Coach "Happy As Kid At Christmas," 70 Grid Hopefuls Report At A. And T.

GREENSBORO—An even seventy football hopefuls, including twenty lettermen, one of the largest squads in the history of A&T College, began training operations at the Aggie camp here last Tuesday, September 1.

Youthful Bert Piggott, Aggie head coach, appeared as happy as a youngster at Christmas time, as he looked over the crop which would compose his 1964 aggregation, impressed by their apparent condition. Piggott said, "They look mean, lean and hungry."

With the opening clash set for Saturday, September 19, here at the Greensboro Memorial Stadium and that against the Fort Eustis Wheels, the Aggies have just 15-working days to get in shape. The time factor is compounded by the fact that on the following weekend the Aggies will meet Tennessee State University, also at Memorial Stadium.

Leading the list of lettermen is Cornell Gordon, the exciting 185-pound quarterback from Norfolk, Va., who runs well as the fastest halfbacks, and then in hot to the 170-pound passer and excellent kicker.

He is supported in the backfield by halfbacks: Clifton Matthews, Melvin Phillips and Nathaniel Jones, Willie Beasley, a 208-pound, fast enough last year to alternate at a halfback post, will play the full-back role.

Five rangy ends are among the carry-overs from last season. These include: Ernest Buggs, 6-4 1-2, 205-pounds; Ronald Francis, 6-5, 208-pounds; Lloyd Smith, 6-2, 190-pounds; Conrad Lattimore and William Ellison, both at 6-4, 185-pounds.

The list contains three centers: Thomas Alston and Joseph Flood, both of whom shared varsity roles last year.

Carl Miller and William Sinclair are the lone tackles who lettered last season.

The guard position is loaded with five-lettermen, including: Howard Ferguson, 244-pounds; Robert Edwards, 245-pounds; Andrew Wesley, 218-pounds; Herman Simmons, 207-pounds, and Robert Jeffreys, 218-pounds.

Apex News

BY MRS. LOUISE COLVIN
APEX — First Baptist Senior Choir was in charge of the devotion at the 11 o'clock worship service. A guest minister, Rev. R. N. Trice, read the scripture from the 3rd chapter of Rev. beginning with the 4th verse. Rev. W. M. Phillips, the associate minister, delivered the sermon. It was very fitting for these times. Subject: "White-washed tombs."

Our pastor, Rev. W. T. Bigelow, is attending the National Baptist Convention, and is scheduled to be back at First Baptist Sunday night at 7:30. Mrs. Francis Marrow is sponsoring a program at First Baptist. They are cordially invited to attend.

MRS. COLVIN PERSONALS
Rev. Leo A. Josey has returned home to Anchorage, Alaska, after about two weeks of visiting relatives here in Raleigh and Fuquay. He will be back at First Baptist Sunday morning and expected to worship with his members at Greater Friendship Baptist Church Sunday night at 7:30, where he is pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. David Page, Mrs. Louise Colvin and daughter, Teresa and Rev. Leo A. Josey, visited their sister and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Burdiss Josey of Portsmouth.

At FSC: First-Class College Aim Of Dr. Jones

FAYETTEVILLE — President Rudolph Jones old faculty and staff members in opening faculty conference for the 1964-65 school year last week, that "it is no longer important whether Fayetteville State College will be a first-class Negro college as it is whether we are going to be a first-class college."

While noting increased aid from outside educational and philanthropic agencies, Dr. Jones declared "I still hold very strongly to the idea that we shall be helped most by our own efforts."

Challenging the faculty "to put on your thinking cap at working clothes," President Jones urged every teacher to be a "communications teacher" who will "read widely yourself."

The series of faculty conferences began Tuesday night with the introduction of new persons and remarks by President Emeritus J. W. Seabrook. Other sessions, throughout the week, were devoted to discussion of a self-study report recently submitted to the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education and departmental meetings.

CLINTON NEWS

BY H. M. JOHNSON
CLINTON—Mr. James E. Essell, Sr., Mrs. James A. Moore and Mrs. Addie Johnson motored to Philadelphia, Pa. last Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Lula Ballard. The funeral was held Friday night at Perry's Funeral Parlor. The body was taken to South Carolina for burial Sunday.

While there, Mr. Essell was the house guest of his brother-in-law, Mr. Murphy. Mrs. Moore was the house guest of Mrs. Virginia Jones and Mrs. Johnson, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arnet Bowden.

