
BURLINGTON—Mrs. M. H. Morgan's second grade, section B, presented its annual chapel program April 9 in the school auditorium.

The program was an outgrowth of a unit of work in social studies entitled, "Our State of North Carolina." The unit employed planning and carrying out the unit of work.

The narrator for the program was Sharon Rone. Pupils who had speaking parts were: Annette Heath—North Carolina; Vivian Rone—Oldest Town; Betty Currie—State Flower; Kumber—State Bird; Billie Parker—Climate and Rainfall; R. C. Bradsher—Natural Resources; Merline Currie—Game; Bobby McCullum—Chief Products; Roy Dewey—Fishery; Phyllis Leath—Manufacturing; Jacquelin Bradsher—The People; Thomas Jones—Transportation; Archie Graves—Press; Mary Daye—Radio and Television; and Vivian Rone—Education.

Mrs. R. F. Wade's fifth grade contributed some of the posters and prizes for the program.

The members of the Special Education Class and their invited guests, Section B of the fifth grade, enjoyed an interesting and informative tour of major public facilities in Burlington, Thursday, April 9.

Among the facilities visited were the city water plant, the central fire station, the daily which serves their school, and a very recently opened modern bakery. Demonstrations and lectures of the work carried on in each place provided worthwhile first hand experiences. One of the most interesting of these was given by Marvin Kimbrell, a graduate of Pleasant Grove Union School, who is head chef at the new bakery. Following the tour, the group had lunch at a local drive-in restaurant, and returned via Central High School where they were shown some of
