

'High Noon' Arrives For Rights Bill

Many Raleighites Say "Yes:"

CAN HERB 'DOCTOR' CURE LEUKEMIA?

Willie John Hailed By Many As 'The Best'

BY CHARLES R. JONES
Does Willie John really have a cure for leukemia, a dread disease of the blood and blood-making organs of the body, which often proves fatal?

Many of the scores of Raleigh people treated by this man declare he has cured them of the disease and say they have been able to resume their jobs.

Mr. John, who lives with his wife, at 523 E. Martin St., near The CAROLINIAN offices, came to Raleigh in 1958 from Charlotte, where he was engaged in the grocery business.

His calling card advertises him as an "Ethiopian herb doctor. Can cure diseases of leukemia, ulcerated stomach, diabetes and female trouble. All herbs are guaranteed. You can see me after 5:00 p.m." John estimates he has treated between 60 and 70 persons in three states, New York, North Carolina and Ohio.

Born in Gary, Indiana on March 15, 1926, John grew up in Cleveland, Ohio, and says he is a graduate of that city's Central High School.

Mr. John says his father and mother are natives of Ethiopia. His mother, Mrs. Wiebeler John, died in 1948. His father, the Rev. Henrietta John, was nearly pastored a church in Brooklyn, N. Y., now lives with James Adair, John's sister, Mrs. Hattie Brown, Baltimore, Md.

Several of this city's residents, who have been treated by Mr. John, gave testimonial statements to his healing ability.

Among them were Mrs. Minnie Williams, 228 S. Bloodworth Street, who stated she was treated by John for leukemia, started to take his medicine in July of 1962, and now works five days per week. Mrs. Williams stated she was unable to work before that time. Mrs. Fannie Lee Taylor, 550 1-2 E. Martin Street, declared: "I had a cancer on my leg for four years. I went to Dr. Martin for it, but he did not do me any good. Then I started taking Mr. John's medicine and my leg is well now. I am working every day. Mr. John's medicine has really helped me. I am glad I met him in time."

Political Scene Of NC Studied

There can be many strange things in politics and there are many strange things happening. The aftermath of the first Democratic Primary brings many skeletons out of the closet. The Moore faction is saying that the Prager faction is pulling all the tricks, while the Prager faction is saying that the Moore faction is pulling all of the tricks.

Irregularities are popping up here and there. Negro voters have a distinct interest in one in Charlotte and one in Chatham County. The Charlotte situation could get rather tough. It seems to have more meaning than that which meets the eye. Dr. E. A. Hawkins, militant civil rights leader and politician of no mean ability, is being threatened with a grand jury hearing for having taken over as a precinct registrar and to have registered persons who could not read and write. It appears that the matter began about the 28th of April when Dr. Hawkins is alleged to have taken over the precinct from Mrs. A. M. Houston, duly appointed registrar of No. 2 Precinct, and to have read the constitution and those desiring to register and proceeded to register them.

Mrs. Houston is alleged to have told the Board of Elections that this went on and that she was not guilty of doing anything irregular. There is another thinking on the matter

Editor's Note: The Rev. John W. Fleming, president of the Raleigh Citizens Association, who was involved in a fist fight with Ralph Campbell, local NAACP head, on Wednesday, May 27, at the Bloodworth Street YMCA, issued the following statement this week:

"Man is a fallible creature. At times that fallibility will show in one way or another. Man will err and fall short of the glory. Being a child of nature, as well as a child of God, the nature in him sometimes overpowers the Godly in him. In spite of himself, on occasions, man the glorious becomes

Statement Issued By Mortician

Clarence E. (Baby) Lightner stated this week that he will not be a candidate for a June 27 runoff for Wake County Board of Commissioners. His full statement follows:

"After carefully evaluating statistical data and other pertinent information which would enable me to arrive at a conclusion as to the advantages and disadvantages of participating in the second Democratic Primary of June 27th, I have decided not to offer my candidacy for a seat on the Wake County Board of Commissioners.

"It is evident from contacts I have made that my chances of securing the support and vote of enough fair-minded citizens of Wake County to be elected are very remote. Consequently, I feel that it would be unfair for me to ask the thousands of fine citizens who supported me in the first primary to tax themselves again physically and financially in a runoff without a reasonable hope for success.

"I would like to express my profound appreciation for the support of the eight thousand six hundred and sixty-seven democrats who thought enough of my candidacy and the possibility of

Cloture Approved By A Vote Of 71 To 26

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the week of cloture on the civil rights bill. This is the week that the Senate decided to take a vote on whether or not current unlimited debate (filibuster) on the bill should continue or be cut off.

On Tuesday of this week, the Senate adopted a July trial amendment, but rejected efforts to water-down or kill job-rights and integration sections.

BULLETIN! The Senate voted early Wednesday morning to stop debate, making cloture a reality long awaited by the nation's citizens and others who have fought for civil rights passage. The vote was 71 for and 26 against the measure.

If the vote is taken—as planned—and passed, it will not mean that the civil rights bill has finally passed the Senate and is the law of the land. But it will mean that from that moment on, each Senator will be allowed—if he wishes—only one hour more of debate, filibuster or what-have-you—on the bill and any amendments, and that after that, the Senate must vote whether to accept the civil rights bill or reject it.