17 years and had employed him on his farm at varying times.

Curley, who was brought to the police station, then Tunstall was jailed under a $10,000 bond, charged with rape and public drunkenness.

He is expected to receive a preliminary hearing in City Court next week.

Dr. Proctor will assist and advise the general secretary and other National Council staff "in matters of public relations, representation and interpretation." He will assume leadership in formulating "common position statements for use in interpreting past or continuing activities of the Council," Dr. Espy said.

An ordained minister of the American Baptist Convention, Dr. Proctor was president of the Agricultural and Technical College of North Carolina, at Greensboro, until 1963, when he left to become Peace Corps representative to Nigeria at the request of Corps director Sargent Shriver. In 1963 he was named associate director of the Peace Corps, with responsibility for administering its volunteer program.

Before assuming the presidency of the A&T College, Dr. Proctor served for 11 years in academic and administrative posts at Virginia Union University, Richmond, Va. He became professor of philosophy there in 1949, Dean of the School of Religion in 1950, Vice-President in 1953, and President in 1955.

A native of Norfolk, Va., and a graduate of Virginia Union University, he took his B.D. degree in 1945 at Cross Theological Seminary in Chester, Pa. In 1950 he received a Th.D. from Boston University. He has also done graduate work in sociology at the University of Pennsylvania and in social ethics at Yale University Divinity School.

doesn't break or need repairs. Sterling left to languish in bottom drawer is being done a disservice. When in constant use, it gains what experts call "patina" — a network of tiny lines that lend the silver a mellow glow. This patina is largely why antique silver is so valued. Every day usage of sterling has another advantage. Other than an occasional beauty treatment, it needs little or no cleaning.

deliberately shot at a car carrying Penn and his companions to scare "out-of-town niggers" from their neck of the woods.

An FBI agent from Atlanta insisted under cross-examination that this information was included in a statement given freely by James S. Lackey, 29, who said he drove the klansmen's car.

According to Lackey's statement, which he later repudiated, their first spotted Penn's car in downtown Athens.

The FBI quoted Lackey as saying that Sims noticed the District of Columbia plates on the car and remarked "That must be some of President Johnson's boys."

Lackey, in his repudiated confession, told the FBI that Sims announced that "I'm going to kill me a nigger," and Myers indicated he would help.

"The original reason for our following the colored men was because we heard that Martin Luther King might make Georgia a testing ground for the civil rights bill," Lackey told the FBI.

"We thought some out-of-town niggers might stir up some trouble in Athens," he added.

Lackey, the jury was told, said that Myers, who was seated in the front seat of the car, fired one blast from his shotgun and Sims let loose with another from the back seat as they overtook the Penn car.

"I didn't think Sims and Myers had actually killed the man," Lackey's statement said.

When he did find out, Lackey stated, "I said to myself: 'Those sons of bitches killed that man.' Immediately after the shooting,

SCLC PLANNING 8TH ANNUAL CONVENTION
Host to this year's convention will be SCLC's affiliate, the Chatham County Crusade for Voters, whose president is Hoses Williams. The organization is credited with having brought about complete desegregation of public facilities in the Deep South City, with Williams himself serving 23 days in jail at the height of the city's freedom movement.

Coordinators for the convention are Miss Larcenia Cohen, who is heading up the local committee, and Rev. C. T. Vivian, SCLC's Director of Affiliates, who is supervising all details of the meeting.

Rev. Vivian has indicated that this year's convention is expected to break all records in attendance with upwards of 500 delegates and another 1,000 representatives drawn from some 210 SCLC affiliates in 23 states and the District of Columbia. This figure represents an almost tripled increase in the number of SCLC affiliates since last year's convention in Richmond, Virginia, Vivian pointed out, noting that there were only 75 such associated organizations at that time.

White Lover Killed In A Triangle Tiff

DETROIT (UPI) — Miss Juanita Williams, 23-year-old Negro woman, has been charged with first degree murder in the fatal stabbing of her 70-year-old white boyfriend.

The victim of stab wounds of the chest and abdomen is Guy Bezkov, an outside bartender, who was found dead in his home. Police say Miss Williams admitted the slaying.

She told them that during a visit to Bezkov's apartment, they became involved in a heated argument over a young man with whom the bartender accused her of carrying on a romance.

Miss Williams said Bezkov slaped her, and she inflicted the fatal stab wounds. She fled after the slaying but was arrested several days later.
