—Don't forget to count your cash next Wednesday, as that is the day on which yo "property is reckoned for taxes for the year 1910. It is a habit with some people to be poorer on the first day of June than any other day in the year, and that is the day with them above all others on which their property decreases to the minimum price.

—Yesterday, Wednesday, was the anniversary of the 82nd birth day day of James H. Taylor, Esq., and in honor of that event his daughter, Mrs. John Stanbury, spread a sumptuous dinner which was partaken of by the "grand old man" and a number of near relatives and friends. We trust that our old friend may live to see the return of many more aniversaries of the same kind ere he is called to his last reward.

—F. A. Linney says that one of the best remedies he has tried for sheep-killing dogs is to lay a piece of cheese by the carcass of a sheep that has been killed by dogs, and he says that when the hungry cur returns for a second bite and finds fresh meat and cheese both awaiting him he is so overcome with joy that death results in a few minutes. He has tried this remedy on four within the past few days, and in each instance it worked like a charm. It may be he does a little "doctoring" on the cheese, and if he does, who blames him?

—Rev. J. J. L. Sherwood of Granite passed through Cove on Monday en route to his old home on Cove Creek, where he will remain a few days. During his vacation, he is laboring in that section that generates twenty hours from a small grain of truth and at an expense of from one to two cents the framing for an ordinary family can be done, and the nicest spot about the premises, even under a shade tree in the yard, may be selected for the purpose. Certainly the lowest cost to secure one, and they will sell almost on sight.

I have read the history of all denominations and have never seen any man's or church's faith that held that the universe was a lie, or any part of it, and that it could be upheld by a hypocrite's life. This is the worst shape of ignorance I have ever seen. God is the base and creator of the Universe; the Universe is the system of all created things. All creation believes in the Universe, although they believe it came by chance. The Psalmist David says that hell is not a covering, and all things are naked before the eyes of Him with whom we have to do. Our thoughts are even known of God before they are formed into words. No longer even dream of hypocrisy eluding the great Judge of all the earth. Stand back.—A. J. Bonkell.

In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
