

Tan Chemist Represents U. S. At Germany Confab

WASHINGTON—John E. Hodge, a top chemist at the U. S. Department of Agriculture's northern utilization research laboratory, Peoria, Ill., represented the United States recently at the International Symposium on Chemistry of the Carbohydrates in Munster, West Germany.

His paper was entitled "Degradation of Sugars by Secondary Amine Salts via the Amadori Rearrangement."

Following the symposium, Mr. Hodge conferred with scientists in France, Switzerland, Italy, and England on a number of research problems including the chemistry involved in the dimerization of some foods during storage and processing. He is an authority in this latter field.

Returning from Europe, Mr. Hodge last week assumed the position of chairman of the Division of Carbohydrate Chemistry at the American Chemical Society convention in Chicago. He will serve in the important post for a year.

Candy Strippers Bring Pride To Delta Sorority

The Raleigh Alumnae Chapter of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority had much to be proud of when Soror Jimmie Bugg Middleton gave her annual report on the Candy Strippers.

The Auxiliary to Wake Memorial Hospital has conducted a Candy Stripper Program for the past three summers. The Raleigh Alumnae Chapter in keeping with the national goals of its Sorority, the Delta Six Point Program, has sponsored the Ligon High students as Candy Strippers.

The Sorority furnished uniforms and transportation costs for the young ladies during their terms of service. The purpose of this project is to give high school students vocational guidance and experience in community service. The Candy Strippers perform services similar to the adult members of the auxiliary. They serve in the office, at the reception desk, personal aid, and on the pediatric ward, which is the most popular assignment for the Candy Strippers. Many young ladies have participated in this project, and the Sorority is very proud of the record they made.

Soror Middleton has been the guiding hand in working with these young ladies. The Sorority would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Soror Middleton and all Candy Strippers for a job well done. 1964 Candy Strippers are Patricia Peoples, Marie Rogers, Barbara Thorpe, Gloria Turner, Gwendolyn Upchurch, Barbara Boykin, Francine Bright, Prince Bucknelle, Sandra Parker, and Eva Person.

DELTA'S ACCEPT CHALLENGE

"Delta's Challenge—A Call To Service" is the 1964-1965 theme for the Raleigh Community Alumnae Chapter. In very impressive ceremonies thirty-nine Sorors rededicated and pledged themselves to the task of accepting the "Call To Service" at the opening meeting for this season. It is with the dedicated zeal and eager anticipation that the Sorority launches this program of service to the community through the Candy Strippers, the Jabberwock, and its scholarship program.

'Love Of God Unconditional', Declares Bishop C. F. Golden

GREENSBORO — "The love of God is unconditional and it is always there when you need it," Bishop Charles F. Golden, of Nashville, Tenn., declared Sunday at the opening vespers service at Bennett College.

Bishop Golden, head of the Nashville-Carolina Area of the Methodist Church, spoke on "God's Unending Love." He stated that there are those who think of God as a monitor "who is always at the right place at the wrong time," and that others think of him as a kind of Santa Claus, ever ready to bestow gifts.

"The time should come in everyone's life," he said, "when God is seen as a Father who loves us all. What does this love demand of us? It demands our lives. When we surrender ourselves to God, only then will we know the meaning of His love. He loved us so much that He gave His Son that we might have life."

"The jobs open to me are gradually being eliminated."

a Dog's Life

NECESSITY OF HUNTING DOGS — By Bob Barton, Manager, Fisheries and Game Research Center

The conservationists in every state generally look upon the hunting dog as a knight in shining armor. And little wonder. In these days of heavy hunting pressures, shrinking game habits, and a not overly abundant number of waterfowl and game birds, we can no longer afford to shoot down five million ducks each year that are not recovered. Nor can we afford the heavy crippling loss of upland game birds. The use of hunting dogs cuts these losses dramatically by assuring that a greater proportion of the birds shot are actually retrieved and therefore counted by the hunter for his legal limit.

And not only does wild life conservation benefit from hunters using dogs, but you're doing yourself a favor. Half the fun of hunting waterfowl or upland game is watching your dog work. And there's a wide choice of breeds available to any hunter. Nor must a dog be pedigreed. Many a pooch of uncertain pedigree will hunt with zest and efficiency.

The fact that you live in a city apartment or a small house in the suburbs is no deterrent, providing you can get to the country occasionally for training, and more regularly at least a month before the season opens to get your dog conditioned. Labrador Retrievers, Pointers and Setters are no larger than Boxers or German Shepherds, two breeds that are popular in the cities. True, they'll need long brisk walks, but walking conditions you, too, for long hours in the sun. Being exercised physically, you'll get more enjoyment out of your hunting.

Feeding tip: For only about 15 cents a day, you can feed a 45-pound dog a top quality prepared dog food such as Friskies. If fed from the kitchen table, food comparable in nutrition would cost three times as much daily.

CONVOCATION SPEAKER — The Fourth Annual Fall Convocation at Shaw University, which will formally mark the beginning of the academic year, is set for Friday, October 2, at 11:00 a.m. in Spaulding Gymnasium. Dr. James E. Cheek, president of Shaw University, will deliver the Convocation address. The public is invited.
