"LET FELDER GO," JUDGE TELLS JURIST (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) Laughlin that he had remained in court after ordered by Judge Hill to leave because Attorney William Pearson of Durham had requested him to be a witness in two cases.

The Dunn judge had ordered everyone to leave except defendants and witnesses. "I was placed in the city jail and later taken to the county jail," Felder told Judge McLaughlin.

Rev. Felder was ordered jailed twice Thursday by Judge Hill, who later threw out the first contempt charge against him and instituted another, giving the cleric a 15-day stay in jail.

Judge McLaughlin ruled that the minister "was not in will disobedience of the lawful orders of the lower court."

Attorney Pearson told Judge McLaughlin of the two cases in which he had asked Rev. Felder to appear as a witness. One of the cases involved Rev. Felder's son.

DRAGON OF KLAN TALKS TO WRITER (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) property. They had placed a paid ad in the local newspaper for two or more days, thus well publicizing the meeting. It is reported that no advanced newspaper publicity was given the meeting on the local level.

The ad read: "United Knights of the KU KLUX KLAN will hold a RALLY Sat. night April 18th, 8:00 P.M. at intersection of 301 and 301A South of Little Mexico." Ad continued: "Come Hear The Truth. Press Radio and TV Welcome. Imperial Wizard and The Grand Dragon of North Carolina and Other States. The White Public Is Invited."

The ad adds that it is "Authorized by the Board of Directors of the United Klans of America, Inc. National Office: Suite 402 Alston Building, Tuscaloosa, Alabama. North Carolina Office: Box 321, Granite Quarry, N. C." The four by five inches ad says the rally was "Sponsored by Unit No. 24, Walter E. Wells, President, 1149 Cambridge Dr."

Local colored citizens were at a loss to account for the rally having been staged here. Some feel it is due to a quiet step forward in school integration. "I colored children attended three integrated schools," an attempt by second ward Negroes to elect the Rev. James H. Costen (in a second attempt) to the City Council; and some limited motel and job integration with promise of more. Reportedly a conservative bloc of candidates are running against incumbent Mayor Wm. Harrison and the present council, charging them with being too sympathetic with the demands of local Negroes.

KKK DRAGON TALKS Sunday morning the writer attempted an interview with local Ku Klux Klan president, Walter E. Wells, who said he was unable or not at liberty to supply all the answers to our questions. He conceded that our estimate of around two hundred hooded Klansmen at the rally was about correct, but that he had no estimate of the attending audience, referring us to the Grand Dragon of North Carolina for other information.

Wells identified himself as a young building contractor and native of Edgecombe County and Rocky Mount, and suggested that he would probably be replaced as local prexy when his term expires a few months hence.

Wells named the North Carolina KKK executive head as being Grand Dragon James R. Jones (whom Wells called "Mr. Bod Jones") of Granite Quarry, N. C. near Salisbury. He said the Imperial Wizard is Robert Shelton (address not given).

Contacted Sunday at a motel-restaurant near the scene of the Saturday night rally, a man answering the name of "James R. Jones, Grand Dragon of North Carolina United Knights of the Ku Klux Klan," stated his willingness to be interviewed for publication when this reporter identified himself. He agreed to see no mention of the rally in the Sunday morning local daily although he said there were upwards of seven thousand public attendees and three hundred-fifty (350) Klansmen present during the ceremonies which included a cross-burning.

Grand Dragon Jones said he is a family man age 35, churchman and operator of a home-improvement business with five employees, including his partner and "two Negroes." He has been connected with the KKK ten or more years; and is a member of the Lutheran Church, and believes strongly about segregation of the races, although he says there are "Colored people and there are Negroes."

Questioned about his personal feelings towards Negroes' rights, Jones went off on a discourse of the alleged inferiority of "the Negroes," and how that they were better off during slavery than since. When we reminded that Whites were once slaves themselves, Mr. Jones appeared to lose patience and reminded that there had been no more demonstrations in Salisbury after the community—where Livingstone College is located—realized how adversely it could affect educational opportunities now available. Up to this point, nothing had been said about demonstrations, although Jones had mentioned contacts with Negro mortician Kelsey, whom he otherwise did not identify. He mentioned NAACP only once.

