

Annual "Turkey Day" Classic Pits Bears Against Falcons

Delaware State Whips St. Aug. Falcons, 18-6 Here

OUT OF THE GAME — New York: Three members of the New York Jets' defensive team, recuperating in Lenox Hill Hospital here, take time out for a huddle, November 19th, to talk about the Jets' November 22nd game in California against the Oakland Raiders. Hailed As All-Time Great

A&T's Cornell Gordon Plays Last Game Thanksgiving Day

GREENSBORO—Cornell Gordon, who on Thanksgiving Day will be playing his final game for the A&T College Aggies in being hailed as the all-time great quarterback for his team.

The 5-11, 182-pound center from Norfolk, Va., does about everything well in the routine of a triple-threat quarterback. He passes with the best punts at an average of 38.6 yards per try, and with his now famous roll-out option, Gordon is equally dangerous with his running. He also double as an outstanding man on defense.

"But what makes Gordon the really great quarterback," head coach Bert Piggott says, "is his flair for doing successfully unexpected, almost always a surprise to the opponents and often to his own teammates. He possesses rare ingenuity."

Gordon often devises a play in the huddle which more often works than fails. An example in point accounted for the first touchdown the Aggies scored two weeks ago against a smart Florida A & M University eleven.

A & T had the ball on the Florida 34-yard line, fourth down and long yardage. From a field goal formation, Gordon, whom everybody expected would hold for placement, took the ball, raised up and lobbed it over the heads of charging linemen and linebackers to his fullback, Willie Beasley, one of three prospective receivers out in the clear. While Gordon recently has not run as often, his skill and speed in that department always pose a spine-chilling threat to the opposition. They know hat he will.

Aggie Basketballers List 3 Tourneys, 18-Game Card

GREENSBORO—The A&T College basketball team, defending CIAA champions in both, visitation and tournament competition, and of the NCAA College Division South Central Tournament, list on its 1964-65 schedule 18 games and three tournaments.

The Aggies open the season with the Georgia Invitational Tournament, to be played in Atlanta, Ga., on December 3-5, and are scheduled to compete in the Winston-Salem Holiday Tournament, Winston-Salem, on January 1-2, and if everything goes well, will conclude the campaign at the annual CIAA Basketball Tournament, scheduled for the Greensboro Coliseum, February 25, 26, and 27. The Aggie home slate lists the following engagements: all set for the Charles Moore Gymnasium, beginning at 8:00 P. M.; Hampton Institute, December 7; Fayetteville State College, December 10; Johnson C. Smith University, January 9; Shaw University, January 13; North Carolina College, January 16; Winston-Salem State College, January 23; St. Augustine's College, January 28; Livingstone College, February 9; and Elizabeth City State College, February 16. The away schedule includes: St. Augustine's College, December 12;

Quarterback Throws Two T. D. Passes

Quarterback Elbert Blackmon threw two touchdown passes and had a hand in four extra points as he led Delaware State to an 18-6 victory over Saint Augustine's College Falcons at Chavis Park, Raleigh, Saturday, November 21. Blackmon, who completed 9 out of 13 passes, for 177 yards and 2 touchdowns, hit halfback William Godwin in the first quarter with a 35-yard pass for the first one and came back in the third period with an 89-yard bomb to halfback Douglas for the Delaware touchdowns. He also ran one extra point and threw to Randolph for another.

A fourth quarter safety accounted for the Hornets' final two points when tackle Garrett Engstrom trapped Falcons quarterback Sinclair King in the end zone.

A King pass to flanker Chester Bennett for 22 yards resulted in the lone Saint Augustine's tally. The attempt for a two-point conversion failed.

A&T's Defense Given Praise

GREENSBORO—The A & T College Aggies, perched atop the heap in the CIAA flag race this week had special praise for an improved defense in the line.

The same forward wall, which more nearly resembled a sieve in early season, when the Tennessee State University Tigers ran over it at will, has since gained a lot of pride for itself, and a great deal of respect from opponents.

The A & T defense reached its season's high last Saturday in holding the strong Virginia State Trojans to a measly 12-yards in rushing.

In a losing cause two weeks ago against the powerful Florida A & M University Rattlers, fans say, the Aggies really looked "good," losing.

