

Bethel High School and Community News

Mr. C. M. Dickson, and daughter, Miss Bonnie, Mr. J. B. O'Neal, and Miss Ona Farthing, teachers in Bethel High School, besides several other citizens of the community, attended the Homecoming celebration at Boone Saturday.

Short programs are given at chapel exercises by the different grades in Bethel High School.

The Forest Grove basket ball team played Bethel Junior team on the latter's court last Thursday evening. The score stood 11 to 7 in favor of the Bethel boys.

Mr. C. M. Dickson and daughter, Miss Bonnie, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Clay of Peoria, N. C.

Mr. Roby Vines made a business trip to Boone Saturday.

Mr. Scott, one of the Bethel school truck drivers, went to Boone Monday to have his truck inspected.

The Literary Society of Bethel School gave an interesting program Friday evening. In addition to a number of readings, jokes, and songs, the following question was debated: "Resolved, That All Schools in a District Should be Consolidated."

Both sides were ably represented, but the decision was rendered in favor of the affirmative.

Mr. W. H. Walker, County Superintendent and all the members of the county board of education of Watauga county, were looking over the school grounds Monday for the purpose of determining just where the new school building should be located.

While no absolutely definite news have been received that the project has been approved in Washington, strong hopes are entertained that this, with other school projects for the county, will be approved and that work will begin immediately.

Just before daylight Monday morning a fire was discovered in the woods just opposite Bethel Baptist Church. Phones rang rapidly for a little while until several citizens met in and got the fire under control before any damage was done.

The high school students on the honor roll for conduct during the second month of school are as follows:

Eight grade: Reed Harmon, Albert Hinson, Opal Eggers, Aileen Greene, Margaret Perry, Kate Phillips, and Elizabeth Wilson. Ninth grade: Beulah Smitherman and Betty O'Neal. Tenth grade: Beulah Fay Isaacs, Mae Lawrence, Almeta Norris, and Bonnie Ward. Eleventh grade: Mrs. Erin Billings, Ruby Dugger, and Kathryn Sherwood.

The following ninth grade students were placed on the honor roll because of excellent conduct and scholastic standing which was above 90 all around: Louiva Edmiston.

Quite a number of students were right on the border line. It is expected that the number of bona fide honor students will be increased next month.

Boone Hi School News

(Contributed by Journalism Club.) Boone High School will present their annual "Stunt Night" November 14 in the Demonstration School auditorium.

Francis Stubbs, a student of Boone High, gave a Halloween party Wednesday night. Many of the Boone High students were present at this delightful entertainment.

Miss Rhyne, the home economics teacher in our school, put on a fashion show of garments which the students made during the second month. It was held at the administration building Wednesday, 29th, at 3:45 o'clock. Several mothers of the students were there. An interesting program was given.

Miss Dennis, home economics Supervisor of North Carolina, visited the Home Economics class of Boone High. We enjoyed her short visit with us immensely and hope she will visit us again soon.

The Freshmen Home Economic students gave a Halloween party Thursday night in the class room. Everyone enjoyed themselves a great deal.

The Junior Girls Home room has been made very home-like by the addition of curtains, causing the incoming light to be softened to such a degree that it no longer is a strain on the eyes.

Many of the class rooms have been greatly helped in their appearance by the use of potted plants furnished by the various students.

The Epworth League of the Methodist Church gave a Halloween party Tuesday night, October 29. Many interesting games were played and enjoyed by everyone.

As The Third Month Begins As the third month of the school begins I think it would be advisable for each student to have a confidential, heart-to-heart talk with himself about what good the first two months of school have done him and what he hopes to get out of the next month's work, or if he intends to work at all.

The first month has certainly shown us that we have much room for improvement. We greatly need to improve in grades first of all. Secondly, it would be beneficial to the student body as a whole, if some improvements were made in co-operation. We all realize that a school cannot really accomplish a great deal where this important element is lacking. We might also improve in our general attitude toward our school work and teachers. Our school spirit could stand a little boosting as well.

If everyone would seriously consider these things and resolve to improve himself along these lines, our third month of school would undoubtedly be more profitable, and a great deal more could be accomplished.

DR. VIRGIL D. REED PLANS BUSINESS CENSUS FOR 1935

New York.—Dr. Virgil D. Reed, chief of the wholesale and retail trades of the bureau of census of the Department of Commerce, described for the American Management Association here the 1935 census of American business.

A field force of 28,000 and an office force of 3900 will be required to complete the work Dr. Reed explained, saying the census would include the entire wholesale and retail trade field, to "afford a yardstick of comparison . . . and to equip business leaders with much-needed facts for charting a recovery course."

Farm Notes

(By W. B. Collins, County Agent.) The tobacco committee of Watauga county met in the County Agent's office on Saturday, November 1, to make adjustments of the tobacco contracts in preparation for the new sign-up which will take place this month. Out of the 224 tobacco contracts in the county, changes were made in 129 of the contracts. From 35 of the larger tobacco growers, 5,780 pounds of tobacco were taken from their base pounds, and this amount was added to the base pounds of 64 of the smaller growers. The acreage of thirty-one growers was reduced by 5.6 acres and this amount was added back to thirty growers with small acreage allotments.

These changes were made at the request of the Tobacco Section, Washington, D. C. The changes were made to take effect on the new contract, so the future contracts would be more uniform in yields and to overcome some of the inequalities of the old contracts.

New tobacco allotment cards will be issued from the County-Agent's office to the contract signers, before the tobacco market opens in December.

Mr. R. W. Graeber, Extension Forester, will be at the Valle Crucis School on Wednesday morning, November 13, at 9:30 to make estimate of the amount of lumber which can be cut from the school wood land, and to give instructions on the care of farm forests. The farmers of the county are invited to attend this meeting. Any farmers who are contemplating selling their timber should attend this meeting and discuss the matter with Mr. Graeber.
