Little Velma Rivers McGhee Entertains Friends

Little Velma Rivers McGhee entertained a number of her friends at her home on Friday, October 27th, celebrating her fourth birthday. The living and dining rooms of the home were decorated with a profusion of potted plants, and a suggestion of the Halloween season was in evidence. After an hour of games, readings, songs, etc., the little guests were served refreshments by Mrs. McGhee, assisted by Mrs. Ed Luttrell. The little hostess received many useful and attractive gifts.

Those present were: Rommy Linney, George Moritz Jr., Jack Luttrell, Bucky Robbins, Baxter Bryan, Roberta Critcher, Jean Lyster, Judy Stevenson, Robert Lovill, Peggy Lovill, Martha Hamby, Joyce Younce, Mary Lois Howell, Bobby Clay, Kathleen McGhinis, Louise Lewis, Sarah Rebekah Rivers, Kathryn McGhee, Helen Hodges, Emma Jean Council and Buddy Council.

Birthday Party Given in Honor of Mrs. Young.

Mrs. Viola Young, widow of the late E. J. Young, was honored Saturday on the occasion of her birthday anniversary, when a number of friends and relatives gathered at her home near Green Park and spread a delightful dinner on the lawn. After the meal had been partaken of, golf was enjoyed by the younger members of the party, while others were engaged in social conversation.

Among those present were Mrs. L. M. Farthing and daughter, Miss Hazel Bialock, of Boone; Mrs. Arthur Dula and family and Mrs. Collins and family of Boone's Fork. Mesdames Farthing, Dula and Collins are sisters of Mrs. Young. The occasion was greatly enjoyed by the participants.

Mrs. Council Is Hostess To Friday Afternoon Club.

Mrs. James Council was charming hostess to the Friday Afternoon Club last week.

Her large living room was unusually attractive in its setting of fall leaves and yellow chrysanthemums.

After a social hour and a short program rendered by Miss Harriett Wagg, impersonator, and Miss Grace Council, pianist, the business of electing officers for the coming year was entered into, resulting in Mrs. J. D. Council becoming president and Mrs. Annie Coffey, vice-president. Mrs. David Greene was named secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Council is well known for her culinary accomplishments, and the plate of delicious refreshments which she served convinced all present that this reputation is well deserved. Mrs. B. J. Council assisted in serving.

Mrs. F. M. Stubbs, Mrs. J. H. Brendall, Mrs. Grady Farthing, Mrs. Hooper Hendrix and Mrs. J. M. Gaiter were visiting guests.

MISS RUTH ROBBINS BECOMES BRIDE OF J. HAROLD MITCHELL

On Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock Miss Ruth Robbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Robbins of Boone, was married to Mr. James Harold Mitchell of Greensboro. The wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents in Daniel Boone Park, Rev. J. H. Brendall, pastor of the Boone Methodist Episcopal Church, officiating.

The vows were taken in the living room before the fern-banked fireplace which made a background for the improvised altar formed by candelabra and a pair of tall floor baskets holding giant white and yellow chrysanthemums. The bride descended the stairway to be met at the last step by the bridegroom. They proceeded to the altar unattended to music furnished by Miss Ollie Jean Coffey, of Boone, cousin of the bride. Before the ceremony Miss Coffey played "Traumerei" and Schubert's "Serenade" and as the solemn pledge was taken softly rendered "To a Wild Rose" (MacDowell).

The bride wore a costume of brown begheera crepe with all brown accessories and a shoulder corsage of Joanna Hill roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Mitchell was reared in Boone, and attended Appalachian State Teachers College. For the past six years she has been in the office of the United States attorney in Greensboro. She possesses a charming disposition, and has a wide circle of friends throughout Western Carolina who will bear of her marriage with interest.

The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Mary E. Mitchell, of 415 North Mendenhall street, and the late John D. Mitchell of Greensboro. He is an alumnus of Berea College, Berea, Ky., and is connected with the Oscar T. Smith Company, stationers, of Baltimore, Md., with headquarters in Greensboro.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith Spiera, Miss Elsie Gilbert, Miss Stella Cottrell, Miss Edith Haworth and Miss Margaret Brock, all of Greensboro; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Robbins of Blowing Rock, and Miss Elsie Craver, of Charlotte.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will make their home in Greensboro.

MISS MARY CANNON BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. EDWIN MORRIS

Miss Mary Cannon and Mr. Edwin Morris of Concord were married Wednesday in the Blowing Rock Presbyterian Church, at high noon. Rev. Dr. James I. Vance, of Nashville, Tenn., performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cannon of Concord, and with her mother has been for years a summer resident of Blowing Rock. She was given in marriage by her father. Little Anne Cannon Reynolds, niece of the bride, was her only attendant.

The bride wore a lovely blue gown with blue accessories and carried orchids and lilies of the valley. Her mother was gowned in a rust-colored gown and wore a shoulder bouquet of orchids.

A wedding breakfast was served to seventy-five guests at the Cannon home, "Miramichi," following the ceremony. There were a number of out-of-town guests.

The young couple will be stationed in Concord and other cities, the husband's business taking him to different parts of the country.

Mrs. Morris is one of the most popular young women in North Carolina society. For the past two summers she was society editor of the Blowing Rocket, summer newspaper of Blowing Rock. The groom is a graduate of Washington and Lee University and has many friends throughout the State.

MILLER BIRTHDAY AND FAMILY REUNION

On Saturday, October 14th, a large assembly of relatives and neighbors met at the home of Mrs. Frances Miller in Meat Camp, N. C., and gave a sumptuous dinner in honor of Mrs. Miller's 79th birthday.

A long table, laden heavy with choice viands, was set on the front lawn at which about 125 people ate to the full, and went away with much victuals remaining.

All the living children (seven) were present, and many of her numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren, with some of her brothers and sisters, cousins, relatives and neighbors.

Those from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Fred White, Boone, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Younce, Ollie Younce, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Wilson and Mrs. F. W. Wagner and Elizabeth Wagner of Indian Springs, Tenn., and vicinity; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Younce and son, Truman and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Adams and son, Arthur, of Kingsport, Tenn.

May Mrs. Miller live to enjoy many more happy birthdays.

WITHIN SIGHT OF THE RIVER

We are coming to that stage of our pilgrimage which is called the River of Death. And we feel that we should be in readiness both day and night to meet the messenger of the King. We sometimes have in our sleep strange perceptions of a vivid spiritual life, near to and with Christ and a multitude of holy ones. And the joy of it is like no other joy; it can not be told in the language of the world. What we have, then, we know with absolute certainty; yet it is so unlike and above anything that we can conceive in this world that it is difficult for us to put it into words. The inconceivable loveliness of Christ, that it seems that about him there is a sphere of enthusiasm of love, which is the calm habit of the soul; that, without words, without the necessity of demonstrations, affections, heart to heart, soul answers soul. We respond to the infinite love, and we feel his answer in us. This is not death, this is an autumnal sunset; there is a crystalline river pouring into a crystal sea; it is a solo of human life, overpowered by the habalah chorus, which is a queen's coronation; this is heaven, that is the way our fathers and mothers and loved ones went, and we wonder if we will die as well.
