LIGON DONATES BASKETS TO NEEDY — Many smiles were brought to the faces of close to a hundred families in the Raleigh area by the J. W. Ligon Junior-Senior High School during the Thanksgiving Holidays because of its annual "Cheer Basket" contributions. Many of the students who contributed are shown in the gymnasium with the baskets. Classes and school organizations donated the beautifully decorated baskets laden with all kinds of food to the Welfare Dept. of Raleigh Wednesday afternoon for distribution to the needy. Miss Brenda Faulk, junior representative of the Student Council at Ligon, presented the baskets to Mrs. M. A. Spencer, Welfare Department representative, to climax a very impressive ceremony, with emphasis on giving thanks.

White Trio Is Jailed In Teacher's Kidnap Robbery

SHREVEPORT (NPD) — Three white men have been arrested and face charges in the kidnap-robbery of a Negro school teacher, who reported he was abducted while making a telephone call in a service station. The trio, Jimmy W. Lamson, 19; his brother, Ray, 21, and Jerry Wayne Peters, all of Shreveport, were arrested while driving the victim's car, according to police. The car belongs to Frank Porter, who told police he was abducted at gun point and left tied to a tree. Capt. L. W. Forrester, of the Lubbock (Tex.) police, said the three suspects have admitted the crime. The men were arrested in Lubbock for investigation of an armed robbery in Plainview, Tex. Forrester said they also admitted committing three robberies in Texas. Porter told police he was forced into his own car by the trio. He said they threatened to kill him several times, that they stopped and used his credit card to buy gasoline. He reported they took his wallet containing less than $2, then tied him to a tree with a cotton rope and gagged him with a handkerchief. He managed to free himself and call police.

Durham Business College

THE UNFORTUNATE
DURHAM — On November 24, the members of the Student Government chose as their project to deliver Thanksgiving baskets to three unfortunate families. The families were very thankful and appreciative for the consideration of the Student Government, the student body and faculty for the food given them. Each person cooperated wholeheartedly by bringing some type of food which they felt would be a benefit to someone in need. THANKSGIVING PROGRAM
The Business Administration Department gave a Thanksgiving program, Tuesday, November 24, in St. Mark AME Zion's Chapel at 10:30 a. m. The highlights of the program were designed to create a Thanksgiving atmosphere among the pupils. The Durham Business College Choir rendered the music for the occasion. Afterwards, the Student Government presented Thanksgiving baskets to needy families of Durham. Hugh M. Hedgspeth, head of the Business Administration Department, was in charge of the program.

Yes. We All Talk

STAGE FRIGHT
QUESTION: Why is it that I get terribly frightened when I get up to make a speech? — Y. P.
ANSWER: All speakers have some stagefright at the beginning of their speeches. This fear or tension may be reduced if you have good concentration. Public speaking requires concentration upon what is to be said, very much like a baseball player is concentrating upon hitting the ball pitched to him. The batter has to be sharply alert, every muscle and nerve in tight coordination. Thus, the effective speaker must feel his body move into high gear.
Alan H. Monroe, writer of public speaking textbook, says that PREPARATION helps to reduce this tension and build up self confidence on the part of the speaker; and therefore this tension should be regarded as an advantage, when properly used. The only danger lies in becoming so tense that you will not express yourself adequately.
The best way to gain confidence is to accept every opportunity to speak in public.
