The Taft Programme.

In his inaugural address President Taft declared that the chief reason for such an address "is to give a summary outline of the main policies of the new administration so far as they can be anticipated." The summary of the main policies laid down by Mr. Taft in his address may be cited as follows:

The maintenance and enforcement of the reforms initiated by his predecessor, Mr. Roosevelt.

Relief of the railroads from certain restrictions of the anti-trust law.

Legislation to prevent excessive issues of bonds and stocks by companies owning and operating inter-state commerce railroads.

Tariff revision at an extra session of Congress—the measure of protection to be in the difference between the cost of production in the United States and the cost of production abroad.

A graduated inheritance tax if the tariff on imports does not produce, with the revenue from other sources, sufficient revenue for the needs of the government.

Laws which shall secure the conservation of the natural resources of the country, so far as they may be within the jurisdiction of the Federal government.

An army and navy strong enough for the national defense and the exercise of our influence in international matters.

The prevention of humiliating prohibitions, because of race or religion, against native or naturalized citizens of the United States sojourning temporarily in foreign countries.

The prevention of outbursts of race feeling among Americans against foreigners of whatsoever nationality who have a treaty right to pursue lawful business and to be protected against lawless assaults or injury.

Legislation placing in the hands of the Federal Executive the means of enforcing the treaty rights of aliens in the courts of the Federal government.

A change in our monetary and banking laws so as to secure greater elasticity in the forms of currency available for trade.

The establishment of postal savings banks.

Free trade between the United States and the Philippines, with the exception of certain limitations on imports of sugar and tobacco.

The use of mail subsidies to establish direct lines of steamships between North and South America.

The construction of the Panama Canal.

Promotion of good feeling between the South and the other sections of the country. No interference with the election laws of Southern States not in conflict with the Fifteenth amendment. No appointment of negroes to office in communities in which the race feeling is so wide spread and acute as to interfere with the facility with which the local government business can be done.

Legislation making the government liable to its employes for injuries sustained in its employment.

The formulation in a statute of the conditions under which a temporary restraining order ought to issue in industrial disputes.—Statesville Landmark.

Remembering what happened to Fairbanks because of a few cocktails we are surprised at Roosevelt's temerity in toting a jug of corn whiskey back with him from his pilgrimage to Lincoln's birthplace.—Wilmington Star.

Philippine Progress.

New York Sun.
The following remark in answer to the familiar question, "What business has America in the Philippines?" is given in the Atlantic by W. Cameron Forbes, Vice Governor of the islands:

We have completed the separation of church and State, having out from their religious orders their large agricultural properties which are now administered by the government for the benefit of the tenants.

We have established a complete new system of auditing and accounting.

We have placed our civil administration on a strictly self-supporting basis, receiving no aid whatever from the United States government, except in so far as it has elected to help us in charting the coasts for naval purposes. This charting, which is being done at a rapid rate, is at the joint expense of the insular and national government.

We have established a uniform and stable currency on a gold basis.

We have established schools throughout the archipelago, teaching upward of half a million children and we find that the Philippines are eager to learn and are rapidly learning the English language.

We have started a general and thorough system of road construction and maintenance in which the insular, provincial and municipal officials co-operate.

We have established the policy of constructing all public buildings as well as bridges and wharves of durable material, preferably reinforced concrete, in order that our work may endure.

We have given the Philippines almost complete autonomy in their municipalities.

We may not as yet have given independence to the Philippines, but we are certainly giving independence to the Filipinos.

In addition to these ten achievements, Mr. Forbes continues, there are the improvements made in the sanitary conditions. The leprosy is now concentrated on one island, where they will in the course of time, die out, leaving the islands perfectly free from that taint. Smallpox has been robbed of its terrors; the whole population is now vaccinated and instead of losing hundreds of thousands of lives by this disease the loss is so small as to be no longer a factor in the problem.

Under the prescription adopted by the board of health bubonic plague has been successfully kept out of the islands and recently several threatened invasions of that disease from Hong Kong have been warded off. Cholera, while appearing and reappearing from time to time is not allowed to gain the headway which it had before and is no longer a menace to those who observe the simple rules of health.

Soldier Balks Death Plot.

It seemed to J. A. Stone, a civil war veteran, of Kemp, Texas, that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. "I contracted a stubborn cough that stuck to me, in spite of all remedies, for years. My weight ran down to 130 pound. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which restored my health completely. I now weigh 180 pounds." For Severe colds, obstinate Coughs, Hemorrhoids, Asthma, and to prevent Pneumonia, it's universal, 50 cents and $1. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Will Teddy Come Back?

