Why He Loves Josephus Daniels. (Greensboro Telegram.)

To the Editor:—Will the editor of the Telegram give space enough for me to state, as a plain farmer just why I love Joe Daniels, of the Raleigh New and Observer? I love him—

1. Because every fellow that gets his living out of taking advantage of his neighbors hates him.
2. Because Republicans hate him worse than they hate anybody.
3. Because whisky men hate him.
4. Because men who know they are on the wrong side abuse him incessantly, because he keeps his eye on them.
5. Because every immoral influence in North Carolina is being used to ruin him.
6. Because he never said a cross word to an employee of his paper (I am informed of this) nor a cross word to his family in all his life.
7. Because he is against sin everywhere, is a consistent Christian, never chews or smokes or drinks, (so I am informed) and loves the plain people.

The conclusion of the whole matter is that I love him because I love his pure life and because of the enemies he has made, FARMER. Madison, N. C. March 15 1907.

A large Baptist Church that stands in the city of Santa Rosa, Cal., enjoys the distinction of having been constructed entirely from a single tree. Of course, that includes the woodwork of the structure. The tree from which the timber, lumber and shingles were cut was a giant California redwood. A considerable quantity of the lumber was left over after the church building was completed. The building has a spire seventy feet high, an audience room capable of seating 300, a parlor capable of seating 80, a pastor's study 14 by 20 feet, a vestibule and a toilet room. The building is 35 by 80 feet. There are not many buildings in the country all the timbers of which came from a single tree.—Technical World.

To-Day.

"Every day is a little life." was an old thinker's wise epigram. If each day gets the better of us, how are we going to conquer in life as a whole? Only as we make each day a victorious battleground where selfishness and shirking and disobedience and discontent are overcome, can we make life a victory in the end. Lavater, the old philosopher, laid down the rule that "each day should be distinguished by at least one particular act of love." It is a rule which makes life happier for the doer, and for everybody else.—Sel.

The progress of the Church of Jesus Christ is strikingly depicted by the pen of John, the disciple of love. I call you to follow the progress of the growth of the Christian church in John's writings. First there was only one man who believed in Jesus—John the Baptist. Then we read of two, then of three, then of five, then of twelve, then of 70, then of 120, then of a great multitude which no man can number, all singing "Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power and riches, and strength and honor, and glory and blessing.—Ex.

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Mr. Cleveland on Seventieth Birthday
"I look with apprehension upon the wealth-mad rush of American life, which is certain to impair the mental and physical vigor necessary to every human being. To-day even our farmers are not contented with their farms. The love out-door recreation, unfortunately, is not possessed by everyone; yet nature has made it a law that everyone is in need mentally and physically of relaxation, in the open air. And in these times of dollar-chasing, many of the most vital necessities of a normal human life are being neglected."
"It is unquestionably true that nearness to nature has an elevating influence upon heart and character. The real worth and genuineness of the human heart are measured best by its readiness to submit to the influence of nature and to appreciate the goodness of the Supreme power who is its creator. This is the central point of my philosophy of life. No matter how wonderful the progress of the future may be, the standard virtues of independence, industry, honesty and patriotism can never be improved. As long as the world lasts they will be the basis of true national greatness and prosperity."

Do not discourage either girl or boy in the matter of taking pride in their personal appearance. No matter if they overdo a little in their "salad" days, time and developed taste will tone it down. There are so many dirty, slipshod men in the world—men who before marriage were quite passable, as to cleanliness but who allow themselves to degenerate into "slouches"—that it seems a duty we owe the boys to impress upon them early the value of neatness, orderliness, and a due regard for the boy. No dainty woman likes a dirty man, even though it be her husband.—Commoner.

A Scientific Wonder.

The cures that stand to its credit make Bucklen's Arnica Salve scientific wonder. It cured E. R. Mulford, lecturer for the Patrons of Husbandry, Waynesboro, Pa. of a distressing case of Piles. It heals the worst burns, sores, boils, ulcers, cuts, wounds, chilblains and salt rheum. 25 cts. at all druggists.

Virginia-Carolina Fertilizers
If you want to see dollars grow, feed your fields with Virginia-Carolina Fertilizers. They will increase your yields per acre, and thus bring down the cost of production, even if you use fewer tons and less labor. We have thousands of strong testimonials from farmers who have tried other makes of fertilizers and assert that Virginia-Carolina Fertilizers are by far the best. They will give you crops that will make more money for you. Buy no other, even if some dealer endeavors to get you to buy some "cheap" brand just because he may make a little more profit on that. Of course, that would be to his interest—NOT YOURS.

No More Special Trains.
General Manager Nichols, of the Carolina and Northwestern railroad, in an interview published in the Yorkville, S. C., Enquirer, states that the extra passenger trains run each summer to accommodate travel to the Blowing Rock country will not be put on this year owing to recent action of the Legislature in making the passenger rate 2 1/2 cents. "We are up against a hard proposition," said Mr. Nichols, "and one we can hardly see light ahead in."
And so it goes along. All the lesser roads are up against the same proposition.

The entire section about Blowing Rock and Lenoir must suffer. The farmers who find a ready market at the summer hotels for their chickens, eggs, vegetables, etc., will suffer from the effects of the law because there will not be such a demand for their produce. A certain Kansas school-boy was called up one day by the teacher and asked what excuse he had for placing a bent pin on the seat that was afterward occupied for about half a second by a fellow pupil. The convicts now employed on the Jefferson road will when that road is completed be transferred to the Sparta road.—Wilkesboro Patriot.

Torture By Savages.

"Speaking of the torture to which some of the savage tribes in the Philippines subject their captives, reminds me of the intense suffering I endured for three months from inflammation of the kidneys," says W. It was reported from Vermont some days ago that young coniferous trees to the number of 1,600,000 were sacrificed to the Christmas tree market from that State alone last year.—two cents apiece having been paid mountain farmers and their children for getting them, and it was said that the devastation would be worse this year. A dispatch from Maine published yesterday said that some $30,000 had been realized by farmers of that State this season from the same source. If the cutting of these young trees were pursued intelligently and with discrimination there would be nothing to grieve over, but the chances are in most cases that it has been a ruthless slashing conducted by the farmboys very largely.—Springfield Republican.
