Get Thoroughly Well To Avoid Tuberculosis.

Get thoroughly well of "Flu" before going back to work, is the advice that the State Board of health is giving all influenza patients. The Board feels that unless the people are made to realize the dangers that often follow influenza, that many an unsuspected case of tuberculosis will develop. Not only weeks but months are sometimes required for a complete recovery from influenza. As a matter of fact, if the lungs have become involved, the period of recovery as well as the treatment should be essentially the same as for a case of lung tuberculosis. Not to take proper time for full recuperation frequently awakens slumbering tubercular processes, and leads to serious active cases.

According to the case-histories of tubercular patients, a large number of them date the beginning of their illness to a case of grippe or influenza.

There are three signs, says the Board, which call for an immediate examination of the lungs. The first is that "tired, worn-out feeling," the second is a "cough or cold that hangs on," and the third is a rise of temperature, however slight, in the afternoon. Any of these signs should demand ready attention and prompt examination by a good physician. If the lungs are found free from tuberculosis, every effort should be made to keep them so. This can be done by right living, good food and plenty of fresh air. Cough medicines are not only worthless at this point, but deplete the patient by making him lose valuable time in taking the proper treatment for tuberculosis. If the lungs are found infected, proper treatment should be taken at a sanatorium or at home under the direction of a good physician.

Blowing Rock Items.

Mr. Chas. E. Hagaman, who has been teaching near Newbern, N. C. has accepted a position with the Boone Fork Lumber Co. at Shulls Mills.

Miss Bessie Ezell, the popular teacher at Blowing Rock, spent last Saturday and Sunday with home folks at Shulls Mills.

Mr. Jonathan Walters visited at Shulls Mills last Saturday. He received a letter from his grandson, Dewey Walters, who is in Germany. Dewey was fortunate enough to have escaped wounds in the great conflict.

Mr. H. C. Hayes and wife motored to Boone last Sunday to visit their daughter, Dorothy who is at the Appalachian Training School.

The mail from Lenoir has been brought in a car last week, arriving here before night.

Mr. Henry Coffey motored to Hickory one day last week. He reports that the roads are in good shape for the time of year.

Rev. R. D. Cross filed his appointments at Blowing Rock last Saturday, Sunday, and Sunday night.

Miss Ellen Coffey is able to be out the street, after having been confined to bed with "flu" for a week.

Training School Items.

During the past week the following was the programme at the daily chapel exercise: On Tuesday the Superintendent spoke on his school experience, of which he has not a few; Miss Prestwood gave quite a number of entertaining readings on Thursday; Prof. Downum on Thursday spoke on the present status of the Peace Conference, some of its features, and the hope thus inspired; Prof. Stedman gave an interesting talk on his experiences at the A. & E. College during the the past summer on Friday; Saturday Miss Lillie Campbell entertained the audience with some witty readings, which were well received as were Miss Prestwood's on Tuesday.

The school wagon force is putting in quite a nice supply of wood at the School. A large portion has not been needed thus far owing to the mild weather, but February may increase the value of the wood pile. It is well to be prepared.

Sunday the 2nd of February was a clear day, so the groundhog certainly saw his shadow, hence the believer in this indicator of the weather will either be able to say, "I told you so," or will have a chance to show his skill in explaining why the sign did not hit.

We of the School sincerely sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Spaulding in the death of their little girl, Danford, on Saturday night. She had influenza and was thought to be better, but complications developed which were too severe for the little constitution. She was between ten and eleven years old. They bore her little form to the cemetery in the dusk of the quiet Sabbath evening after the sun had sunk behind the western mountain and laid it to rest till the Resurrection, when little Danford will come forth with the good and pure of all time to spend eternity with her Lord. The family and other friends as well will greatly miss the little girl going about in her sweet quiet way, always with a smile. No mother is more attentive to her children than was this little girl to her two younger brothers, who seemed to trust her implicitly. The memory of her smiles and sweet ways should lure her loved ones and friends onward to that Great World of joy and smiles.

Items From Valle Crucis.

There are no new cases of influenza in this vicinity just now.

Misses Mary Lizzie Taylor and Wilhelmina Shull have gone to Raleigh to attend Peace Institute this winter.

School is progressing nicely under the leadership of Miss Mae Thomson. Miss Anna Mae Shipley has lately become one of the faculty.

Mrs. Claude Mast, with her little daughter has returned from the Globe, where she has been visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Lund from Orange, New Jersey, who have been visiting relatives here, have returned home.

Miss Mary Shull is right sick at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Taylor entertained a number of their friends and relatives Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mast, who got their house burned last fall, have moved into their new one. They were welcomed by an old-fashioned "house warming."

Mrs. Elbert Norris Dies of Flu.

Mrs. Elbert Norris, of Route 1, daughter of Mr. W. L. Coffey, of Sands, died at her home last Saturday, flu being the cause of the death of the splendid lady. Interment was made in the cemetery at Fair View church Sunday afternoon, her pastor, the Rev. Mr. Yount, assisted by Rev. H. L. Powell, conducting the funeral. A husband and five small children are left.

Watauga Boy Writes from France.

EDITOR WATAUGA DEMOCRAT:
I am living in a beautiful little town on the Seine River. I am well and having an easy time, for I am working in a telephone office. I have been in France almost six months, but hope my time will soon come to sail for the U. S. A. I think we will sail within the next sixty days.

I belong to the 81st Division, better known as the "Wild Cats." Everybody knows us because we wear a red cat on our shoulder. I was on the Western Verdun front when the last gun was fired. Perhaps the most internationally interesting peace celebration was that in Verdun on Monday. The day opened with a tremendous barrage by the Americans all along the line north and east of Verdun, which was answered by the Germans. The fighting had been heavy for several days and on Saturday night the Germans had sent over five aeroplanes to bomb the already shattered town. Yet by 10 o'clock on Monday a crowd of soldiers from the underground city and nearby camps, including French, English, American and Senegalese had gathered in the city. Shortly before 11 o'clock the men formed ranks and marched to the Cathedral, British, French and Americans marched side by side. On the stroke of eleven the cathedral doors were thrown open and the bell tolled for the first time since 1914. The crowd rushed in, all taking a turn at the bell rope. - A short service led by Oscar G. Manyer of the Y. M. C. A. and the rest of the day bands played and soldiers paraded through the city, but there were no spectators as the city has virtually no civilian population.

An odd feature of the peace celebration on the frontlines near Verdun was that the Germans as well as the Americans celebrated. All along the allied lines bonfires, rockets and singing groups attested the joy of the soldiers in the victory they had won, and at numerous places the Germans also sent up rockets and lighted flares. Will close by saying I hope to see you all soon.

FORD THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Owners of Ford cars are advised to be cautious of "counterfeit" or parts not made by the Ford Motor Company. If your car needs adjustment or repairing, take it to the authorized Ford dealer in your locality, where you will find a reliable service station, with the complete mechanical equipment and the necessary tools to give the highest quality Ford service obtainable—for the standard Ford prices.

All the Ford parts used by Ford dealers are manufactured and supplied by the Ford Motor Company. If your car requires replacement of any part or parts, is in need of repairs—don't experiment; don't waste time and money trying to "do it yourself." It is one thing to understand and operate a car; it is another thing to make reliable repairs to a car. When anything is wrong with your Ford make a "bee line" or telephone the authorized Ford dealer. We are ready to give you prompt attention. So take your Ford car where satisfaction and economy are sure.
