

Coaching Clinic Slated At Greensboro College

Annual Dinner Speaker Aug. 5:

"Duffy" Daugherty, Mich. State Mentor, Will Highlight A&T's Coaching Clinic

GREENSBORO — Hugh "Duffy" Daugherty, head football coach at Michigan State University and chief clinician at the third annual A & T College Clinic, set for August 6-8, has been named main speaker for the Clinic Kickoff Dinner.

The affair is set for Wednesday evening, August 5, at Murphy Hall, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. William M. Bell, A & T athletic director and director of the Clinic, said reservations, for men only, are also available to the general public.

The dinner session sets in motion the three-day Coaching Clinic, which includes a faculty of several top figures in intercollegiate athletics.

In addition to Daugherty, who has held the Michigan State post since 1947, others to serve on the football staff include: Alonso S. "Jake" Gaither, head coach at Florida A & M University; Bill Tate, newly appointed head football coach at Wake Forest College and former assistant at the University of Illinois; and Robert Montgomery, head football coach at Second Ward High School, Charlotte.

Charles "Chuck" Osborn, head basketball coach at Braxley University, whose teams are almost regular National Invitation Tournament champs, and Victor "Vic" Bubas, head basketball coach of the Duke University Blue Devils, whose team last season electrified the basketball world by soaring to the finals of the NCAA National Championships, will head the panel in basketball.

He will be assisted by Rodney "Hot Rod" Hundley, former all-time great at the University of West Virginia and later with the Los Angeles Lakers of the National Basketball Association, and S. E. Gray, head basketball coach at Wilson, Barden High School.

Hornsey Howell, head trainer for the A & T College Aggies, will head a workshop in Injury Care and Prevention.

Bell said that enrollment in the Clinic is to be limited to 150 participants. Nearly 100 are already registered and he expects the quota to be filled prior to the opening day.

HIT AND MISS AFFAIR — New York: Heavyweight Eric Terrell (right) tries to land a right to the head of Bob Foster during their featured bout at Madison Square Garden July 16th. Terrell, of Chicago, blasted Foster, of Washington, D. C., to the canvas in the 7th round for the full count. It was Terrell's 11th straight victory. (UPI PHOTO).

From Chavis Park:

RECREATION NEWS

Team standings in Local League Play are as follows:

C. E. Lightner Little League:

Team	W	L	Pct.
HALL'S BEAUTY SALON	7	1	.875
KABALA TEMPLE	6	2	.750
COMMUNITY GRILL	7	3	.700
CHAVIS HEIGHTS CARDINALS	1	8	.111
EAST RALEIGH TIGERS	1	8	.111

J. K. Massenburg Little League:

Team	W	L	Pct.
PREPPER-FRESH	6	1	.887
BALTIMORE METS	5	2	.750
BUTLER BOMBERS	5	3	.625
CHANNEL 3	3	4	.429
ROCHESTER GIANTS	3	4	.429
OBERLIN TIGERS	1	5	.167
BERRY O'NEILL COLTS	0	5	.000

James Baker Pony League

Team	W	L	Pct.
BARBARA'S SODA SHOP	3	1	.750
BALTIMORE - ROCHESTER	2	1	.667
WALNUT TENNAGE METS	2	2	.333
OBERLIN TIGERS	1	2	.333
BUTLER BOMBERS	0	2	.000
KABALA TEMPLE	1	2	.333
HALL'S BEAUTY SALON	1	2	.333

LIVING With SPORTS

BY CHARLES J. LIVINGSTONE

MACHEN USED AS DOORMAT IN PATTERSON'S TITLE PLANS

CHICAGO (AP)—Some people, it seems, never learn their lesson well. They never know when or how to stop other people from using them for doormats.

Some months ago, I pointedly advised Eddie Machen, then in the midst of a successful comeback campaign, to stay away from the then discredited ex-champion Floyd Patterson.

After pointing out that Patterson had boycotted him for six years, I went to great pains to explain to Machen, in this column, that he had little to gain and a great deal to lose in fighting Floyd. Look, I said in essence, you are riding a crest of popularity and success.

Patterson is in the dumps.

When go out of your way to accommodate a man who didn't give a hoot about you while he was champion?

When I offered the advice, Machen, after a year's layoff due to a mental ailment, had racked up five straight victories, four of them by knockout, and was ranked No. 3 among the title challengers. Subsequently, he moved up to the No. 2 spot.

Patterson, on the other hand, was nowhere, technically. He was but washed-up after his two ignominious, first-round losses to Sonny Liston.

But then a break came for Floyd. Cassius Clay, the young braggart, had provoked champion Sonny (Big Bear) Liston into giving him a title bout and then surprised the fight world by lifting Liston's title.

With his two-time conqueror off the throne, Patterson immediately started clamoring for another title shot, claiming he'd rescue the crown from Cassius, who was demeaning it with his race-relations theatrics.

However, "The Lip," for the most part, ignored Floyd. So he turned to Machen as an alternative and found him receptive to his ideas. Wouldn't a bout between him and Machen be just grand in Sweden where both are so well known? Floyd reasoned.

Sweden is the same country where Eddie's title hopes were first dashed when he was flattened in a surprise upset by the then virtually unknown Ingemar Johansson. But Machen fell for Patterson's suggestion, and agreed to return there.

Some months ago, I pointedly advised Eddie Machen, then in the midst of a successful comeback campaign, to stay away from the then discredited ex-champion Floyd Patterson.

