

New Program Placed In Curriculum At Ligon Hi School

Industrial Education Training Hailed As "Break-Through" Here

The J. W. Ligon High School will include a new program in its 1964-65 curriculum in a greater effort to fortify its students to meet the increasing and pressing demands existing on the national as well as local level.

The program is called Industrial Cooperative Training. It could fall under a classified heading such as "Education Break Through," because it is designed to develop the student in the classroom as well as give him actual on-the-job training experiences which could lead to permanent employment upon graduation.

Richmond E. Stewart will serve as coordinator for the I. C. T. program. In explaining the program, he stated, "The Industrial Cooperative Training Program is open to any student who will be 16 years old and of junior status by September. It is designed to teach and train a student in a trade and industrial occupation by studying the theory in school and working at the actual job in the afternoon under a skilled person in that occupation.

A student registering for Industrial Cooperative Training must meet the same requirements for graduation as other students. Industrial Cooperative Training only uses the student's electives and counts as two units the first year in Industrial Cooperative Training, and two units the next year.

Students will take two or three other subjects to round out a full program. A student in I. C. T. will not be able to participate in extracurricular activities or interest areas during hours that the student is scheduled to be on the job. His schedule will be so arranged that there will be three-four periods in school and the rest of the day on the job.

While the course is designed primarily for students who are not planning to go to college, it does not mean that a student cannot arrange his courses to meet college requirements while taking Industrial Cooperative Training. All students must be approved before being registered for this course. They can register for a regular program and if they are selected for I. C. T., their schedule can easily be changed.

Dr. Whaley Re-Echoes Vote Plea

NEW YORK CITY—Dr. Ruth Whitehead Whaley, secretary of the Board of Estimates of the City of New York, re-echoed the plea of President Dr. Katie E. Whickam and pleaded for the beauticians of the nation not only to register and to vote, but also to use their shops as units for stimulating their customers to do so. Attorney Whaley was speaking to over 800 beauticians and guests in the Grand Ball Room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Many celebrities were among those seated at the head table with President Whickam and officers of the league. Among those present were: Richard J. Murphy, Assistant Postmaster General; Harold Galloway, Small Business Administrator; Dr. Grace Herwell, Department of Health, Education and Welfare; Mrs. Minnie Hurley, Advisor to the President of the USA; Mrs. Maude Gadsen, Chairman of the convention of beauticians now in session at the Sheraton-Atlantic; Ashby Smith, National President National Postal Alliance; Henry Dixon, Special Assistant to the Postmaster General.

In another session of the National Beauty Culturist League, the organization endorsed the nomination of Lyndon B. Johnson for the presidency of the United States and they deplored demonstrations for the sake of just demonstrating. The league advised legal action when denied the things due them as a result of the Civil Rights law and to sue for damages.

In her annual address Dr. Whickam stated that the league was well on its way to establishing a research center in their Washington home office; was to publish this year a souvenir booklet depicting the history of the league, the Institute of Cosmetology and the Theta Nu Sigma Sorority of the beauticians. Mrs. Serina Patterson, Philadelphia, and Mrs.

Maude Gadsen of New York were named jointly beauticians of the year. Mrs. Ora D. Gray, Washington, D. C., was named Miss Institute.

Special messages were sent to the league by President Lyndon B. Johnson and by the head of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Mr. Celebrese. Washington, D. C. was selected as the next place of meeting in 1965 and the newly constructed Washington-Biltmore Hotel was named as headquarters.

The Veteran's Corner

Also, notify your post office of your address change.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below are authoritative answers by the Veterans Administration to some of the many current questions from former servicemen and their families. Further information on benefits may be obtained at any VA office.

Q—I am a widow with an infant child. Soon I will marry a disabled veteran who receives maximum pension. How much will his pension increase with two dependents?

A—Assuming the veteran is single now, the maximum pension would be $85 per month if his income was below $600 per year. A veteran with two dependents with income below $1,000 per year would be entitled to $95 per month.

Q—Under the above circumstances, will the VA pay any medical or dental expenses for my daughter and me? If I should become pregnant, will the VA pay the maternity costs?

A—The VA will not pay any medical or dental expenses for your daughter nor you, nor will it pay your maternity costs.

Q—Does a veteran who served between September 16, 1940, and December 31, 1946, earn any gratuity Social Security wage credits?

A—Yes. These gratuitous credits amount to $100 for each month of duty, but are not listed on the Social Security earnings record until benefits are applied for.

Q—I am going to move in a few weeks. Do I write to Chicago where my checks come from to change my address?

A—Definitely not. You must write to the VA Regional Office where your claims file is located and it will make prompt change in your address.

Fun and Safety

Fun and safety are combined in a new bicycle accessory called "Spinwheels"—colorful 12-inch discs that serve as hub caps on the wheels of any bicycle—even lightweights.

They have 1/4" red or blue spiral stripes, with alternating white, glass-beaded reflector stripes which flash back the lights of oncoming traffic. The discs spin with the wheel, producing exotic circles of color.

The rugged aluminum Spinwheels keep fingers, feet and clothing from getting into the wheel and also protect the spokes from damage. They come in pairs—one for each side of one wheel—and can be attached in minutes without dismantling the bicycle.

The youngsters like the way they look that the discs give their bikes, and parents approve of the safety features of the reflector stripes.

Officers of Darwin Products, Inc., Chicago, point out that they are not advocating sending youngsters bicycling off into the dusk and darkness but, since many of them do, they would like to make it safer for them and, at the same time, provide an exciting new bicycle accessory.

WE'RE ALL EQUAL but different, and different but equal.
