WILLIAM DARTY, NASH HOME DEMONSTRATION SPEAKER
ROCKY MOUNT — The annual Achievement Banquet of the Nash County Home Demonstration Clubs was scheduled for the National Guard Armory in Rocky Mount on Monday night with Dr. William A. Darty, director of the North Carolina Fund, as guest speaker. Darty is a leader of the Anti-poverty program in Tarheelia.

Kenneth Hall, director of curriculum development for Nash County Board of Education was listed to explain the role of the County in the presentation of the Adult Education Program now being offered in connection with the anti-poverty effort.

Mason Thomas of the Nashcombe Economic Development, Inc., was to explain the local organization's role in attempting to raise the living standards of the twin counties citizens in the low-income bracket through education and self-help.

W. Frank Wright, Nash Farm Agent, and Mrs. Wallace Wade, Home agent, head the promotion of the award-winning work of the 300 Nash Homemakers and their families.

Darty, a native of Flat Rock, N. C., has had wide experience state and national as well as international—health and economic programs, having served with the World Health Organization in the Holy Land nations.

MASONIC CHARTER

The local Unity Masonic Lodge No. 64 has announced a "Musical Talent Exposition" for Wednesday, Dec. 2, at 8 p. m. at the Pope Elementary School gymnasium for the benefit of "helping the needy at Christmas." A King and queen will be crowned from among the contestants.

TECHNICAL TRAINING

The Wilson Technical Training Center is now offering classes in training adults or high school dropouts for work in the repair and rebuilding of "Small Electric Motors, Television Repairs, AC and DC Motors, and Electronics." Interested persons should contact the classes starting immediately at the school on NC 42 east of Wilson, or telephone the school at 237-1195. A course in Drafting is also planned for advanced students.

In that connection, some 300 adults are now taking basic grammar-grade studies and er typing and bookkeeping courses at the local BTW High School two nights a week.

TARBORO PEACE GIRL

Miss Myrna Spencer, Tarboro's contribution to the Peace Corps program in Chile, has returned with praise for the South Americans and the effort of the Peace Corps to advance international understanding and promote economic security among all people.

"They had never met a Negro before," Miss Spencer told Farnum Gray, Rocky Mount Telegram reporter, but "All the people were very kind to me," she added.

"Set your foot in the right direction, and walk ahead," was the challenge Miss T. Lorraine Cumbo emitted to the Junior High pupils of the Washington School when she served as guest speaker during the assembly program sponsored by the Y-Teens Friday, November 20.

Speaking from the topic "The House I Build," Miss Cumbo, in her captivating style of delivery, charged each student to begin at his level building a house of success. She cited the following materials to be used: ambition, character, perseverance, integrity, honesty, self respect, trustworthiness, and enjoyment.

Miss Cumbo is employed as a guidance consultant for the State Department of Public Instruction.

Others appearing on the program were Patricia Shelton, who gave the purpose of the Y-Teens; Joyce Fleming, who conducted scriptural sentences; and Gail Flagg, who introduced the speaker. Music was furnished by the Y-Teens Ensemble. The program was under the general direction of Mrs. Martha S. Davidson and Mrs. Hattie H. Bridges, Y-Teens sponsors.

F. T. A.

The Washington School P. T. A. closed a successful P. T. A. Contest Membership Drive for the 1964-65 school year. Membership drives were awarded to W. A. Rainbow's homeroom, which had the highest number of memberships in the junior high department; Mrs. Dorothy Thomas' class, which had the highest number of membership in the grammar grade department; and Miss Vivian M. Davis' class, which had the highest number of membership in the primary department.

Miss Jewel Lassiter, membership chairman, made the presentation.

FAYETTEVILLE'S "MISS ALUMNI" — Mrs. Loree M. Durham of Goldsboro, North Carolina, was crowned Miss Alumnae during the Homecoming observance at Fayetteville State College on November 7.

New Role For Negro Women

CHICAGO, Ill. — "The time has come to close the gap between what the older generation does and what it professes," said Miss Dorothy Irene Height, president, National Council of Negro Women, at the convention of the United Synagogue of America, Sheraton-Chicago Hotel, Chicago, Illinois, last week.

Miss Height spoke on "The Role of the Woman in Civil Rights" before an audience of 1,500 delegates to the international synagogue women's convention.

"Today's needs cannot be met with yesterday's means. It is fair. But it is harder to discern what is happening in the world of science. But it is harder to discern what is happening in the world of human relations," said Miss Height.

"The signs of change are many. The emerging new self-image of the Negro, the shift to non-violent, direct action, and the shift in ways of viewing prejudice alerts us to new dimensions in human relations," she continued.

"Woman's role is to help improve the Gospel Cordets, First Baptist Gospel Singers of Chapel Hill, the Hickory Grove Gospel Chorus and the Gospels. It was an interesting program. The pastor is the Rev. Jessie Jones.

