YESTERYEARS . . . In 1781, Felipe de Neve, Spanish Governor of California, issued a mandate to establish the "Pueblo de la Reina de Los Angeles. The pueblo—later Los Angeles was founded Sept. 4, 1781 by 12 settlers and their families, 46 in all. Almost 50 per cent of the adults and 70 per cent of the children were of Negro descent. Negroes were among the first settlers migrating to California from Spain and Mexico.

The first American Exploration in 1842, John C. Fremont, the "pathfinder," made his first exploration of the West. In his official party was a free Negro lad of 18, Jacob Dodson of Washington, D. C., a volunteer. He is credited with the discovery of Fremont Pass near Los Angeles.

Fremont among the early militant newspapers owned and edited by Negroes was the Elevator in San Francisco. In 1843, Biddy Mason, young slave woman came to Los Angeles. She later became known widely known for her philanthropy. Biddy Mason is reported to have carried a herd of sheep behind her master's wagon; later securing her freedom through the Los Angeles Courts. Through hard work, frugal and a shrewd investor, she amassed a fortune in Real Estate from her first property investment in two lots between Spring and Broadway, Third and Fourth Streets in downtown Los Angeles.

PEOPLE . . . PLACES . . . THINGS . . . The starry-eyed couples viewing the heavenly-bodies at the Planetarium . . . Griffith Parks newborn grass a delight for the daily parknickers . . . The large number of flash convertibles dashing along the mainstems wheeled by L. A.'s loveliest . . . The rave notices veteran screen actress, Maudie Norman, a Bennett grad, is receiving for her stellar performance in James Baldwin's "Ames Corner." The sight of the umpire yelling "Play ball" at the plush "House that Malley Built" and his Dodgers responding in another typical "Bums" early seasonal losing streak; but, oh those Angels and our favorites, fabulous Willie Smith and colorful Bo Belinsky . . . The oldtimers filling the park benches, basking in the sun, reminiscing about the good ole days . . . The towheaded youngsters (Huckleberry Finn style) hitch-hiking to the beaches on week-ends . . . Charming Diane Watson, popular schoolteacher spinning around the big burg in her colorful T-Bird . . . Bill Hutson and Bill Jones over at the Tiki Islander Club excited over the booming business at their popular spa . . .

A local modeling school recently held a "Lips and Eyes" Beauty contest, so help me, its true . . . Aaron Williams, the sensational ventriloquist, entertaining a large audience under the stars . . . Schoolteachers on the campuses browsing through travel guides trying to select that particular vacation spot that will fit their summer budget after summer school . . . The happily married set saying that Liz's big flick should be retitled "Cheatopatra". The pleasant surprise Dottie Evans found in her garage, a new Grand Prix, gifted her by hubby, Teddy, the prominent L. A. dentist who hails from Salisbury, N. C. . . .

DASHING ALONG . . . HUMOR HER . . . The sponsors of "Mother-in-Law-Day," say, "You can get along with your mother-in-law if you will humor her." The mere thought of trying to humor a mother-in-law cause many a person to shudder.

LIN HILBURN . . . the distinguished editor of Bronze America Magazine has returned to his desk after a cross-country business trip re his national publication that has fast become one of the best in the nation. Hilburn is a product of Hampton and USC . . .

DAPHNE FERNANDEZ . . . recently arrived in Los Angeles from London, England, to visit her brother, Hewitt "Pepe" Fernandez. The petite bachelorette, says she will stay if she finds the Big Town to her liking.

BILL WALKER . . . The veteran screen actor is to be commended for his many years as an outstanding performer and as a forerunner in helping so many of our current top septa film actors in getting a foothold in the movie industry. JAMES E. ROGERS . . . has been named vice-president of Cal-World Publishers, Inc., a newly-organized international book publishing firm with executive offices in Los Angeles. William H. Robertson, noted Hollywood screenwriter-journalist is president of the enterprise.

JULIUS HIBLER . . . The well-known L. A. investment broker is building an ultra-modern edifice on S. Western. Completion is due in the very near future.

MANTAN MORELAND . . . remember him from the Charlie Chan flicks and other film comedies? Well, the longtime actor is in the best of health and recently cut a hilarious comedy record for a New York disk firm. It is just terrific. I recommend you get it at your first opportunity.

