The Saint Augustine's College Falcons topped the Livingstone College Bears by a score of 16-0 at Chavis Park Saturday afternoon.

The Falcons' first score came in the second quarter on a handoff from Quarterback Sinclair King of the Falcons to Halfback Walter Jackson, who ripped six yards up the middle drive by Saint Augustine's King tossed to End Grady Thomas for the two-point conversion.

The Bears moved within 10 yards of pay dirt on a pass interception

New Bern's Warriors Ruin Ligon Homecoming Game, Memorial, 18-6

The Warriors of New Bern's J. T. Barber High School were apparently "on the warpath" here Friday night and ruined the Ligon High School Little Blues' homecoming football game and memorial to the late quarterback Willie (Pat) White, by a victory of 18-6.

Over 1,000 persons saw the unbeaten Barber team score its fourth straight victory, beginning early with a 37-yard pass from quarterback Curtis Nelson to Steve Thompson. Fullback Vance Green ran a screen for the two-point conversion, giving the Warriors an 8-0 lead.

Barber scored again in the third period, going 66 yards with Earl Williams scoring from the four-yard line. He also ran over the two extra points.

Ligon's only touchdown came in the second quarter on a blocked punt. Bruce Lightner deflected a kick and Alfredo Hicks picked up the ball and raced 30 yards to score. The pass for a two-point conversion failed.

After this score, the Little Blues could get no closer than the 10-yard-line of the visitors.

A two-point safety was added by Barber in the final seconds of the encounter when Ligon's quarterback Larry Graham was caught in the end zone.

Although his team lost, Coach Pete Hines (Pete) Williams of the Blues praised the performance of Xavier Artis.

Jim Robinson, Albert Jones, J.P. Bruce Lightner, Don Peels and Alfredo Hicks, Ligon, who travels to Jackson-ville this Friday night to meet Georgetown High School, now stands 2-2 in conference play.

NCC Student: Roberts Is Set For 18th Olympic Games

DURHAM — Edwin Roberts, the feet-footed Trinidadian who is now enrolled at North Carolina College, will represent his native county at the 18th Olympic Games in Tokyo, Japan, beginning Saturday, October 10.

He is scheduled to run in the 100 and 200 meter contests in which his best times are 14.1 and 29.3 respectively. A 5-8, 156-pounder, Roberts will also participate in the one-mile relay with fellow members of his entourage.

He is the champion in the 100 and 200-yard dashes in the Penn Relays, the CIAA, Carolinas AAU, NCAA Regionals, and was NAIA Champion medalist in the NCAA College and University Championships. He also won on the four-man NCC team which broke the world indoor record in the sprint medley last February at Madison Square Garden with a timing of 1:51.3.

Roberts will enter the contest with mixed emotions, because not being an American citizen, he could not participate on the United States team. Therefore, he will be competing against members of the American delegation. "I'm not only running for my country," he said, "but for the school, since I'm attending North Carolina College."

Among his opponents in the 100 meters will be Bob Hayes of Florida A&M University, reportedly "the world's fastest human." The two were in competition last April at the South Carolina State College Invitational Track meet in the 100-yard dash. Hayes slipped by Roberts with a clocking of 0.1 (equal to the world's record) while Roberts posted 0.2.

Clay Keeps His Weight A Secret For Liston Rematch; Plans To Be Heavier

MIAMI BEACH (NPD) — Cassius Clay, still recognized as the world Heavyweight boxing champion by Ring magazine, declared in training here last week that he was keeping his weight a "secret" as a surprise to Sonny Liston in their rematch, but there were guesses that the "Louisville Lip" would weigh from 230 to 245 pounds for the November 16 bout.

I weigh. Well, it's secret and it's going to stay a secret until they announce it in the ring. And just watch Liston's face when they do," Clay said.

Camp followers commented that Clay, who dethroned Liston in one of the ring's biggest upsets earlier this year, looked bigger than ever and said that he would hike his weight to within the 235 to 245-pound range.

Clay weighed closer to 200 pounds for his last bout with Liston here.

Clay has already begun sparring sessions.

SHAW BEARS' HALFBACK — Robert Timms, 21-year-old 5'7", 191 lb. halfback from Rockmont, Pa., who scored for the Shaw Bears last Saturday to tie, 6-6 with Fayetteville State. Timms is a superb ball handler and won all-CIAA honors in his sophomore and junior years.

A BRUISING BEAR — Charles Brandon, 31, 6'2", 225 lbs., is one of the leading tackles in the CIAA. He'll match his strength against Virginia State's Trojans here Saturday at 1:30 p. m. in Chavis Park. Brandon is Captain of the Shaw Bears and was picked last year as one of the All-CIAA players.

a Dog's Life

NECESSITY OF HUNTING DOGS

By Bob Barton, Manager
Frisbies Pet Foods Research Center

The conservationists in every state generally look upon the hunting dog as a knight in shining armor. And little wonder. In these days of heavy hunting pressures, shrinking game habitats, and a not overly-abundant number of waterfowl and game birds, we can no longer afford to shoot down five million ducks each year that are not recovered. Nor can we afford the heavy crippling loss of upland game birds. The use of hunting dogs cuts these losses dramatically by assuring that a greater proportion of the birds shot are actually retrieved and therefore counted by the hunter for his legal limit.

And not only does wild life conservation benefit from hunters using dogs, but you're doing yourself a favor. Half the fun of hunting waterfowl or upland game is watching your dog work. And there's a wide choice of breeds available to any nimrod, no matter what his specialty. Nor must a dog be pedigreed. Many a poach of uncertain pedigree will hunt with zeal and efficiency.

The fact that you live in a city apartment or a small house in the suburbs is no deterrent, providing you can get to the country occasionally for training, and more regularly at least a month before the season opens to get your dog conditioned. Labrador Retrievers, Pointers and Setters are no larger than Boxers or German Shepherds, two breeds that are popular in the cities. True, they'll need long brisk walks, but walking conditions you, too, for long hours in the field. Being prepared physically, you'll get more enjoyment out of your hunting.

Feeding tips: For only about 15 cents a day, you can feed a 45-pound dog a top quality prepared dog food, such as Friskies. If fed from the kitchen table, food comparable in nutrition would cost three times as much daily.
