JONAS IS HEARD AT LINCOLN DINNER

Republican Leader Extols Memory of Lincoln and Fears for Safety of Democracy

Hon, Charles A. Jonas of Lincolnton, Republican national committeeman, and long prominent in the affairs of his party in the state, spoke eloquently at a gathering of local Republicans at a Lincoln Day banquet at the Gateway Cafe Monday evening.

Mr. Jonas described Lincoln being "among the plain people be-loved above all other Americans. They love him because they love liberty. The passion of his life and the cardinal principles of his politi-cal philosophy was the advancement of the cause of human liberty and the protection of human rights. He with other forward-looking men of his time founded, or rather gave birth to a new political party in America, grounded upon the fundamental principle of the protection of basic human rights."

The speaker then briefly reviewed the rise to power of the Republican party in the nation, quoted many immortal utterances of Lincoln, including his Gettysburg address, and launched into a discussion of the political situation as maintains in the United States today.

"We face a political and economic crisis," he said, "as grave as that which faced the country during the Civil war. Once more the perpetuity of constitutional democratic gov ernment and American liberty are endangered. Again the attack is from within. No outside power can ever destroy our constitutional democracy nor our republican form of government. No fifth column can ever undermine the faith of our people in the freedom and liberty established here by the founding fathers and preserved by a galaxy of brave and consecrated patriots who have piloted our ship of free government throughout the years. If the end of constitutional freedom comes in America, if our republic falls, the blow will be struck by de-mocracy's host deadly enemy, dic-tatorship within the government. Let us take warning before it is too late! The danger is imminent. One by one the executive department is abrogating to itself powers delegated to the legislative and judicial de-partments by the constitution. The deadly poison virus is covering our body politic like creeping paralysis and the majority of our people are not aware that government pay checks and crooning fireside chats are mere smoke screens that hide the barter of our liberties for a European type of statism and slavery "I call upon all who embrace this