JOAN CRAWFORD . . . whose first job was slinging hash in Kansas City and went on to better things by becoming one of movieland queens is reported to be very, very sick in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital; contrary to reports she has been hospitalized for a minor check-up and rest, says my reliable source.

JOHNNY GRANT . . . KMPC top disc-jockey use to be a semi-pro baseball pitcher.

TEDDY BUCKNER . . . The noted jazzman's real handle is Theodore Roosevelt Buckner. Reminds me of my college classmate whose moniker was, Theron Algernon Cromarti, III, who is now a prominent dentist in Porterville, California.

NOTE STAGE PRODUCERS . . . This sleeper might have slipped by you. It's "The Grass's Springing" written by Theodore Labrenz. The drama is of Negro family life in a Berkeley apartment—once a luxurious resident area in Los Angeles (it was torn down several years ago to make way for a freeway) commonly known as Berkeley Square where rich white and Negroes lived for years. This drama will not only make an excellent stage production, but a very good movie.

DORIS HUDSON . . . The former angeltown charmer is reported now making Cleveland her home. They say she is quite smitten with a star slugger on the Cleveland Indians team.

ZETA Zeta Phi Beta Sorority Inc., Raleigh

Five charming and talented Zeta-Lites of the Raleigh area, accompanied by Soror Hazel Sorrell, left the city Saturday, June 27, for Cleveland, Ohio where they will spend ten days as guests of that city's unique Karamu Theatre.

In keeping with Zeta Phi Beta Sorority's national project, "The revention and Control of Juvenile Delinquency," local Zetas are initiating this activity into their program at the suggestion of Karamu's Chief Director, Alcutt Saunders. Mr. Saunders both understands and sympathizes with Zeta's national project for Karamu had its own fountainhead in a similar project in Cleveland's roaring third precinct. Its major objective to break the stronghold of crime and poverty on Negro

ROY RICHARDS . . . The handsome balladeer that was skyrocketing to fame several years ago and suddenly dropped out of sight. Well, girls he is back. Uncle (Army) Sam has released him and Roy has resumed his singing career. You will be hearing him at the popular spots very soon. This boy is just great.

NINO ADELIZI . . . The filmand stylist-painter is still pinching himself over the great success of his paintings that were on exhibit recently at a famed movieand art gallery where many of the West Coast's top artists displayed their works. Congrats, Nino.

FROM OUR WAGGISH FRIEND . . . When our first baby was born, my husband gave me a pair of baby shoes for my charm bracelet. For the second baby, the next year, he added a tiny bassinet to the bracelet. A year later, when our third arrived, the charm was a sterling silver STOP sign . . . That's all for now, until next week.

These five Zeta-Lites from as many high schools in and around Raleigh won the right to initiate this unique phase of Omicron Zeta's program on the merits of scholarship and talent: Misses Nathalia Deaver, Ligon; Lorraine Dunston, Berry O'Kelly; Sandra Mangrum, Dubois; Joyce Peterson, Garner Consolidated; and Donna Winters, Cardinal Gibbons.

While in Cleveland, the group will receive home hospitality from

Fried Chicken May Have Caused Fatal Stabbing

ORLANDO, Fla. (ANP)—An early morning argument, last week, believed to be over some fried chicken, resulted in the stabbing death of Ora Lee Treadwell, 49, and the arrest of Margaret Tringle, 44, who is in Orange County jail awaiting issuance of a murder warrant by Justice of the Peace J. A. McLeod.

Sgt. Jack Bachman, chief investigator, Orange County Sheriff's Department, said he was told the argument started between the victim and Jethro Treadwell, the accused's common-law husband, over some chicken she was frying for a second man who has a room in the same house. The Tringle woman told Bachman that Jethro Treadwell was beating her with a stick when the victim joined in and began hitting her with a frying pan. At that, she said, she ran into the kitchen, seized her "meat knife" and stabbed the Treadwell woman several times in the neck, shoulder and back. Bachman said the weapon was a paring knife with a blade over three inches long.

Soror Doris L. McAdams and children, Doris and Michael, of Cincinnati, Ohio, are visiting her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Larkin of this city.
