NO. 39.

A man does not understand to have to be a lawyer to have good, hard sense.

All except bad ones!

There are hundreds of cough medicines which relieve coughs, all coughs, except bad ones! The medicine which has been curing the worst of bad coughs for 60 years is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Here is evidence:

"My wife was troubled with a deep-seated cough on her lungs for three years. One day I thought of how Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved the life of my sister after the doctor had all given her up to die. So I purchased two bottles, and it cured my wife completely. It took only one bottle to cure my sister. So you see that three bottles (one dollar each) saved two lives. We all send you our heartfelt thanks for what you have done for us."—J. H. BURCH, Macon, Col., Jan. 13, 1899.

Now, for the first time you can get a trial bottle of Cherry Pectoral for 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent

As was to be expected a split has come between the President and Senator Hanna. While those who had the best interests of the party at heart wished that these two gentlemen might be able to get along together they had little ground on which to base such hopes. Mr. Hanna had so long exercised a dictatorship authority over the party and had so carefully laid his plans to secure the nomination for himself at the next national convention that the accession of Mr. Roosevelt was a severe blow to his ambitions. Mr. Roosevelt with his positive disposition, his iron convictions and his forceful methods of putting them into execution was bound to run almost counter to the feelings of the Ohio "boss" even if he had no ambition for a second term, which he certainly has. During Mr. McKinley's administration Mr. Hanna had complete control of all appointments in the South and had so used them as to cement together a solid machine that would stand bound to do his bidding at the next convention. President Roosevelt has upset all this good work and proposes to make Southern appointments to suit himself. The appointment of ex-Governor Jones was a direct set back to the Hanna machine, and more will follow, therefore Senator Hanna is anking and talking of resigning, a threat that will not have the slightest effect upon the President.

President Roosevelt started out with the determination to build up a republican party in the South and by his first appointments, but even more by his expressed sentiments, made a most favorable impression. So impressed by the statement of his plans was old Col. Howell, of Atlanta, that he expressed himself as believing that the President would succeed in building up quite a respectable party, but he concluded with the sage advice that Mr. Roosevelt and his party must "talk protection and let the negro alone." This unfortunately for Mr. Roosevelt's ambitions, he could not do, and with the love of the spectacular that led him to appear at the National Convention at Philadelphia in his Colonel's uniform, he invited Booker T. Washington to dine at the White House. Washington came and as he demolished the President's viands, so he demolished his popularity in the South, and to-day all the good that has been accomplished by the appointment of ex-Governor Jones, Dr. Clayton and others has been extinguished, and the Southern feels that Mr. Roosevelt is no better than any other Republican President, and that the first act of a successful local republican party would be an attempt at his humiliation by the exaltation of the negro.

Notwithstanding President

Roosevelt's desire to be the first to advise the country of the conditions of the new Hay-Panama treaty, the important features have leaked out, and are as follows: The new treaty will set aside the Clayton-Bulwer convention, the United States will be the sole grantor of the neutrality of the canal and she alone will have the right to fortify it. These features practically dispose of the opposition met with in the senate of the last Congress and it is assumed that definite canal legislation will be enacted by the Fifty-Seventh Congress. The question of route of course remains to be disposed of. While a majority of those interested seem to think that the Nicaragua route will be adopted, the Panama Canal will not be abandoned and Mr. Hutton of the French Panama Canal Company, is now in Washington to press the claims of his route to consideration. It is understood that the price asked is $35,000,000. The only cloud on the canal sky is Mr. Hutton and his associates, the fear being confidentially expressed that the enemies of canal legislation may use the Panama Company's proposition as a means of delaying all legislation on the subject.

Notwithstanding Senator Frye's assurance that the new ship subsidy bill would be amended and presented in a form that would insure its almost immediate passage, there still seems to be some friction in the republican camp on the subject. Representative Minor, of Wisconsin, recently called on the President to protest against executive support being given to the bill, even in its amended form. Mr. Minor pointed out to the President that the new bill was so drawn as to convert most of the subsidy into the treasury of the International Navigation Co. and simply for making fast guns which they are now making and will continue to make, whether they received it or not. Mr. Minor is in favor of a bill which will give encouragement to the slower class of freight carrying vessels and states that if the Frye bill is not so amended as to provide for a far wider distribution of the subsidies he will prepare and submit a measure which will do so. It is said by people who have the President's confidence that he was a good deal annoyed at what he considered a lack of faith on the part of Senator Frye in asking his support for the bill and leaving him so much in the dark as to the manner in which its provisions would work out.

Secretary Gage has not add ed in the least to his popularity by the expressions of his views to the bankers at Milwaukee. Whatever the republican party may think on the subject of the retirement of the greenbacks, they are not prepared to defend any such issues before the country and they are annoyed with the Secretary of the Treasury for having given utterance to such views while still a member of the Cabinet.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Frank D. Hackett, has asked to be relieved, and it is stated that Judge Charles H. Darling, of Bennington, Vt., will be his successor. There is a rumor about that Mr. Hackett was to have been made the scapegoat for the Bureau of navigation, and that he refused to submit and resigned. I can find no confirmation of the report, however, and simply state it for what it is worth.

