ARMORED TRAINS TO TRANSPORT KY, GOLD

Washington.-Well informed sources said recently that 50 or more arthe bulk of Uncle Sam's $10,600,000,-000 gold hoard into the strong box nearing completion at Fort Knox, Ky.

Although the new depository will not be ready for use until after September 15, plans for the huge shipment already are being drafted se cretly at the treasury.

The transfer of the precious metal the terior. Last year more than $2,000. 000,000 in bullion was moved from San Francisco to a vault at the Denver mint, where the government considered it would be safe from any threat, including invasion by a foreign foe.

It is presumed that most of the bullion to be stored in the Kentucky hills will be sent from New York and

Each of the armored trains mentioned as likely to haul the gold prob. ably will include six coaches-three bullion cars, two pullmans and diner. They are expected to move on special schedules, slower than an ordinary passenger train. Each express would hold from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 worth of gold bars about the size of ordinary building bricks.

The gold sent from San Francisco to Denver was shipped as parcel post under the surveillance of postal inspectors. It rolled in armored trucks through the Denver streets from the railway station for almost an entire night, and few residents there knew of the movement until it was com-
