

SHORT ITEMS OF GENERAL NEWS

Some of the Outstanding Happenings of Past Week. Gathered From Everywhere, Condensed For The Busy Reader.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 30—In the most turbulent session of its 30th annual encampment, the Veterans of Foreign Wars today went on record favoring a national referendum on the 18th amendment after tabling a resolution asking for an out-and-out repeal of the dry constitutional amendment.

Helena, Mont., Aug. 30—United States Senator Thos. J. Walsh will be a candidate to succeed himself in the upper house of congress. Before leaving Helena for Washington, he sent a letter to C. P. Nevin, chairman of the Democratic state committee, in which he announced that he will file in the primaries next spring as candidate for the senate. His third term expires next year.

Moscow, Aug. 30—The Soviet government tonight accepted proposals of China for conclusion of a joint declaration for settlement of all questions arising out of the bitter dispute over control of the Chinese Eastern Railway in Manchuria. The foreign commissariat expressed willingness to abandon the Russian demand for reinstatement of the same Russian general manager of the railroad as a preliminary to discussions.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 2—William E. Brock, Chattanooga candy manufacturer, late today was appointed by Governor Henry R. Horton to fill out the unexpired term of the late United States Senator Lawrence D. Tyson, of Knoxville, who died August 24. The appointment had previously been tendered Luke Lea, Nashville newspaper publisher, but was declined. The new senator, like Tyson, is a native of North Carolina, having been born and reared in the Farmington community of Davie county.

New York, Aug. 30—An 80-story skyscraper, to tower nearly 200 feet above any existing building in Manhattan, is to be built on the site of the old Waldorf-Astoria hotel at Thirty-fourth street and Fifth avenue, former Governor Alfred E. Smith, who will head the construction company, announced today. The structure, the Empire State building, will be nearly 1,600 feet high and as estimated will cost upward of $60,000,000, Mr. Smith said. Mr. Smith said the Empire State building would be completed in about a year and a half. The building will house at one time 60,000 persons, Mr. Smith said.

Lakehurst, N. J., Sept. 1—The Graf Zeppelin sailed back to Germany today and Dr. Hugo Eckener, the man who piloted it around the world, stood quietly on the ground and watched it go. It was a curious parting, this first separation of the man and the machine which have shared so many adventures, for those who watched it seemed that of the two it was the machine which showed the greater reluctance. Having made up his mind to stay on in America for a few days and send his dirigible back under command of Captain Ernest Lehmann, Dr. Eckener stood in the morning sun by the hangar door and saw the ship depart at 7:18, with scarcely any show of emotion.

Lakehurst, N. J., Aug. 29—Sliding softly through the crack of dawn with 20,000 danger-spiked miles behind it, came the Zeppelin greyhound of the sky this morning to the finish of its round-the-world voyage, one of the most astounding human adventures since this old ball of mud first began twirling. Fifty years ago Jules Verne sat down and wrote out of his imagination the tale of Phineas Fogg circling the earth in 80 days, and readers of the preposterous yarn wagged their heads and said of the author, "The man's daffy." But this morning millions of men and women blinked their eyes in the early light of the day, peered upward at the sky and saw a reality that made Verne's fiction very tame. There floated high above the towering spires of New York town the gigantic sack of gas that had carried fifty men and one woman around the world in 21 days of which 12 were actual sailing days. This breaks all records for circumnavigation of the globe.

Graphic accounts of the massacre at Hebron Saturday in which three score Jews, including 15 American students were killed in the sudden attack by maddened Arab mobs, was given Thursday by travelers arriving at Cairo from Palestine. Their narratives described horrifying scenes when the horde of natives, mostly from outlying villages, descended upon the town, broke into large Jewish houses, slaughtered all the inhabitants and mutilated the bodies. Not even children escaped the fury of the assault, before the authorities succeeded in restoring quiet, the attacking bands of Arabs had grown to about 5,000 and had on its pillaging way through a large part of the Jewish section. It was not until Sunday morning that representatives were sufficiently successful to admit a survey of the situation and to begin the task of collecting the dead. In one house alone nineteen bodies were found. In some cases bodies were hanging from windows; in others they had been mercilessly thrown into the street. In practically every instance death was caused by swords or knives.

She's Catch It Then—"My dear young lady," said the clergyman, in a pained tone as he listened to an extremely modern young woman tear off some of the very latest jazz on the piano, "have you ever heard of the Ten Commandments?" "Whistle a few bars," said the young lady, "and I think I can follow you."