MT. SINAI BAPTIST CHURCH OBSERVES MEN'S DAY
BY JAMES L. EVANS

FAYETTEVILLE — Mt. Sinai Baptist Church observed its 4th Annual Men's Day Sunday, November 22, 1964. The program of the day got underway with selected men completely taking over the Sunday School.

The highlight of the 11 a. m. service was the moving sermon by the Rev. C. L. Manning, who has served as a missionary, both in the United States, and in Africa. While in Africa, Rev. Manning also served as superintendent of a school, sponsored by the Lett Carey Foundation.

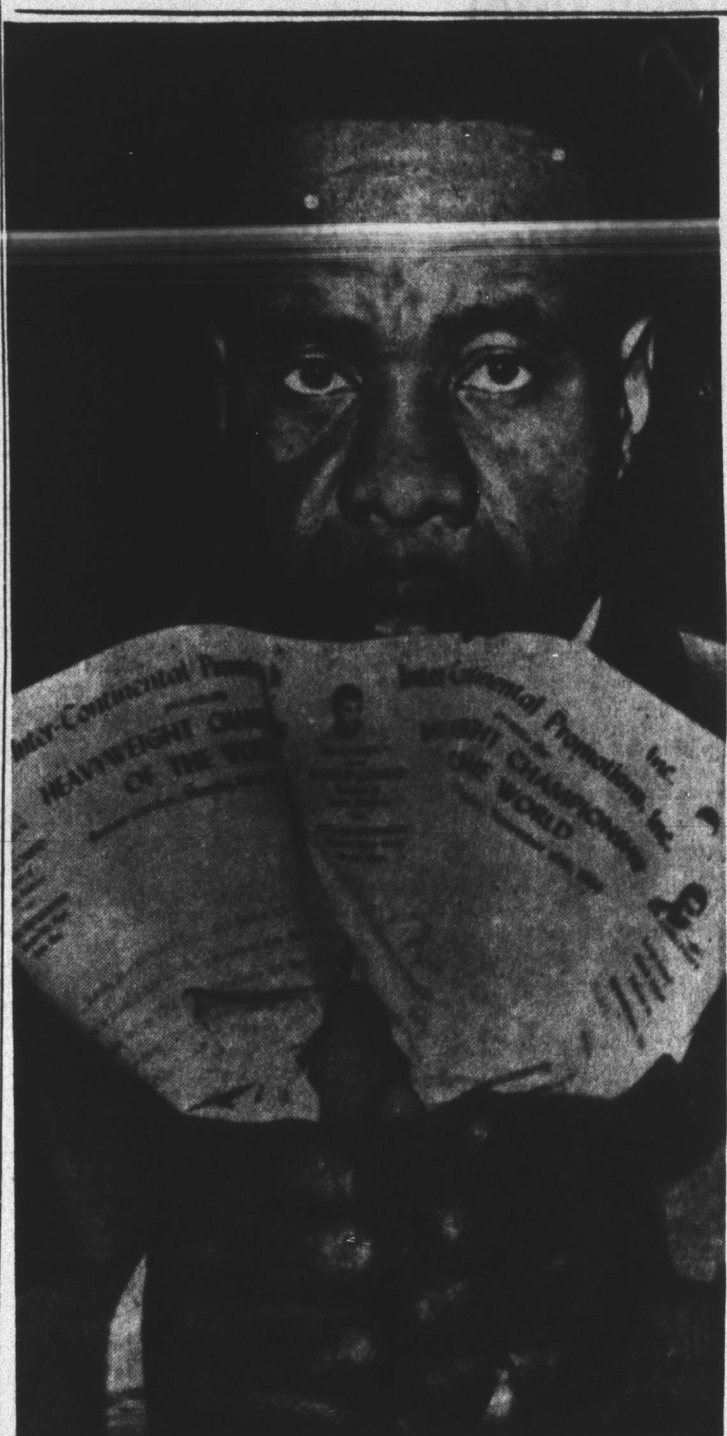

The Rev. Manning used as his theme, "Ties", in which he compared the life of a true Christian to that of a palm tree. Another highlight of the morning worship service was presentation of contributions to the building fund, namely, $500.00 by the members of the Planning Committee; $90.00 as the personal contribution of Mr. Jim Smith, and $50.00 from the Progressive Club. Appropriate music was furnished by the Male Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Le Gray Elkersen, featuring Sgt. Stephens as guest soloist.

The evening worship service culminated the observance, at which time the Finance Committee made a report of more than $1,100.00 to be used toward the building of a new church. The Rev. A. J. Johnson is pastor of the church.

AN ANGRY CHALLENGER — Boston, Mass.: A study in frustration, Sonny Liston crushes promotional literature describing his scheduled fight with champion Cassius Clay, after a press conference at tight headquarters Nov. 14th. Clay was rushed to a Boston hospital for an emergency hernia operation and so the title match was postponed... possibly for three months. (UPI PHOTO).