Previously, Mr. Jones had said the objective of the KKK was "to fight Communism" and his answer to the query as to "Why the rally was called in the Roco Mount area when racial peace exists was "because the members wanted it here."

AME ZION CONFERENCE IS PLANNED (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) Registration of delegates will begin May 5 at the Jones Tabernacle Church. Late registrars will be able to register in the foyer of the Farmers Building.

The offices of R. W. Sherrill, financial secretary, will be located in the building. A press room has been arranged for the convenience of newsmen and photographers. Delegates will be able to get their meals in the cafeteria, adjacent to the auditorium.

DROP-OUT HAS RECORD AS YOUNG 'CROOK' (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) other items, presumably stolen. He also admitted several other burglaries.

Relating the crime, the youth told police how he tried to rape the woman as she lay bleeding and dying from a stab wound in the chest. He said, however, that he did not intend to kill Mrs. Jackson.

He said he had invaded the house by cutting a screen and opening the latch to a back door. He thought no one was at home, he said, because he had been "casing" the house and believed he saw two women leave with a male companion.

When he entered, however, he said Mrs. Jackson surprised him and jumped him from behind. They wrestled while he still held the knife with which he had cut the screen. In the scuffle, he said he must have plunged the knife into her stomach, for she suddenly groaned and laid limp to the floor.

He said that he then tried to rape her, as she lay helpless gasping for breath. He tore off a pair of shorts she was wearing and was about to molest her, when he heard a noise and fled. The other woman, Mrs. Boyd, had returned from a visit with her mother.

Mrs. Boyd immediately reported the murder, after finding Mrs. Jackson lying in a pool of blood on the kitchen floor. Police then started the search which led to the youth's arrest.

DUKE PROF SENTENCED TO 90 DAYS (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) is a serious problem when the leaders of a community tell the people of the community that laws do not have to be obeyed.

Mallard continued, "This defendant, both precept and example, told the people that the trespass laws didn't have to be obeyed."

After the Rev. Mr. Smith gave notice of appeal to the State Supreme Court, his bond was set at $500.

Six persons pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to charges of blocking a highway and resisting arrest in connection with a new civil rights protest at Chapel Hill, received suspended sentences.

The jurist sentenced this group to 60 days, suspended on condition that they not take part in any demonstrations for four years.

monstrations for from three to five years.

ROSS BARNETT WILL SPEAK IN HARLEM SOON (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) Barnett was invited to speak in all-Negro Harlem on May 21.

Even those who invited Barnett, who is currently under federal indictment for contempt for trying to bar the enrollment of Negro Air Force Veteran James H. Meredith from the University of Mississippi in 1961, last week began fearing for the governor's safety.

Both the student government and the college's administration, which invited Barnett, have expressed concern and extra security precautions are being planned.

The potential danger looms even larger when it is noted that Barnett, who was successful as governor of Mississippi by his former Lt. governor, Paul Johnson, will speak against the civil rights bill now being hamstrung in Congress by a Dixie filibuster.

In other words, Barnett not only has the nerve to agree to speak in the virtually all-Negro district of Harlem, where he is persona non grata, but he is changing trouble by planning to speak against the civil rights bill.

Meanwhile, some observers are asking why CCNY is going out of its way and courting trouble by asking a man who is a symbol of racism and an advocate of segregation to speak on its dangerously located campus. Even with all the police protection in the world, it was pointed out, Negroes could swarm the campus and overwhelm the guards.

ADMINISTRATION, STUDENTS DIFFER AT ST. AUG. (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) He said some students owe the college money that should have been paid long ago. It costs a student at St. Augustine's $8 cents a day for lodging and $1 per day for three meals in the cafeteria, the president said.

