Rev. L. B. Henson

The Democratic Congressional Convention held at Statesville last Friday was probably the most important one ever held in the State since the Civil War. The proceedings were most interesting and profitable. It was a grand success in every respect. The delegates were well represented from every part of the State. The Convention was held in a grand hall, and the atmosphere was most pleasant. The speakers were all of high caliber, and their addresses were most interesting. The Convention was a grand success in every respect. It was a grand success in every respect. It was a grand success in every respect.

The outlook which occurred in the 19th Inst. and the Convention held at Statesville is to our opinion is to be most explored. The candidates—Sherris Jones, Liddy, Co. and others are all well versed in the political game with honor to their State and themselves and all hands are following in the convention up to the 20th Inst. when Mr. L. B. Henson from the front. The battle is continued on the remaining candidates and the 21st Inst. was reached, when the convention seeing a nomination was impossible, adjourned to meet again in Hickory on Aug. 25. We are always sorry to see such conflicts for it never smacks of good for the party, and we are of the belief that the best thing to do would be for each of the gentlemen to graciously withdraw from the field and let the nomination go to some other man at the next convention. Of course this might not suit all the adherents to the different candidates, but for harmony in the Democratic work, it would certainly be the proper thing to do.
