LIQUOR IS BARRED FROM TERRITORIAL WATERS OF U. S. BY NEW REGULATIONS

The treasury tossed on the intercepted, also, tonight its new regulations carrying out the supreme court decision...

other hand there are indications that both the British and the Japanese companies will conform to the regulations...

The regulations, treasury officials explained, place many duties on the local officers of the federal revenue service...

Specifically the regulations provide: "No merchant vessel, domestic or foreign, may lawfully carry as cargo within the territorial waters of the United States...

As regards the exemptions, according to the regulations, the amount of medicinal liquor which any craft may possess in American waters...

When you haven't time to come, just telephone what you want. It will be there in a jiffy.
