

Mrs. Caraway the First Active Woman Senator

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 13.—Mrs. Hattie Caraway was appointed by Governor F. Hall today to succeed her late husband Thaddeus H. Caraway, as junior Senator from Arkansas.

By virtue of the appointment which became effective immediately, she will hold the office until January 12, when a special election will be held to fill Senator Caraway's unexpired term.

It appeared likely that Mrs. Caraway would be nominated for the office by the democratic state central committee, which meets here December 1. Nomination by the committee would be tantamount to election since there is little likelihood that the republican committee will make a nomination.

Mrs. Caraway has indicated she would accept the nomination. She did not, however, make a statement regarding her appointment by the governor.

Senator Caraway died a week ago after an operation and a brief illness. He was 58 years old and a veteran member of the old solid south democratic political school.

The appointment of Mrs. Caraway who, like her husband, is a staunch democrat, will maintain the democratic and republican equality in the Senate. Each party now has 47 seats of that house while the farm labor has one, and another is vacant.

First Active Woman Senator

Man's last political stronghold, the United States Senate—was pierced with the appointment of Mrs. Thaddeus H. Caraway to succeed her husband as senator from Arkansas.

Only for one day was another woman taken a place in this august masculine assembly. Mrs. Rebecca Latimer Felton of Georgia, at the age of 87, accepted appointment in 1922, served 24 hours, and never cast a vote.

Mrs. Felton, who was known as the "grand old lady of Georgia," was appointed to the Senate as a courtesy. She was chosen by Governor Hardwick in 1922 to fill a vacancy created by the death of Senator Thomas E. Watson. Before she took her oath, however, the state had elected Walter F. George in a special election.

George withdrew his credentials for one day that Mrs. Felton could receive the honor of being the first woman senator.

Mrs. Caraway therefore, will be the first active woman senator.

Bishop Cites Need of Woodrow Wilson's Aid

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 12.—"No the Eighteenth Amendment is not going to be repealed, don't everybody know that?" declared Bishop Edwin Mounzon before the conference assembly tonight in anniversary of the board of temperance and social service of the western North Carolina conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Continuing, he said:

"I speak at this time not only as a citizen of the United States, not only as a minister and one of the general superintendents of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, but as a voice of this church, knowing I have a great church behind me. That was an ominous thing and utterly out of line with American principle when citizenship was denied Professor McIntosh of Yale because he chose to serve God rather than man.

"Tonight while Dr. Taylor was speaking I found myself saying over and over: 'Woodrow Wilson, the world has need of thee: need of thee grows with passing of the years.

"Methodist preachers never have voted for liquor and never will. They have always preached against it, and always will. Any political party that writes a wet plank in its platform, we will vote against that platform. And if any party writes in a dry plank and the candidate votes against it, we will denounce that candidate. I have not the remotest idea any party will put a wet plank in its platform or will put forward a candidate favoring a wet plank. I suggest to the great party of the south, Woodrow Wilson's party, my father's party, to put a plank in its platform governing law enforcement and the party will swing the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific."

LADIES NIGHT WITH CIVITAN

—Banner Elk, N. C., Nov. 13.—The Civitan Club at Banner Elk held its regular monthly meeting last evening at the Banner Elk Hotel.

It was ladies night and about fifty members and their guests were present at the dinner, served by Miss Fanny Lowe, and at the meeting afterward when five new members were initiated and received into the membership of the Civitan Club.

A feature of the evening was the music furnished by the Banner Elk stringed orchestra with the addition of four performers from Valle Ceduz under the direction of Mr. Thomas Vinson.

No Political Truce to be Made by the Democrats

No political truce and no yielding to political expediency are the guiding posts set for the democrats in the next house by Representative Garner.

The democratic speakership choice said President Hoover's proposal to the coming congress would be considered on their merits. They will be neither automatically condemned or automatically sanctified because of emanation from the White House, the Texan said.

"For my part, if we organize the house, politics will be a secondary consideration, and I think every member of my party feels the same way about it," he added.

The statement, his first since returning to Washington, came through the Democratic national committee. Earlier in the day the New York democratic delegation leader, Representative Cullen, informed him that his group of 23 would give him solid support in his speakership candidacy. This certainly assures the Texan of election, provided all the 217 democratic votes can be amassed when congress convenes December 7. Election of a speaker determines which party will organize the house.

In the meantime, Representative Tilson of Connecticut, republican leader in the last house, expressed hope to President Hoover that administration legislation would be passed. Tilson conferred with the democratic leader yesterday, but said he had heard no talk of coalition between the parties.

