Local Affairs

Mrs. John H. Norris is expected to return to her home this week from Charlotte, Gastonia and Lenoir, where she has been visiting with relatives for several weeks.

Mr. Foley Moretz and family of Meat Camp will occupy the new building, being erected by Attorney F. A. Linney on North Water Street, and now nearly completed.

Mr. James H. Council of Roanoke with two lady friends, Miss Lula Waldrop of Hendersonville and Miss Josephine Nichols of Asheville has been on a short visit to his parents Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Council of Boone.

Mr. D. J. Cottrell, one of the city's busy merchants, is erecting a 20 foot addition to his already large mercantile establishment. The annex will reach the entire length of the building and will be used largely for groceries.

Miss Ruth Coffey spent the past week end with Miss Carrie Hester, who is taking a few weeks rest at her home on New River, which had been closed for some time. She is quite a busy young lady and deserves the rest she is taking.

Rev. Mr. Woosley the new pastor of the Boone charge preached his first sermon in the Methodist Church last Sunday. Despite the downpour of rain a fairly good congregation was present, and his sermon, though brief, was well received by his hearers.

We are grateful for a recent big order for commercial printing from Mr. L. S. Isaacs of the Braemar Supply Co., Braemar, Tenn. We get regular business from this firm and Mr. Isaacs says the reason is they know a good thing when they find it. Thanks.

Pastor Woosley and family were given a pounding at the parsonage last Friday evening. A large per cent of the members were present and a nice supply of groceries, etc. were deposited in the dining room, which was much appreciated by the minister and his wife.

More houses in Boone are one of our many needs. There is hardly a day passes but that people who are desirous of locating here are turned away because they are unable to buy or rent property. As soon as a house is vacated, which is seldom, there are numbers of applications for it.

Messrs. W. L. Haynes, Tom Moody and a Mr. Cannon, all of Coshocton, Ohio, are spending a few days with home folks and friends in Watauga. Mr. Moody was the purchaser of the Roy Haynes property that was sold under mortgage last Monday. Glad to see the boys and to know they are making good in the Buckeye State.

Mrs. J. S. Stanbury of Boone is off for a visit to her daughter Mrs. Esther Boone, at Franklinton, N. C. One of the many pleasures of her visit it will be to see for the first time her little grandson, Mrs. Boone's boy, now more than a month old. Mrs. Stanbury has been in rather feeble health of late and it is hoped that her outing will do her much good.

Mrs. T. P. Adams of Silverstone, a fine local correspondent was in to see the Democrat Monday, and although she is a very busy lady farmer she has agreed to furnish the Democrat each week the news from that good section of the county. We want one in every locality in the county. We now have a number of which we are proud, but there's room for still more.

Miss J. R. Field, who will be kindly remembered in Boone, after ten years of work for Christ and humanity at Glendale Springs Ashe county has accepted similar work at Bat Cave, N. C. and will leave this week. Rev. W. R. Savage has been appointed in charge of the Glendale work and will live in the Mission House there, but will have the oversight of the Episcopal work at Beaver Creek and Todd until the new minister comes in early summer.

The board of County Commissioners and education were in session Monday and much routine business was transacted.

Mrs. Mack Luttrell, convalescing from a recent operation in a Johnson City hospital is spending the week with her husband at the Critcher Hotel.

Armistice day, being a national holiday the depot, banks, and many other business houses will close on Saturday the 10th, as the 11th comes on Sunday. Boone and Watauga will we presume, be well represented at the big celebration at North Wilkesboro on that day.

Three trucks, loaded with kraut, from the local factory, left for the Charlotte market early in the week, this being the first shipment made. The kraut was packed in 70 pound kits. An expert canner is here and the machinery for this part of the big industry has been installed and is working perfectly. A vast amount of the output will be packed in three pound cans, the most convenient size for the retail trade.

WORTH WHILE CLUB

The Worth While Club met at the home of Mrs. J. C. Cook. The house was beautifully decorated with cranthemums and halloween decorations.

A large number of the members were present at the meetings and it was one of the most interesting in the history of the club.

This being the meeting after the annual district meeting of the State Federation of Clubs with which the Worth While Club has now become federated by having been admitted to membership at the last district meeting, and is now fully recognized as a member of the State Federation of clubs in district number two.

No literary program had been arranged for this meeting. The afternoon was given over to reports from the delegates and other members of the club who attended the district meeting at Mount Airy last week. These ladies were Mrs. J. M. Moretz, Mrs. Cicero Greer, Mrs. L. L. Bingham, Mrs. J. F. Moore, Mrs. Will Trivett, Mrs. W. G. Hartzog and Mrs. J. T. C. Wright. After devotional exercises by Mrs. P. Hagaman the following reports were given:

General Impressions of the District Meeting by Mrs. J. M. Moretz, Mrs. Cicero Greer, Mrs. Will Trivett and Mrs. J. F. Moore.

Inspiration from district meeting by Mrs. W. G. Hartzog.

Report of Mrs. Palmer Jerman's address by Mrs. J. T. C. Wright.

General talk on meeting by Mrs. L. L. Bingham.

The delegates of the Worth While Club reported this as the only one to become federated with the State Federation of Clubs from this district this year. District number two comprises Kernersville, Winston-Salem, Elkin, North Wilkesboro, Mount Airy and Boone.

The following business was transacted:

The club voted to help the needy in every possible way. We hope much good may come from this resolution. Many of the kind hearted ladies present gave of their means to help two little girls with the necessary clothing for this winter.

Tuesday afternoon was set for the digging and storing of the roots from the flower garden.

Other business was also discussed. A most interesting Halloween contest was entered into and the members were blind-folded and kept busy trying to make a halloween face at the point it should be on the drawing of a large pumpkin. Mrs. Arthur Hamby proved to be the most perfect blind artist.

Delicious refreshments were served in a charming manner by the hostess.

The next meeting of the Worth While Club will be at the home of Mrs. Bob Bingham on Friday November the sixteenth.
