

RALEIGH BUSINESS COLLEGE

BY CONNIE BEST

Dr. James T. Taylor, past president of the North Carolina State Teachers Association, and for a number of years an instructor at North Carolina College, Durham, more recently employed at the Employment Security Commission, was our assembly speaker on Friday, July 10.

Mr. Taylor's topic was, "Employment." There is a need for skilled tradesmen and technicians. We are living in a state where everyone can further his education. Available at your door now is opportunity.

Further, stated Mr. Taylor, one should go beyond the high school level. Those who don't finish high school will run into these problems:

1. Unemployment for perhaps the rest of your life.
 2. Left-over jobs, odd jobs, even a job no one wants.
- After going through high school, that's not enough. You need some skills in shorthand and typing and you should be good at it. Try to exceed the minimum requirements. Dr. Taylor stated, that in the future, the color of your skin will not be a handicap for employment. All you need is the skills, and achieve them to the best of your ability. You must be a person your employer can trust to do a job and do it well without him checking it.

Your appearance is very important in a business too. Dr. Taylor further mentioned, that you should not be afraid to ask questions if you are in doubt about something. If we have the right kind of personality and personal traits, we can make it; if not, you can't. Learn to be courteous and polite.

Women are becoming more and more equal with men. "We, as women, must get the feeling into our minds and live up to it," he declared.

Mr. Taylor summed up his topic by saying that you will not get anywhere without at least a high school education. Having a good personality, the color of your skin will not be the determining factor of success or failure for you will be in competition with the world.

After Dr. Taylor's speech, we had a question and answer period. We enjoyed Dr. Taylor's speech and were benefitted greatly.

On The Home Front

(Items this week from Orange, Edgecombe and Moore Counties.)

HOUSING NEEDS MET
Mrs. Etta Johnson, Carr, reports she has been planning for her "fixing up" for some time. In the kitchen and family room, the old walls, ceiling, floors and windows were replaced with new wall board, floor tile, new windows and new kitchen cabinets, reports Miss Bonnie Davis, home economics agent. "I now have adequate storage space, easy-to-care for floors and good lighting," adds Mrs. Johnson. "And certainly the U-shaped kitchen saves me time and energy."

bar communities of Edgecombe County are demonstrating keen interest in the community development program. At present, they are collecting data from all the families in the community so they can plan their program to meet the needs of the community.

Miss Hazel Parker, home economics agent, says this is a slower process but will lay a solid foundation for a better program in the future.

CLOTHING ACHIEVEMENT
Clothing plays an important role in the lives of 4-H girls. And Miss Fayette Martin, is taking clothing as her 4-H project. Just recently she was declared clothing winner in the county.

White Racists Gun Negro Girl At Miss. Rally

MOSS POINT, Miss. (ANP) — A group of white racists riding in a green compact auto fired into a hall where a voter registration rally was being held here last week and hit a 19-year-old Negro girl as she stood near a window. The men got away.

Civil rights workers who witnessed the shooting identified the girl as Miss Jessie Stalworth, a member of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Miss Stalworth later was reported in good condition at Singing River Hospital in nearby Pascagoula.

Rights workers said Miss Stalworth was hit by one of several shots fired into the knights of Pythias Hall where the rally was being held.

The shooting reportedly was witnessed by Fred E. Meely, 32, of Chicago. Meely is also believed to be a civil rights worker.

Moss Point is a town of 3,800 located in the southeastern tip of Mississippi.

Suit Filed By Playboy Club Hailed By Many

NEW YORK, N. Y. — The NAA-CP Legal Defense Fund last week praised the Playboy Club of New Orleans for its suit against Louisiana laws prohibiting Negroes from attending the Club.

Jack Greenberg, the Fund's director-counsel, called the Playboy suit a major legal step by a private firm aimed at breaking down racial barriers in the south.

"It is encouraging to see a private corporation involve the U. S. Constitution in seeking to open its entertainment facilities to all citizens," Mr. Greenberg said.

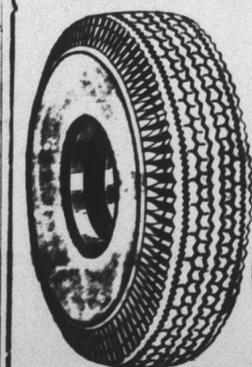

The Playboy suit also asks the Court to issue an injunction restraining the defendant, who include Governor John McKeithen, Mayor Victor Schiro, and other state and city officials, from enforcing the discriminatory laws or

Wrong Man Murdered; Charge 4 Teenagers

MIAMI, Fla. (ANP) — Miami police last week charged four teenagers with murdering the wrong man.

The youths shot and killed a bystander while the man for whom they were gunning slipped away, detectives said.

Detectives Ernest Bush and Dennis Watkins said the four were: Melsum Cooper, 18, Clarence Lee Cobbs, 17, Ramer Ferguson, Jr., 18, and Charles A. Rutherford, 18.

The detectives said they shot Isaac Ward, 26, on the night of June 19. Ward and the unidentified man the quartet were after, the officers