More Trouble Brews For NCC's S. P. Massie

DURHAM—The general alumni association of North Carolina College is said to have made a master stroke when it refused to make a statement pertaining to the affair of the college until the trustee board met and ruled on the two controversial issues that have kept the conditions muddled at the school for some time.

The board met Thursday and voted to sustain the president in his move to oust Deans William Brown and George Kyle. The board also backed the sentence imposed upon Floyd Michael Pearson for alleged infraction of the rules of the college.

The meeting was not one that could be in any way called peaceful, according to information received from a reliable source. The fact that Dr. A. S. Elder, president-emeritus was on hand as was Mrs. Frances Eaggleson, to speak in the interest of the two deposed deans, is said to not have been any credit to the storm-ridden prexy.

A report from the meeting revealed that the trustees were mindful of the fact that President Samuel P. Massie did not handle the Pearson matter with as much discretion as could have been used. This alleged bungling is believed to have paved the way for more suits from students who have been suspended from school.

The fact that both Brown and Kyle had lawyers in attendance gave credence to the rumour that they might seek further vindication from what they term a "slur" on their ability and their devotion to their work, according to some observers. They were said to have been represented by Attorneys W. G. Pearson, II and Major High.

There are those who say that the long, drawn out hearing, by the trustees, on the student's suspension did not breed too much goodwill even though there was pressure from Raleigh. According to information that is alleged to have leaked out, about the day's meeting, even though termed a "whitewash," keeps Massie on the "limb" and that the trustees are not as favorable to him as they were.

It was learned from another source that the students, upon returning in September, will be out to get his scalp and that they will have the aid of most of the faculty, some of the trustees and the alumni. The denouncement by the alumni, according to a local newspaper, could have changed the thinking of the board had it been released before the Thursday meeting.

It could not be ascertained who Massie plans to put in the positions, he vacated, with the removal of Brown and Kyle. He is said to have the backing of Dr. J. A. Pittman and it was reported that he was accompanied to the meeting by Dr. Pittman. Dr. Helen Edmonds is not believed to be in any disfavor with the so-called brilliant prexy. Whether the two will get the has not been documented.

Interested sport fans, of both races, have not been too enthusiastic over Massie since he is alleged to have put the "clamps" on the NCAA Basketball Tournament, which was believed headed here for its 1964 contest. President Massie is said to have turned thumbs down on the meet, due to the fact that he was not consulted. Persons who are said to have invited the meet are said to have negotiated for some long before Massie took office. It is understood that plans for such contest must be made far in advance, perhaps a year.

It is reliably reported that Massie

Ex-Convict Runs Over His Girl Friend And Kills Her

LEXINGTON—Roscoe Eller, 33-year-old furniture plant employee, reportedly admitted to local officers last week that he murdered his girl friend by running over her with his automobile.

The victim was Mrs. Grace Lanier Fuller, a widow, who was slain on Wednesday night. Eller is said to have confessed Thursday. He was then charged with murder and held without privilege of bond.

Eller, according to the police, gave this version of the fatality: He and Mrs. Fuller went riding, they argued and she got out of the car near Peteraville in Davidson County.

He continued, he then backed up the car and knocked the woman down with the open door, then ran over her with the right front wheel. Eller stated he put her back into the car, drove to their home near Lexington and placed her on the bed. She was alive then, he declared.

However, when he returned later, "I found her dead," stated the killer.

According to officers, Eller then called for an ambulance, saying Mrs. Fuller was sick. Following an autopsy on the body, he admitted his fatal deed the police stated.

Eller has a long record, including an arrest for rape, 18 arrests for assault, including two felonious assaults, arrests for non-support of illegitimate children and many other "brushes" with the law.

Atlanta Will Host ATA's Annual Meet

ATLANTA, Ga.—The 61st annual convention of the American Teachers Association will be held at Atlanta's Municipal Auditorium on July 27-29, according to announcements from Dr. J. T. Brooks, executive secretary of the 38,000-member organization, founded in Nashville in 1904 by the late Dr. J. R. E. Lee.

The theme for this year's confab is "Education: Freedom's Tool." Keynoting the three-day convention will be Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president of Morehouse College, who will speak on the opening night. The association president, Dr. J. Rupert Picott, also the executive secretary of the Virginia Teachers Association, will deliver the message on the second night; and the final evening program will be in the form of the traditional banquet to be held at the Atlanta Americana and will feature the distinguished state senator from New York Mrs. Constance Baker Motley.

Directing the annual memorial service will be Dr. C. V. Troup, president of Fort Valley State College and a member of the Board of Trustees. Speaker for this session will be Dr. Richard V. Moore.

SAYS FEMALE IMPERSONATOR ALSO A THIEF

Officer H. K. Wall answered a call to Diana Shops, Fayetteville Street Monday and was given a description of a subject wearing a pink dress and a red wig who had reportedly stolen four skirts from the store.

From the above description, the officer found Lucius Shire, 24, who Officer Wall knew dressed in this manner at times.

Shire was found in the 800 block of Fayetteville Street, wearing the red wig, a full-length pink dress, women's make-up, high heeled shoes, and carrying a large woman's purse.
