

FREEDOM DELEGATION BANNERS SAY:

FREE EVERYBODY IN MISSISSIPPI

"MISS GOSPEL QUEEN OF 1964" CROWNED — Noted gospel singer, Sister Rosetta Tharpe, is pictured at right placing the coveted crown upon the head of Mrs. Elizabeth Crump, of 208 Camden Street, Raleigh. Mrs. Crump won an all-expense paid trip for two to the World's Fair, Flushing Meadow, N. Y., and a complete wardrobe, furnished by a leading women's shop here. She sold the most tickets in the campaign which culminated in the crowning of Raleigh's first "Miss Gospel Queen" at the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium Sunday, August 23, attended by several thousand persons and featuring many of the leading gospel singing groups of the nation. Mrs. Crump plans to leave here Friday for the New York World's Fair. She defeated five other contestants for the title. This program was sponsored by James Thomas of a local radio station.
