Along with all other fellows who entertain a similar sentiment, we dedicate this little rimer to every girl with such a radiant personality.
MY STAR
My star shines on when heavenly halos are gone—
From dawn until dusk, from dusk until dawn
My star shines on,
Beaming as bright as day in the middle of night!
When rays from the firmament cease their flight,
My star beams bright!

Shaw's George Thomas To National Confab

George Thomas, Sr., associate professor of mathematics and physics at Shaw University, has been selected to participate in the First National Conference on Linear Algebra for college Teachers of Mathematics to be conducted August 5-26 at the University of California under National Science Foundation auspices.

Thomas was previously chosen as the Shaw University representative to the National Science Study Committee June 8-12, held at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"Take the course opposite to custom and you will almost always do well."—ROUSSEAU.

WHAT IS NEEDED is more thinking and less wishing.

YOU ARE THE DETECTIVE
You are in the shabby little restaurant listening to the owner, James Morris, tell the story of the robbery which he phoned in to your headquarters about fifteen minutes ago.
"I was about ready to close up for the day, had just finished counting the day's receipts and was crouched in front of the safe there in the back of the room when I heard this hoarse voice in back of me say, 'Put 'em up, fellow, and I don't move. This is a stickup, and don't move or turn around, or I'll let you have it.'"
"You can believe me . . . after sticking up my hands, I didn't move a muscle . . . he sounded like he meant business. So there I was crouched on the floor in front of the safe, his gun rammed into my back. He reached around me and grabbed the money out of my hand . . . then, as cool as you please, he asks me how good my coffee is. I told him I never had any complaints, then I could hear him pouring himself a cup of coffee, then sipping at it . . . all the time wise-cracking and telling me I had brought him some good business for the day. Finally, he got real tough again . . . told me not to move until I could count at least 25 . . . then I heard him go."
"How much did he get away with?" you ask.
"Between three and four hundred dollars."
"Don't you keep a gun here?"
"Sure, in the cash register. But I didn't have a chance at it, and besides I ain't no hero . . . not with a gun jammed into my back. This guy was at least six feet two inches, and too tough-looking for me to handle."
"Are you insured?"
"Oh, sure . . . and am I glad of that! I operated for over a year without any insurance, and finally took out a policy about five months ago. Lucky me!"
"I think it's lucky for the insurance company that they won't be compelled to pay out any money on this," you say. "I think this robbery of yours was faked!"
What makes you think this way?

CARY-ASBURY

MT. ZION BAPTIST CHURCH — Friday evening climaxed the United Revival Services held at Mt. Zion Baptist Church. The churches of this community joined together in these services. There were eight converts. The guest speakers were Rev. Frank McIver of Rhamkette, pastor of St. Mary AME Church, Apex and Dr. A. Dillworth, pastor of St. James AME Church, Sanford. The pastor of this church, Rev. Isaac Lee wasn't able to attend because he was a patient in the Veterans Hospital in Durham. The pastor of the Christian Church, Rev. J. M. Burrell, and Rev. J. H. Garrett, pastor of Union Bethel A.M.E. Church, presided.
Members and friends are praying for a speedy recovery for the Rev. Lee.
Sunday was regular service day at Mt. Zion Baptist Church. Sunday School began 10 a.m. Worship services started at 11 o'clock, with the Senior Choir in charge of music. Organist, Mr. Robert Hooker. The guest speaker was the Rev. Otho Kearney of Watts Chapel, Rhamkette. His text was from Luke, 1st chapter 16 verse. Theme: "Prepare ye the way." The speaker admonished his hearers to prepare themselves for this Christian journey. He delivered a wonderful message. It was enjoyed by all among the visitors were, Mr. and Mrs. John Burt and others from Rhamkette and Mrs.

Men's Day was observed in the afternoon, following dinner. The pastor, Rev. A. A. Anderson, delivered the sermon.
DEATHS AND FUNERALS
Mr. Joe Mac Thornton, son of Mrs. Vivian Thornton, was funeralized Tuesday at Juniper Grove Church. Eulogy was given by the pastor, Rev. W. L. Williams.

PERSONALS
Mr. and Mrs. Booker Green have returned home from a short vacation in Conn., where they visited. Mrs. Green's family and friends, Mrs. Irene Ward, former teacher of Hillside Elementary School, is recuperating at home after surgery. She has resigned from Hillside and will be teaching in the Goldsboro City Schools system soon.

Mr. Jim Wynn celebrated his 80th birthday quietly at home recently.

ZEBULON NEWS
BY MRS. MADDIE FLOYD
Church Activities
ZEBULON—Sunday School began at 10 a.m. with the supt., in charge of the devotion. Subject of the lesson, "God's Leaders Need Help."
Revival began Sunday night with the Rev. Vick Alston conducting the services.
The Wake County Sunday School Convention was held recently at Olive Branch Baptist Church. The following persons attended the convention: Mr. and Mrs. James Wright, Mrs. Maddie Floyd, Mr. James Wright, Jr., Glendola Todd, Mary Harris, Rev. Odell Wright, Glendola Pone. The convention was largely attended and very enjoyable.

PERSONALS
Mrs. Clavin and children of Baltimore, Md., are here visiting her father, Rev. Odell Wright.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones and Veola of Baltimore, Md., are here visiting his sister, Mrs. Merite Prinette, and his brother, Mr. Grant Jones.
Mr. W. C. High of New York City, is visiting Mrs. Margie Ellis. Also visiting here is Mrs. Minnie High of New York City.
Mrs. Roberta Sills of New York City is visiting in this community.
Mrs. Etta Harris is a patient at Wake Memorial Hospital. We, the community are praying for her a very speedy recovery.

SICK LIST
Rev. J. W. Mason a widely-known Baptist minister of Deep River Association of North Carolina and resident of Siler City, who has from time to time been a patient at the local hospital is in again.
His condition is very serious. Rev. Mason pastored the New Zion Baptist Church for a number of years. In spite of the fact that he lost both of his legs and lived mostly in a wheel chair, he has been faithful preaching the gospel. He is loved by many friends who share with him in his hours of physical pain.

BIRTHDAY PARTY
Miss Willa Mae Womble of Bear Creek was given a surprise birthday party at her home by her community friends and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Womble. She received many gifts and greetings. The surprising and exciting event took place Friday, July 24, at 8 p.m. She is a rising junior at the J. S. Waters High School, Goldston.

Raleigh District Sunday School Convention Ends

BY LINDA A. TAYLOR
PITTSBORO — The delegates from the Raleigh area reported a wonderful time at the Raleigh District Sunday School Convention, which was held recently at Pittsboro.
St. Paul AME delegates: Lirida Taylor, Ernestine Robinson, Edwin Worth and George Ligon.
St. Matthew AME delegates: Shirley Hicks, Anne Green, Francis Carmichael, and Ronald Wallace.
St. John AME delegates: Beulah Hemby, and Phyllis McIver. The delegates from St. Paul AME Church gave very interesting reports during Sunday School last Sunday.
All delegates served well at the convention. Linda Taylor from St. Paul AME Church was the chairman of the Raleigh delegates. George Ligon did a good job as marshal. Ernestine Robinson was on the resolution committee. Edwin Worth was the time and place committee chairman.
Shirley Hicks from St. Matthew AME Church helped with the music. Ronald Wallace was a very effective teacher in the Sunday School.
Phyllis McIver from St. John AME Church participated in the speakers contest. Beulah Hemby was a good primary teacher in the Sunday School.
All of the delegates helped with the choir throughout the entire convention.
