Celebrate Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Norris, esteemed residents of the town, and perhaps its oldest citizens, were given a pleasant surprise last Sunday when a number of their children gathered at the home with well-filled baskets, and spread a bountiful picnic dinner in honor of the sixtieth wedding anniversary of their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris were young when the hostilities between the North and South flared into open warfare, and although Mr. Norris, now well into his eighties, was too young to be drawn into military service, he carries with him a mental history of the war period. He and Mrs. Norris constitute not only the oldest couple in the community, but they occupy high positions in the public regard and esteem. They are both hale and hearty and enjoyed their Sundays' anniversary to the fullest extent, entering into the spirit of the occasion with the zest of youth, and bidding fair to fulfill the wishes of their many friends that there be many returns of the happy day.
