CONCORD — Mrs. Mary Jones McNeil, 47, of Columbia, S. C., was found guilty Thursday after 30 minutes of deliberations by a Cabarrus County jury of the theft of $17,000 from the home of William News, local Negro and alleged "root doctor," last May 31. Sentencing was delayed by presiding Judge Eugene A. Shaw until this weekend.

Mrs. McNeil, also a Negro, was apprehended in Columbia a few days later and reportedly had $4,000 on her person at this time. However, she denied the larceny charge and claimed she had acquired the money through the sale of property.

Police department testified that the defendant had just purchased a new car, made a $1,000 deposit on $4,000 worth of furniture, re-estimated $1,000 worth of jewelry from a pawnshop and paid $700 on a newly-owed television set.