Benson-Four Oaks News

BY MRS. FLORENCE J. WYNN

BENSON — Sunday morning worship was held at the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. W. R. Moorehead delivering the message, which was very inspiring. Text was taken from Psalm 107. His subject was "Thanksgiving." He spoke of the many things we should thank the Lord for. He also spoke in memory of the late President Kennedy. Rev. W. R. Moorehead substituted for the regular pastor, Rev. A. A. Anderson. The service was enjoyed by everyone.

Worship service was held at the St. Stephen Episcopal Church, in Dunn. The pastor, Rev. S. A. Daise, delivered the message. His text was taken from Psalm 107. "O Give Thanks Unto The Lord." Music was by the choir.

PERSONALS
Mrs. Cornelia Thorne, Rev. A. A. Anderson, Rev. W. R. Moorehead and Mrs. Florence Wynn were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Johnson recently.

A good meal often changes an individual's entire viewpoint on life.

CARY-ASBURY

BY MISS MAE N. HOPSON
MT. SINAI Baptist Church

CARY — Sunday School opened at 10 a. m. with the superintendent, Mrs. Daisy Ferrell, in charge. Worship services began at 11 o'clock with the senior choir in charge of music. An inspiring message was delivered by the pastor, Rev. I. C. Lee.

Christian Church

On Sunday, Nov. 8th, the members of the Christian Church celebrated the pastor's anniversary. This is Rev. J. M. Burrell's 20th year as pastor of this church. He received many valuable gifts and a purse from members and friends.

Mrs. Daisy Ferrell and delegates, Misses Deborah Arrington and Jacqueline Ferrell, attended the semi-annual Baptist Sunday School Convention which convened in Four Oaks, recently.

Mrs. Lucy Statton spent the week-end in Henderson with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Chavis.

Birthdays

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Cain, Nov. 30th; Mr. Marshall Brown, 21st; Little Prydilla Brown, 4 years on Nov. 15th. Happy birthday to all.

This reporter was a representative from the Lincolnville Circuit to the Annual Conference, which convened in Lenoir last week. This was one of the finest sessions. Our Presiding Elder for the Raleigh District is Dr. C. C. Scott. Rev. Sister Mary Frazier of St. James AME Church, Method, with others, was ordained local Elder of the church.

Those attending the funeral Sunday of Mr. Eugene Logan, which was held in First Baptist Church, Raleigh, were Mr. and Mrs. John Ferrell, Mrs. Virginia Hopson, Mrs. Jeanett Evans and daughter, Jean, Mrs. Denese Patterson and Mae Hopson.

"The optimist proclaims that we live in the best of all possible worlds, and the pessimist fears this is true."

APEX

BY MRS. LOUISE COLVIN

APEX — The message from the pastor, Rev. W. F. Bigelow, of First Baptist, Sunday was just great. It was food for thought and very fitting as it was a thanksgiving message. The text was taken from Philippians 4:11-12 verses. Subject: "The Paradox of Contentment."

The male chorus rendered music. Mr. Thaddeus Bulluck is the president and is doing a good job. Mr. E. J. Byrd is the leader. We have two other promising young leaders: Ronnie Bigelow and Furman Hunter who are rising slowly, but surely. Stephen Bigelow is pianist. We are very proud of our male singing group, and ask your prayers for them.

Visitors worshipping with us were: Dr. Minnie F. Fort and Mrs. Leona Allen of Durham; Mrs. John Cozart, and Mrs. Rachel Alston, both of Raleigh. Visitors are always welcome.

On Sunday at 8:00 p. m., Rev. Bigelow was guest speaker at the White Rock Holiness Church of Chapel Hill. His text was taken from 2nd Timothy, 2:20-21 verses. Subject, "Meet for the Master's use." This message was also very interesting and very true. Singing groups accompanying Rev. Bigelow were First Baptist's male chorus the Gospel Cordets, First Baptist Gospel Singers of Chapel Hill, the Hickory Grove Gospel Chorus and the Gospels. It was an interesting program. The pastor is the Rev. Jessie Jones.

On Saturday, November 21, Mr. and Mrs. Cary Mitchell celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Mr. Mitchell will be 90 years old in December. Mrs. Mitchell is 82. We pray that God's blessings will continue to give them peace and strength, and we wish them many more happy anniversaries.

Today's needs cannot be met with yesterday's means. It is fair. But it is harder to discern what is happening in the world of science. But it is harder to discern what is happening in the world of human relations," said Miss Height.

"The signs of change are many. The emerging new self-image of the Negro, the shift to non-violent, direct action, and the shift in ways of viewing prejudice alerts us to new dimensions in human relations," she continued.
