Bank deposits in Anson County, N. C., have increased in the last 10 years from $615,000 to $2,100,000. The increase was due largely to the better farming, for there are only about 300 persons in the entire county engaged in manufacturing plants. Of the 10,000 farms in the United States where the principal interest is in farming, Anson is the first to employ 10 years of farm and home demonstration work to the same two agents for the entire period. The improvements brought about as a result of this decade of work for better farms and better homes indicate the value of continuous well-planned effort.

Ten years ago the farm income came almost entirely from cotton, and about 50 per cent of the improved land was devoted to that crop. Most of the remainder was planted to corn which was used on the farms. The little live-stock to be found in the county was poorly bred and unprofitable. Clover and other soil improving crops were almost unknown. Now, as a result of the introduction of better varieties, the use of better seed, and the adoption of improved methods of culture, the yields of these two crops have been greatly increased. Ten years ago the soy bean was a curiosity in the county. In 1921, nearly 750 acres were grown for grain and 993 acres for hay. Similar results have been reported for a number of other crops. When the county agent began his work the pure-bred animals in the county could have been numbered on the fingers of two hands. At the present time there are more than 200 pure bred beef bulls, 3 dairy bulls, 14 rams (all of one breed), and so many pure bred hogs that a census would be required to determine the number. There are now 19 sires when a few years ago there was none and farmers are talking a great deal of interest in feeding problems.

Many kinds of agricultural improvement works are going on, but much was carried on.

Much of the home demonstration work, which was begun a little later than the farm demonstration work, has been centered on boys' and girls' clubs and canning work in which the farm women have taken an increasing interest. The home demonstration agent has increased the interest of women in gardening, food preservation, household management, clothing, millinery, nutrition, home dairying, and poultry production. The whole county has been benefited because of the wide interests that have been created and the desire to go ahead and make even more improvement in the next decade.
