Protests from business or ganizations and roffgential in dividuals have brought the orininistration to a realiz ing sense of the blunder Sec. retary Gage made in invit ing the present tariff war with Russia alt is not, of course, acknowledged to be a case of blunder. On the con trary it has been officially an nounced that Mr. McKinley and all the Cabinet endorse Secretary Gage. But, that it is really recognized as a blun der, is shown from the fact a so officially announced, that Secretary Hay has, under instructions, explained the mat ter to the Russian Government, with the hope of being able to bring about a satis factory readjustment of the matter. If Secretary Gage was right, why should the di plomary of the State Depart ment be called in to straight en out what has followed rightful acts? This adminis tratica veryfrequently makes the mistake of underrating the intelligence of the public.

Mr McKinley's delay in na ming a new Commissioner of Pensions has put the repub lican opponents of Commissioner Evans in a very ngly humor and they are letting out campaign secrets. "Corporl" Tanner, who has been prominent in the fight against Evans, said: "I do not know whether it is a fact that known to the public or no but it is true, nevertheless that the National Republi can Committee, prior to the last election, promised faithfully that Mr. Evans would be retired from the office of Pension Commissioner upon the beginning of President McKinley's second administration, in case of his reelection. We have that promise in black and white. It is in the form of a letter written by the National Committee to Gen. Sickle and he still has that communication." The "Corporal" intimated that it was only by making that promise that the committee succeeded in keeping the soldier vote in line for McKinley, and that if the promise was not soon redeemed there would be trouble, and lots of it in the ranks of the g. o. p Evans says he will not resign, and Mr. McKinley seems disinclined to push him out
