

Boem Uncle John

Jed Hacker is a busy bee— if ever there was one—whose soul-devourin' aim in life is, gettin' somethin' done. He sez he craves the quiet hour to sorto rest his mind—but he's afraid to slacken power and, mebbe lag behind! We never see him loiter none, nor loafin' any place,—too doggone constant on the run, to stop an' wash his face! Of course, such unremittin' toil augments a feller's pile, but, what's the good of riches when ye ain't got time to smile? I envy not my neighbor who succeeds as he deserves—but the keenest sort of misery comes along with bustled nerves! The way I figger Hacker's case, he'll never shift his gear, until he's part-way up the stairs to—where he goes from here,—an' when he grabs his harp of gold an' tries to strike the tune, he'll realize the handicap of gettin' there too soon!

WHOLE BODY SEEMED IN ONE AWFUL PAIN

Morse, La.—Mrs. L. P. Lambert, who has been a popular school-teacher here for several years, recently told a visitor of her interesting experiences with Cardui.

"Just before my . . . came on," said Mrs. Lambert, "I would ache all over. My feet, my toes, my arms, hands, head—my whole body seemed to be in one awful pain. I would grow so nervous that I could not hold a cup in my hand. My husband would have to hold my coffee for me to drink. Last fall I was in such a bad condition that I had to spend about three days in bed every month. It seemed to me that I was on my last go-round."

Then one day, said Mrs. Lambert, she happened to read about Cardui and the experiences of some women who had been helped by it. "I felt that Cardui might help me if I tried it," she continued, "for I had been suffering with similar troubles to those mentioned there. I had heard of Cardui all my life and I knew many women who said they had been helped by it. The very next day I began to take it. Very soon after, I began to notice my improvement. I kept on till I felt like a different woman. I gained in weight from 98 pounds to 115 and felt better than I had in years. I took six bottles right along and found it a splendid tonic. My suffering was partly due to a run-down condition and the Cardui stimulated my appetite and helped me to gain the strength I needed. . . . I take a bottle every now and then, even now, just as a tonic to keep up my strength, but I am in better health than I have been in for years."

All druggists sell Cardui. Try it.

Eggs When You Want Eggs

Most any barn yard biddy will cackle out a few eggs in the spring and summer; but it takes a Tuxedo fed hen to sing the egg song when eggs mean money.

Start in right now feeding your hens Tuxedo Egg Mash together with Tuxedo Scratch. Give them plenty of water, grit, shell, good housing and proper care. You'll have healthy hens and healthy egg profits the year 'round.

Tuxedo Egg Mash contains no favor tainting tarrage.