After pointing out that Patterson had boycotted him for six years, I went to great pains to explain to Machen, in this column, that he had little to gain and a great deal to lose in fighting Floyd. Look, I said in essence, you are riding a crest of popularity and success.

Patterson is in the dumps.

When go out of your way to accommodate a man who didn't give a hoot about you while he was champion?

When I offered the advice, Machen, after a year's layoff due to a mental ailment, had racked up five straight victories, four of them by knockout, and was ranked No. 3 among the title challengers. Subsequently, he moved up to the No. 2 spot.

Patterson, on the other hand, was nowhere, technically. He was but washed-up after his two ignominious, first-round losses to Sonny Liston.

But then a break came for Floyd. Cassius Clay, the young braggart, had provoked champion Sonny (Big Bear) Liston into giving him a title bout and then surprised the fight world by lifting Liston's title.

With his two-time conqueror off the throne, Patterson immediately started clamoring for another title shot, claiming he'd rescue the crown from Cassius, who was demeaning it with his race-relations theatrics.

However, "The Lip," for the most part, ignored Floyd. So he turned to Machen as an alternative and found him receptive to his ideas. Wouldn't a bout between him and Machen be just grand in Sweden where both are so well known? Floyd reasoned.

THE LENDING AGENCY that I listen to on my radio says it will lend me money for the bills I'd like to pay which seems to indicate that I have a choice in dealing with my creditors.

EXCEPT that they are unsure of their spelling and grammar, millions of people would write personal letters instead of shopping for commercial cards.

SAFE — Cleveland, O.: Dick Howser slides into home during the 3rd inning of game with the Yankees. Vic Davalillo hit a hard smash to center, which was fielded by Mickey Mantle who threw to Tony Kubek who in turn relayed it to catcher Elston Howard. Ball got past Howard and the Tribe's Howser was safe. (UPI PHOTO).

DRIVE SAFELY: AT ALL TIMES

Luke Easter Takes Over From 'Satch' As Oldest

ROCHESTER (AP)—His own testimony, Luke Easter is probably the oldest active player in organized baseball today. Baseball records show that on Aug. 4 the former major leaguer will be 48. But Luke says he will actually be 55.

Since 1956, Easter, a home-run slugger in his prime, has been with Rochester of the International League and one of the team's most popular players.

Like many other tan players, notably Jackie Paige, Easter got a shot at the major leagues late in his athletic life. He put in two or three commendable seasons with the Cleveland Indians but eventually the left-handed hitter was stricken to the minors.

Easter died recently that he would like to round out 21 years of baseball. He said that his career began with the old St. Louis Giants in 1933. Speaking of his "baseball age" of 48, Luke says, "That 1933 is just my playing birthday. I started playing with the Giants in 1933—and I don't think I made it that high when I was only 12. I guess I was born about 1911."

Easter didn't break into the so-called white leagues until 1946 when he was signed by the Indians and farmed to the San Diego club in the Pacific Coast League. He had spent 12 seasons with the St. Louis Cardinals and two with the Homestead Grays, before he joined the Padres. He and Johnny Ritchey, the first tall player to break into the PCL, were teammates with San Diego in the 1946 season.

Bucky Harris, then manager of San Diego, predicted that Ritchey would be the Indians' "No. 1 catcher within two years."

Johnny never made it to the majors. But Easter, hitting .300 and hitting 25 home runs in 50 games, was called up into the season to aid the Indians in their bid to retain the championship the team won in 1946. Injured his knee, a development that was to plague him the rest of his career.

Unfortunately, Easter arrived on the Cleveland scene when the team was in a tailspin and the Indians, not known as the greatest sports in the world, expelled their wrath on the big fellow. He was used first as a pinch hitter and later in the outfield.

100 PROOF
GIN
LAIRD'S $2.25
$3.50 4/8 QUART

DISTILLED FROM GRAIN
LAIRD AND COMPANY SCOBYVILLE, N.J.

McLeod Watson & Lanier's summer sale

This is our annual Summer Sale with substantial savings on warm-weather favorites. There is an outstanding selection of quality merchandise from our regular stock,

BUT NOT OUR COMPLETE STOCK. Keep cool, but stop in early while the choice is greatest.

OUR EXCLUSIVE LABEL CLOTHING

WEAR	NOW
79.95 to 85.00 Daeron/Wool Tropicals	64.75
89.95 Daeron/Wool Tropicals	69.75
95.00 Imported Fabric Tropicals	74.75
100. Wool/Mohair Tropicals	79.75
120. to 125 Imported Tropicals	99.75
55.00 to 59.95 Daeron/Wool Sportcoats	44.75 to 49.75
19.95 to 23.95 Summerweight Slacks	17.75 to 20.75

HICKEY-FREEMAN CLOTHING

150. to 175. Luxury Weight Tropicals	129.75 to 154.75
105. to 110. Imported Fabric Sportcoats	84.75 to 89.75

TOWERTOWN CLOTHING

65.00 to 69.95 Daeron/Wool Tropicals	49.75 to 59.75
35.00 to 49.95 Daeron/Wool Sportcoats	29.75 to 39.75
10.95 to 14.95 Daeron/Wool Slacks	8.75 to 16.75
75.00 to 85.00 Imported Wool Topcoats	59.75 to 64.75

FURNISHINGS • SPORTSWEAR

8.00 to 7.50 Broadcloth and Oxford Shirts	3.89 to 5.89
5.95	