WATAUGA SHOULD RAISE MORE GOOD CATTLE. SAYS SHIPLEY

Editor Watauga Democrat:

I wish to make an explanation of why so many of the southwest Virginia farmers bought their cattle in Texas this year. There have been around fifty cars high quality yearling Hereford steers shipped into this section this year. Southwest Virginia this year invested approximately seventy thousand dollars in Texas cattle that would have gone to Watauga County, North Carolina if they could have delivered the goods. These people have tired of going to North Carolina and buying cattle that when they get them home and find at least fifty per cent of such low quality that they don't know what to do with them—yet are forced to buy them to get the other fifty per cent they do want. There is more high quality beef bred cattle in the three counties in the Big Bend section of Texas than there is in Virginia and North Carolina combined. These people by co-operation and buying good bulls and keeping their best heifers for breeding purposes have built up a home market not equaled elsewhere. Buyers from the corn belt and eastern states go there and buy everything they have to offer. There is nothing shipped from this section to the open market and there is no such thing as a cattle speculator or shipper in the Big Bend section. Banks in the small towns in Southwestern Texas have as great an amount of money on deposit as the best banks in the larger cities of the east and are able at all times to take care of their customers. What did all of this? Co-operation and high quality Hereford cattle. I never saw a scrub cow in that country—all cattle are high and pure bred and every one with a headlight. (This means a white face.)

If the Watauga Live Stock Association will get together and invest enough money to buy registered bulls and distribute them in every nook and corner of your county and keep the choicest heifers for breeding, in a few years they can successfully compete with the Texas cattle as our buyers here prefer cattle grown in the mountain section of North Carolina, provided quality equal. If you will follow my plan in a few years you will be producing commercial cattle on as high a plane as Southwest Texas and your banks will have double their present deposits. You can now buy pure bred bulls very cheap and you can easily borrow the money for a purpose of this kind if you do not have the available funds. Our people plan to buy their cattle next year in Texas. Why? Because they are forced to do this to get what they want. If some of your cattle raisers will come over and look over

Governor Stewart's Texas cattle, (he bought 16 cars this year) and compare them with the cattle he bought in North Carolina this year; you will readily see why he will go to Texas next year.

W. E. SHIPLEY.

LEES-McRAE COLLEGE OBSERVES ARMISTICE DAY

Banner Elk.—The chapel exercises on Wednesday morning of last week at Lees-McRae College were given in honor of Armistice Day and also North Carolina Day.

After the salute to the flag by the student body, the eighth grade of the high school, under the direction of Miss Sarah Turlington, took charge of the program, emphasis being laid upon North Carolina's part in the World War.

There was special music appropriate to the day, with readings by members of the class and an address by Miss Turlington.

Dumb Dora—I was awfully lucky at the party last night.

Mamma—In what way, dear?

Dumb Dora—We played a game in which the men either had to kiss a girl or forfeit a box of chocolates. I got ten boxes.

Thirteen Ships Loan Wheat for the Orient

Seattle, Wash.—Movement of wheat and flour from Puget Sound, British Columbia, and the Columbia River, the bulk being farm board wheat and flour sold recently to China, has speeded up ship chartering in this section.

Figures released here the first of the week show thirteen vessels loading in the Pacific Northwest, with wheat and flour this month, five more listed for December, and two others under time charter.

Five loaded farm board produce for China last month and nine of this month's 13 are engaged for the same purpose. All are loading in Portland, Tacoma and Seattle under the contract obtained by Comyn and Son of this city for the entire 433,000 tons purchased by the Chinese government.

YOUNG FARMERS MEET ON NOVEMBER 13

The Cove Creek Chapter of Young Tar Heel Farmers of Future Farmers of America met in the agriculture room of Cove Creek High School on Friday the thirteenth and enjoyed an interesting program. Vilas Harmon made a talk on the best sheep for our community. Earnest Henson talked on the best sheep in the United States and why it is best; John Henson talked on "Hams to the Rescue" and Harry Rowe talked on "Flyers of the Sea."

We were delighted to have several of the girls from the Home Economics Department present at this program.

A good number of the members of the club are entering the regular speaking contest which is held every year. It has been arranged so that the different clubs will compete against each other instead of having every one speaking together, as has been the custom heretofore.

THIS WEEK'S PROJECT

Being a member of the Cove Creek Chapter of Young Tar Heel Farmers, I carried a project. I grew cabbage. I plowed the ground in March and let it lay until June, then plowed it again. Then I harrowed and disked it. Then the fertilizer was applied at the rate of 600 pounds per acre, 8-4-4 fertilizer being used. The transplanting came next. The crop was cultivated and hoed twice, and sold to local buyers.

I had two acres in cabbage which produced 36,125 pounds. They were sold at home and they brought me $241.45. My total expenses, including seed, fertilizer, rent and all labor, amounted to $162.72. My net profit was $78.73, and my labor income on the crop was $102.13.

Thrashing machines are humming out dollars in lespedeza seed for Rowan County farmers this fall. J. T. Graham harvested 225 bushels of Korean seed from seven acres of land and others are turning out certified seed which finds a ready sale.
