

FARM APPROPRIATION IS PROMISED BY CONGRESS

Washington, June 4.—Assurance was given by responsible leaders in congress today that they would support a recommendation to make a half billion dollars available for the stabilization of agriculture as soon as the farm relief bill, which would authorize the proposed farm board to spend that amount, is enacted into law.

Among those who expressed the hope that President Hoover would send congress an estimate for the full amount was Senator McNary of Oregon, chairman of the senate agriculture committee. He said he thought it advisable to give the board every opportunity to take the fullest advantage of the benefits intended to be provided by the relief legislation which is nearing enactment.

IN MEMORIAM

MILDRED MARCELLA COOKE
14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Len Cooke, died May 15, 1929. She is survived by her parents and four sisters, Mrs. Wm. Tunnell, Misses Bernice, Pearl and Ruby Cooke. She was a loving girl, also a devoted Christian girl, having joined the Boone Baptist church at the age of ten years. She loved her school work, and was especially talented in music, having had three years of music. She was organist for the Girls' Auxiliary and the B. Y. P. U. at the time of her death. Her friends were many, which was shown by the beautiful floral offerings and the unusually large crowd which attended her funeral.

A dear one from us has gone, why we cannot know. We, that are left, wonder why one so young, so sweet, so loving, generous and loyal, has gone on before, but we wander back over days gone by and we think of deeds, words and acts, and we find sweet memories to fill our days till we, too, pass to the "great beyond."

The Most Important Part of a Tire

IS THE PART YOU CAN'T SEE

IT IS HARD to understand why one tire is better than another, judging by looks or the first thousands of miles of service.

But after you've thumped and hammered your tires for months, the hidden part of a tire—the most important factor in determining life and mileage—then reveals its worth. It is the body, concealed under the tread, and composed of plies of cord fabric. This body absorbs the blows a tire gets. It bends millions of times, under the car's weight, to cushion your riding.

The cords, to do this, must be elastic. How many times they will flex and recover, or how far they will stretch without breaking, determines their usefulness.

In repairing all makes of tires we find that the patented cords used only in Goodyear casings outlast any other kind. By a patented process these cords—called SUPERTWIST—are twisted so that they will stretch up to 60 per cent farther before breaking. They also stretch and recover repeatedly, after the best competitive cords are lifeless.

This greater elasticity of SUPERTWIST explains (1) the longer life of Goodyear tires—their greater resistance to injury, and (2) the fact that the average well-worn Goodyear is worth retreading when another tire similarly used is broken down in the body.

See This Test at Our Store—it Proves the Case of Goodyear Tires!
