Ligon Students Get Top Rating At Band, Ork. Meet

Miss Faye Yvonne Eaton and Earl Waters received top awards at the North Carolina Band Orchestra Directors Association of North Carolina Music Teachers Association Convention held in Winston-Salem recently.

Miss Eaton, a senior at the J. W. Ligon Jr.-Sr. High School, was cited for her performance on the violin. She played the Minuet by Bach. The talented violinist has been studying the instrument for nine years in the Public School System. She won second place in the 1964 Jabberwock and Omega Talent Hunt.

Miss M. L. Smith, string specialist at Ligon for the past four years has been her director.

Waters is a sophomore at Ligon, under the direction of J. L. Edwards. He received recognition because of his rendition of Rhapsodie Brillante by Arban, on the trumpet.

He has a chance to also compete in the Omega Talent Hunt in Greenville, S. C. by having won the North Carolina Eastern District contest held recently in Raleigh.

This was the first time competing in the State Band and Orchestra Association event for both participants.

Underneath, someone had slyly pencilled: "Have you anything left?" Catholic Digest—May.

$7 Million Fortune Of Comic Gone

CHICAGO (ANP)—Aging comic Stephen Fetchit, who made a fortune in Hollywood while playing roles referred to as "Uncle Tom-ish" and stereotyped, was hospitalized here last week.

He was seriously ill in Cook County Hospital, suffering from a prostate gland disorder, which doctors said might necessitate abdominal surgery.

Despite a $7 million fortune he reportedly made in Hollywood, Fetchit was said to be near broke when he entered the hospital here. So short was he on funds, that one Chicago columnist—Herb Lyons—sent out what amounted to a financial SOS for him. Said Lyons:

"... Fetchit, the aging famed screen comic, is seriously ill and running out in funds in Ward 43 at County Hospital. He's a heckuva sweet guy, still has his keen sense of humor, and could use cheer—and help..."

Fetchit gave his age at 72 when he entered the hospital. However, Dr. George Blaha, medical director of the hospital, said he looked so young, he seemed nearer to 62.

Fetchit, whose slow-moving, lazy, scary roles drew strong protests from the NAACP and other civil rights groups, stated in one of his recent night club acts that he made close to $7 million from his movie roles.

He did not explain what happened to the fortune, except to say that he lived high. He said he wore $100 suits and lived in a mansion with servants.

Recently, Fetchit switched his nightclub roles to singing, dancing and humor. But the films in which he typified the grooving type Negro, always subservient to whites, remained to haunt him.

The NAACP recently protested their showing on television because of their bad racial undertones.