Mr. James Mitchell, of Arkansas, was in the city recently and expressed himself as confident that Senator Jones would be elected. He said: "The people of Arkansas are in favor of Senator Jones for two reasons; he is recognized as a worker in Congress, and he can be depended upon to look out for the interests of his own state." Mr. Mitchell spoke in complimentary tones of ex-Governor Clarke but is sure that Senator Jones will be elected.

It Happened in a Drug Store. "One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough syrup that I did not keep in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." It is for sale by Blackburn.

Since Booker T. Washington has been dined at the executive mansion, the title "White" House seems to be a misnomer.—Asheville Citizen.

A new remedy for biliousness is now on sale at Blackburn's. It is called Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. It gives quick relief and will prevent the attack if given when the first symptoms of the disease appear. Price 25c. Sample box free.

Johnson's Bismarck never fails; has stood the test for 30 years; Quart Bottles.

Land, Timber and Mineral Wanted.

All persons desiring to sell or buy Lands, Water Power, Timber and Mineral interests are respectfully invited to call and see LINNEY & HAYES, at Boone, N. C. If we don't buy, we will find you a buyer. If you won't sell, we will sell you. LINNEY & HAYES, REAL ESTATE AGENTS, Boone, N. C. Per F. A. LINNEY, Attorney.

Not The First.

Roosevelt is not the first republican to dine with a negro. In 1898 a republican official in a North Carolina county had a negro politician at his home to tea, and a correspondent of the Augusta Chronicle says that recently a formal dinner was given to a leading republican of that State—Republican National Committeeman from Georgia—where "a white man sat down at dinner with a party of negroes in Augusta." He adds: "It has been publicly stated in Augusta that another white man, now also receiving endorsement for the Augusta postmastership, slept in the same bed with a negro politician in Washington." Such cattle ought to receive no endorsement from decent men.

Tot Causes Night Alarm.

"One night my brother's baby was taken with croup," writes Mr. J. C. Snyder, of Crittenden, Ky. "It seemed it would strangle before we could get a doctor, so we gave it Dr. King's New Discovery which gave quick relief and permanently cured it. We always keep it in the house to protect the children from croup and whooping cough. It cured me of a chronic bronchial trouble that no other remedy could relieve." Infalible for coughs, colds and throat and lung troubles. 50c. and $1. Trial bottles free at Blackburn's.

The most damnable outrage which has ever been perpetrated by any citizen of the United States was committed by the President when he invited a nigger to dine with him at the White House.—Memphis Scimitar.

Don't be satisfied with temporary relief from indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure permanently and completely removes this complaint. It relieves permanently because it allows the tired stomach perfect rest. Dying won't rest the stomach. Nature receives supplies from the food we eat. The sensible way to help the stomach is to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which digests what you eat and can't help but do you good. Moretz and Farthing, zeb Buchanan.

The Democrat who overheard, in turning so early from the McKinley obsequies to welcome the advent of Roosevelt as an advantageous feature of the South but who now denounces, as an unsavory dish, the hash incident in the White House, reminds me of the runt man in Vance county, North Carolina, who putting guano in his shoes to grow himself tall or, so overfertilized, that, alarmed at the extent of his sudden altitudinous growth, he shoved a quart or two in his hat to grow himself down to regulation height.—John R. Marris.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lewther, clerk of the district court at Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines, but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely. For sale by Blackburn.

Johnson's Bismarck, Quart Bottles; as a cathartic, backache and health restorer it has no equal.

What it Means to Democracy.

The Louisville Courier Journal in commenting on the Roosevelt-Washington affair concludes an editorial in this encouraging language:

"Looking at it from a partisan point of view, Democrats may take not a little comfort to themselves. What ever happens, this is not our funeral. Out in the cold as we may be—shivering as we are—and hungry, yea, verily, and thirsty—yet as we stand around the White House and look in through the windows and see Teddy and Booker hobnobbing over their possum and potatoes, not one of us is disposed to envy either of them, or to exclaim of either, 'Wouldn't it be bully to be him?' We prefer to take our chances of the future. We had rather wait till our time comes. Somehow, the look ahead does not seem so hopeless nor the distance so long. We democrats have but to get together and keep our powder dry to carry all before us three years hence, for this young man is a broncho-buster and he is going to raise more of that stuff from the very hot place with the very short name to the square inch than was ever raised before in that particular neck of the woods. Sursum corda! There's a good time coming, boys. Wait a little longer."

A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was recently made on D. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures back ache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c. at Blackburn's.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water, and exciting pain in passing it, or had effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up often during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.