Bill Sinclair, Charlotte, the star tackle for the Aggies, said, "We took everything Florida sent at us in that first half . . . down the middle and on the outside . . ." He then abruptly stopped, remembering that Florida's Bob Hayes, the world's fastest human, world record holder and Olympic champion in the sprints, was inserted in a halfback spot.

"That stretched us too thin," Sinclair concluded. The Aggies contained Hayes, but in doing so, left Bobby Felts and Calvin Lang free to do the damage. Bert Piggott, head coach for the Aggies, was the one who fished out the praise. "When we started last fall, we knew we had the offense," Piggott said, "but we also knew that we had weakness in the interior line . . . a lot of new replacements for veterans who had left."

Set Orange Bowl Honor For Hayes

MIAMI (NPD) — Bob Hayes, winner of two Olympic gold medals, and the world's "fastest human," will be honored by the City of Miami at the annual Orange Blossom Classic on Dec. 5.

Miami Mayor Robert King High will present a plaque to Hayes before the kick-off of the 32nd annual Orange Blossom Classic.

Hayes, a member of the Florida A&M football team, will play in the game.

Carter To Fight Giardello Dec. 14

PHILADELPHIA (NPD) — Challenger Rubin (Hurricane) Carter will get his delayed shot at middleweight champion Joey Giardello.

The title match, cancelled after difficulties developed for a meeting in Las Vegas on Oct. 22, is now set for Dec. 14.

The 15-round encounter will be staged in Convention Hall by Jimmy Riggio, a local promoter. Tickets has been sealed at a $20 top.

Dallas, Texas, was named in honor George Mifflin Dallas, the 11th vice president (under James K. Polk), the Catholic Digest states.

RADICALISM is often just an empty stomach shouting for a place at the food trough.

There are two sides to every law suit, the legal and the moral side.

BIG JIM BROWN UP-ENDED — Hard-running Cleveland Browns' fullback Jim Brown is up-ended by a Detroit Lion Defender, Ernie Clark, in a game played in Cleveland Sunday, November 15. The Lions did have a hard time stopping Brown, who scored two touchdowns, raising his career total to 103 and pushed his season's rushing total past 1,000 yards. The Browns won the game, 37-21 (UPI PHOTO).

Cross-Town Rivalry Will Be Renewed Here Thursday

The St. Augustine's College Falcons and the Shaw University Bears will clash in their annual season battle, Thursday, November 26 at Chavis Park, Raleigh, in the Thanksgiving Day Classic.

The Bears will be out to regain the trophy which was won by the Falcons last year, by a score of 28-8. The Falcons, however, will be intending to stop all advances by the Bears.

The Falcons take a 4-5 record into the game, where as the Bears take a 2-6-1 record. Both teams are returning from Saturday defeat. The Falcons lost to Delaware State by a score of 18-6 and Shaw was edged by the Yellow Jackets of Allen University, 14-12, in Columbia, S. C.

Seniors, who will be playing their final game for the Falcons will be guards Rufus Harte and Clayton Incominias, who are expected to be dangerous to the Bears' offense; line-backer, Theodore Brown; Noah Thorpe, a tackle; and St. Augustine's speedy end, Edward Chester, one who will not be completing his years of service to the team will be Walter "Coco" Jackson, who Coach Jesse Clements predicts will be one of the big sparks of his offense.

The Bears will be getting final services from guard Dalton Moore, who has provided much spark to the Bears' defense for the past four years; James Snow, who moved into the end position this year and has been great; fullback Lanue Johnson, a demon in his position; Big Charles Brandon, whose work at the tackle position has been so that he will always be remembered at Shaw; and Robert Tinnin, Shaw's great half-back who runs with his peers and with these fellows who make him appear as a small one.

Coach Robert (Stonewall) Jackson of the Bears reminds us that the team is in good physical condition and that they will definitely be out to bring that trophy back to Shaw.

The probable starting line-ups are:

St. Augustine's: L.E. Edward Chester, LT, Noyah Thory, LG, Clayton Incominias, C, Theodore Brown, RG, Rufus Harte, RT, Herman Reid, RE, Grady Thomas, QB, Sinclair King, LHB, Walter Jackson, FB, Chester Bennett, and RHB, William Jameson.
