Lesson for September 3

DAVID

LESSON TEXT—1 Samuel 16:1-13; Psalms 78:70-72

GOLDEN TEXT—But the Lord said unto Samuel, Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature; because I have refused him; for the Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Shepherd Boy. JUNIOR TOPIC—A Shepherd Boy Who Became King. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why David Was Chosen King. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Secret of True Greatness.

I. David, the Shepherd Boy (I Sam. 16:1-13; 17:34-37).

As a young man he was engaged in keeping his father's sheep. Such a life might have tended to indolence, but it proved otherwise with David. He became athletic. As he himself tells us, in the defense of his father's sheep he slew a lion and a bear. His musicianship had brought him such fame as to be called to play at the royal court. Then, too, he had become such an expert marksman as to throw his stone to fall the Philistine giant.

II. David Anointed King (16:1-13).

1. Samuel sent to anoint David (vv. 1-3). The situation was delicate. Saul had become a desperate character. For the divine commission to become known to Saul, therefore, would imperil Samuel's life.

2. The method of selection (vv. 6-12). The Lord had made known to Samuel that one of Jesse's sons was to be the king, but not the particular one. All but one of Jesse's sons had been looked upon, and still the Lord's choice had not appeared. When the shepherd lad appeared before Samuel, the Lord indicated his choice. When the oil was applied the Spirit of the Lord came upon him.

III. David, a King Without a Kingdom.

While Saul was rejected, the time had not yet come for David to be head of the nation. He needed much training before assuming such responsibility. Then, too, the evil influences inaugurated by Saul needed time for development so as to be properly discerned and controlled.

I. David's life at the royal court (I Sam. 17:20).

a. He was called as a musician to minister before the king (chaps. 16-23).

b. Victory over Goliath (chap. 17). The armies of Saul and the Philistines were arrayed against each other. According to an ancient custom, the issue was to be determined by a combat between two selected champions. The nation whose champion was victorious was to rule. The Philistine champion was Goliath, the giant. The sight of Israel's cowardice prompted David to offer his service. When Goliath beheld David coming against him, he cursed him by his gods, showing that it was not merely a battle between David and Goliath, but between false gods and the true God.

c. Friendship with Jonathan (chap. 18). This friendship has become immortalized in the world's thought. It was unique in that it occurred between two men of rival worldly interests. Jonathan was the crown prince, and therefore heir to the throne. David was heir according to the divine plan. Jonathan knew this and waived his rights to the one whom God had chosen. In the establishment of the covenant between them, Jonathan stripped himself of his coat, robe, and equipment, giving them to David. This meant a virtual abdication of the throne to David. As a friend, Jonathan—

(1) Defended David from Saul's frenzy (19:1-7).

(2) Revealed to David Saul's murderous intent (20:30-40).

2. David's life as an outcast. Chapters 21 to 31 describe David's life between his being driven out from the presence of Saul and his being established king. The praise accorded him following the victory over Goliath provoked such violent jealousy in the heart of Saul that he sought to kill David. To escape Saul's wrath he fled the country and feigned madness.

IV. David Made King (II Sam. 2:1-14; 5:1-5).

1. Over Judah (II Sam. 2:1-14). Upon the death of Saul, God directed David to proceed to Hebron and he was there anointed king over Judah.

2. Over Israel (II Sam. 5:1-5). After the death of Ishbosheth, the children of Israel came and formed a league with David, anointing him as their king, assigned as their reasons:

- a. He was their brother. b. He was their leader in war. c. He was the Lord's choice.

The Everlasting Arms

"The everlasting arms." I think of them whenever rest is sweet—how the whole earth and the strength of it, that is, almightiness, is beneath every tired creature, to give it rest, holding us always. No thought of God is closer than that—Adeline D. T. Whitney.

Heavy to Bear

Losses and crosses are heavy to bear; but when our hearts are right with God, it is wonderful how easy the yoke becomes.—O. H. Spurgeon.

Timely Farm Questions Answered State College

QUESTION: What is a good hay mixture to sow this fall?

ANSWER: One mixture which has been found very satisfactory is composed of one bushel of headless wheat, one and one-half bushels of oats or headless barley, and 20 pounds of hairy vetch or 30 pounds of Austrian winter peas. This mixture sown between October 1 and 15th on well fertilized soil will be ready for cutting the following May and will yield from two to three tons of excellent hay to the acre.

stroyed?

ANSWER: From your description this insect is the sand flea or stick-tight flea and can be treated very effectively by rubbing the infested parts with a mixture of two parts lard and one part of finely powdered sulphur. The insect breeds in shady sandy places under outbuildings and in chip piles and these places should be sprayed with kerosene or wiret off so as to exclude the birds.

QUESTION: Should tobacco stalks be plowed under or cut after the crop is harvested?

ANSWER: Stalks which are allowed to stand after harvest furnish food and breeding places for a large number of insects and should be plowed under or cut immediately after harvesting. When the stalks are green it is best to plow them under as these green stalks supply a certain amount of plant food to the soil.