Dr. Boyer stated the per capita cost per student was roughly $1300, however only about 60 or 70 per cent of the cost is borne by the students, the rest being supplied by other means. This was indicated as the reason for the tuition rise in the next school year by $50 per semester.

The female students are allowed out later on weekends than during the week. They may go, with permission of their parents, to the homes of other persons, as was indicated during the recent Easter holiday "break," Dr. Boyer stated.

At the meeting in Emory Health Fine Arts Center last Thursday afternoon, newsmen were barred from attendance.

Four men with Ph.D. degrees are definitely going elsewhere next year. One, Dr. George D. King, has accepted position with a missile project. Dr. Prodyot D. Dud's visa from India could not be renewed and he must return home. The other two are believed to have accepted better paying jobs.

Two other faculty members, whose names were not disclosed, will definitely not be at the college for the opening of 1964-65 school year in September.

Further meeting between faculty and student body leaders are planned.

A meeting was held Tuesday evening, which lasted three hours, between students and the administration.

or trying to enjoy a duly-elected pastor from doing a good job of leading. Paul, Prince of ecclesiastical and doctrinal teachers and writers, admonished brothers against taking each other to law.

How can a civil judge, believer or unbeliever, adjust successfully a quarrel in the body of Christ, unless one of its members has broken a civil law? Which is not the case in any of them coming to my attention.

Ligon Students Elect Girl As Council Prexy

Miss Carol Adams made her acceptance speech last week after being elected president of the Student Council at the J. W. Ligon Jr. - Sr. High School for the year 1964-65 during the school's re-election campaign.

Miss Adams, an honor student, received the majority of votes over George Holloway and Lawrence Wilson after a week of campaigning which included speeches, singing, and a mock convention rally.

The purpose of the convention is to really give the students an opportunity to go through the process of registering and voting thereby forming a habit that is so important to the American way of life.

BENSON-FOUR OAKS NEWS BY MRS. FLORENCE J. WYNN HILLSIDE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

BENSON—Hillside is very busy making plans for its Spring Festival.

A successful talent show was held Friday night, followed by a fish fry and sock hop on Saturday night.

Parents, teachers, and pupils are very busy selling tickets, cakes, and pies, to select a queen for the grand affair.

PTA meeting was held last Monday night with Mrs. Nadine Jackson presiding. A very interesting and successful business meeting was held. The main topic and discussion was getting everyone to register and vote.

Mrs. McCrea's class presented the program. At the grand affair held at Smithfield Saturday night, Miss Rebecca Alford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Alford, was awarded second prize.

After Supper Sale Here Thurs.

Capital Furniture and Appliance Co., 135 E. Martin Street, will begin an after supper furniture sale Thursday night at 7:00 p. m. Mr. Roy Thornton, Jr. and Mr. Pete Gullie co-owners of this business had to rent the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium for ten days to put on this furniture sale, since their present location did not have adequate space to put on such a large sale.

This is believed to be one of Raleigh's largest furniture sales held for 10 days.

This sale will start at 7:00 p. m. after supper. The idea of an "after supper sale" is the original idea of Col. M. C. Maxwell a native of North Carolina and whose headquarters now is in Daytona Beach, Florida.

Colonel Maxwell's explanation for the simple "after supper" sale is this: "It's the woman who has the desire to buy, but it's the husband who has the authority to say, 'okay, we'll take it.' Since the husband is working during the day, after supper is the best time 'husband and wife' can visit the store together.

"Come down Thursday night and see for yourself," says the Colonel, as he is known to his associates and friends.

Associated with Colonel Maxwell is Mrs. Anne Smith, a native Tar Heel. She prepares the advertising layout for Capital Furniture and Appliance for this furniture sale. She also handles radio copy, and hundreds of other details connected with merchandising.

Again we must say that Capital Furniture Appliance was very fortunate in securing "big truck loads" of furniture and appliance and being able to get the beautiful Raleigh Memorial Auditorium to put on this "Gigantic Sale."

This is Colonel Maxwell's 81st Furniture Sale. He will be 61 years old in June.
