Dressing Up Your Bedroom Decorating or redecorating your bedroom? Here's something to sing about. Women find great fashion excitement, these days, in dressing their bedrooms in the glamorous colors now available. Tri-tone Turnabout sheets top the list with new three color harmony in stripes or dots, coordinated in color groups complementary to yellow, blue, lilac and pink. When you take the new, colorful Tri-tone Turnabout sheet, made by famous Pequot Mills, you have two sheets for the price of one. The trick is that wise old Pequot treats each hem to a different color and creates a change of mood with each turn. For example, turn the bold orange hem to the top for a dramatic effect; next day, turn the soft pastel yellow hem to the top for a cooler, calmer atmosphere. Then pick up the colors of the theme and use them in lamp shades, slip covers, painted or lacquered tables, and add new paper flowers. And when the bed is turned down at night you have a perfectly decorated room, whichever end of the sheet is up.
