

Obituary.

On Friday, Sept. 1, after seven years more than the allotted term score and ten, there passed rest Aunt Lottie Danner, at her home on Laurel Fork. For a year and a half she had been ill, and in pain which grew worse as she wore on; but bearing it with fortitude. She endured until at the end unconsciousness mercifully relieved her suffering. The date of her birth was March 27, 1839. She was formerly a member of the Brushy Fork Baptist church, but in later years had transferred to the Shulls Mills church. Her long life of service and benefit to others in her capacity as a general nurse endeared her to many, whose gratitude was earned by her cheerfulness and patience in that difficult work. There was never a case of sickness around for which her help, always given wherever possible, was not in demand. Her simple lives in the hearts of our sorrowing children, and scores of grand-children and great-grand-children. She lived to see the fourth generation. At the time of the Civil War her husband had obeyed the call of duty, and she was left alone through those troublesome times to care for and protect her little children, of whom there were then three. Her bravery and devotion in this emergency is but an example of the lifelong care and devotion she bestowed upon them all. "Her children rise up and call her blessed."

FRIEND.

An Accommodating Preacher.

Speaking of folks being late getting to church, Mr. I. E. Bullard says he remembers hearing a preacher take a second text and preach a second sermon just because one man and woman were late. Just as the service was over and the congregation came out of the school house, where the services was held, a man and his wife drove up to the place of worship. The preacher went to them and told them how sorry he was they were late and told them if the congregation was willing to go back in the house and listen he would take another text and preach another sermon. The congregation agreed to do that and the preacher took another text and preached the second time.—Lumberton Robinsonian.