The latest cantinuity bowler to set the cold-shoulder angle with dire predictions is no less than Prof. Frederick Starr, of that great renegade of scientific freaks, the University of Chicago. After having traversed the dark regions of Africa, suffered the pangs of tropical fevers no less than ten times, as well as the thrill of meeting face to face the denizens of the great unexplored, Prof. Starr is inspired to warn Col. Roosevelt: "Theodore Roosevelt will never return to the United States alive if he carries out his announced intentions in exploring the dark regions of Africa in quest of big game." That is the sum and substance of his prophecy.

In the opinion of the learned professor of astronomy, it is not the arrow that fleth in noonday day will rob our ex-President of his life, but the lurid pestilence that walketh in darkness. We fear the professor is not very familiar with the manner of man under discussion, else he would know that against noonday arrows, pestilence and darkness and the like, Mr. Roosevelt is immune. We are not the least bit alarmed over the fate of the Colonel. When the furor is over, when the reverberations of the ex-President's rapid-fire guns have died away, and the stillness of the African jungle is once more restored, we are sure he will come back to us with the same old resolute smile, and the same unimpaired spirit. As the Baltimore Sun observes: "He is able to take care of himself in Africa or anywhere else—and as to fevers, his normal temperature is always so high that the African variety would recognize the folly of attempting to increase it."—Charlotte News.

Conservative Legislature.

The Legislature has adjourned and the plaudits of the people—plaudits not given, as of late heretofore, to the act of adjournment but to the Legislature itself. Very seldom indeed have the people of North Carolina been quite so well served by their representatives. The Legislature, meeting at a time when the State and the country sought rest after agitation, and when the business world was recuperating with diffidence from an upset, acted the part that became it best. Conservative counsels prevailed throughout; where decision was not easy, as in the matter of anti-trust legislation, conservatism received the benefit of the doubt. Appropriations for some purposes might have been a trifle more liberal. The good measures, altogether failing of passage because few after the bill to create a State highway commission went through during the last hours as the result of brilliant advocacy, though with only $5,000 appropriation, and when provision was made for investigation of the Torrens land title system.

May the Legislature which shall follow after show themselves equally wise.—Charlotte Observer.

Revels At Cold Steel.

"Your only hope," said three doctors to Mrs. M. E. Fisher, Detroit Mich, suffering from severe rectal trouble, lies in an operation. "Then I used Dr. King's New Life Pills," she writes, "and I was wholly cured." They prevent Appendicitis, cure Constipation, and Headache. 25c. at all druggists.

Presents For the Rapaxette.

Statesville Landmark.
The day before his term expired President Roosevelt received a gold-headed, jeweled hunting knife, a present from his old friend, Justice James W. Gerard, of the Supreme Court of New York. The end of the handle is an eagle head of solid gold, with eyes of rubies. The hilt is of beads of hours in solid gold handsomely carved. The cost of arms of the United States and the monogram of President Roosevelt are worked on the handle. The gold is intermingled with platinum, upon the bright surface of which are hunting scenes and figures of native Africans. It is estimated that the knife cost $1,250. The blade is of the finest steel, upon which is inscribed: "Presented to Theodore Roosevelt by his friend, James W. Gerard."

The same day a string of 35 diamonds and an illuminated and embossed friendship book were presented to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt as a token of the esteem of 38 of her friends prominent in society in Washington. While the cost of the string of diamonds is unknown, some estimate of its value may be secured from the knowledge that the contributions ranged from $50 to $100 from each of the 38 donors. The center gem weighs two carats, and the other 34 are graduated down to quarter-carat diamonds at either side of the small clasp. The luminosity of the necklace is heightened by a platinum rim.

NOTICE.

Watch Repairing.

More good watches are ruined in the hands of inexperienced work men than in any other way. A watch is too costly an article to entrust to any one who may claim the title of Watchmaker.

During many years of business I have always given the closest attention to the careful repairing and adjusting of watches brought to me and have bought none other than the best material. My charges are never excessive; only enough to cover the cost of the work; neither do unnecessary work nor charge for work I do not execute. Don't wait until your watch refuses to run before having it cleaned, adjusted and freshly oiled.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidneys refuse to filter the blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, back ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and soaking pains; it cleanses and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar tin bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.
