ADVERTISING PAYS

The advertising program which has been pursued by the state of North Carolina, under the Department of Conservation and Development, has brought literally thousands of responses from every section of the United States and from almost all the countries of the earth-all seeking further information about er, the farmer, or the business man. Lists of these inquiries are being forwarded to the Governor's hospitality groups in all the counties of the state, as well as to the Chambers of Com-

In glancing over one of these lists, one finds a large number of persons interested in this particular section of the state. Many of them want small farms, some of them spots for summer cottages, while others want to know when the azalea blooms or what time of year the brook trout in the mountain streams are usually hungriest. And there's where the whole thing assumes a local aspect.

The state is spending thousands of dollars for this advertising, which is bringing unprecedented results. The duty now devolves upon the Chambers of Commerce and the hospitality organization to get to work on blush like a maiden. these inquiries. If they are not followed up, the publicity program will bring scant results. Failure to act on such of these inquiries as concern this section, would liken us to a shopkeeper who advertises his merchandise and refuses to show the prospective customer the goods when he enters the establishment.

The memorial which has been planned is a medicial library in connection with the nospital, a large collection of medical books available not only to the staff of the hospital but to doctors and nurses throughout this area in which there are few centers of medical from the tree was more commendlearning. The memorial is more than just a dream. Already the first contributions toward this library have been made, and a room in the hospital has been set aside for the books. Later on, a special section of the new fibrary building which is hoped for as a part of the development program may be devoted to this medica! library.

Under the supervision of Miss Marybeth Hurst, record librarian at Grace Hospital, the first steps in the establishment of the library are being taken. Friends of the association are being written of the plan and being given the opportunity to have a part in is founding. Two substantial contributions of valuable books have al. ready been made. Shortly before Christmas, the ladies of Banner Elk held a bazaar, the proceeds from which will go toward the equipment of the library room.

Flucie Stewart May Get Job At Newberry

(Lawrence Leonard in Greensboro Daily News)

One of the most popular assistant football coaches in the North State Conference soon may step into a head esaching berth.

Flucie Stewart, the redheaded football line coach and basketball mentor at Appalachian State College, will look with favor upon a head coaching offer from Newberry College, provided the offer is made.

Dr. James C. Kinard, president of Newberry, is believed to look with favor upon Stewart, former star athlete and coach at Furman university Greenville, S. C., which is only a few miles from Newberry.

Stewart's name has been linked with the Newberry position since Ad (Dutch) MacLean resigned to become athletic director at Porter Military academy, Charleston, S. C.

Stewart, while he will not admit it, is believed to have the Inside He is a personal friend of a number of influential Newberry alumni and is fully equipped for head coaching duties.

For four years Stewart, was a three letter standout at Furman, starring in football, basketball and baseball He was all-state in football and basketball and later helped coach both sports at Furman.
