State College Hints To Farm Homemakers

By BETH CURNANT
N. C. State College

In these busy times no one can afford to spend all day doing housework, or to neglect it because of outside activities. A good manager in the home works quickly and easily, gets the job done and has time left for other things.

Most everyone can learn to be more efficient. There is a short and easy way to do every task. Unnecessary motions and steps need to be eliminated. Equipment should be arranged so it is stored at the place where it is used.

A bed made carefully once a week should require very little daily care. Covers will stay in place if the corners are anchored right. Each morning the sheets can be smoothed out, the pillows plumped up, and the spread pulled back into place in a minute's time.

Practice good posture while you sweep. Stand upright, with your weight on the balls of the feet. To prevent stooping, use a long-handled dust pan to take up the dust. Hang up the broom and dust pan when you have finished.

Lots of us have gotten into the habit of throwing away the outer, dark green leaves of lettuce, yet they're good for us. Actually, they are richer in vitamins and minerals than the inner bleached leaves. Shred them into the salad bowl or serve them wilted with a hot bacon dressing. Another trick is to put these outer leaves into the soup pot.

Suggestions Given For Souring Milk

Like many housewives in North Carolina, a lady from Newton Grove has had trouble in getting her milk to sour normally and has written the animal husbandry department at State College asking whether her cow was at fault or whether the trouble was with the kind of feed that the cow was getting.

W. M. Roberts, associate in animal industry, replied that she was probably getting too many of the wrong kind of germs in the milk. He suggested cleaning and sterilizing all the equipment that comes in contact with the milk. His instructions were to rinse the utensils in cold or lukewarm water immediately after use and then to scrub it with a brush and washing powder, not soap and a rag, and finally to rise with hot water. A chlorine disinfectant can be used.

He also suggested that the cow not be milked in a dusty place and that the udder of the cow be cleaned with a damp cloth.

The milk is then to be cooled as soon as possible after milking to 50 degrees for drinking. If sour milk or cream for churning is desired, the milk should be warmed to 70 to 75 degrees for souring. When the temperature of the milk goes to 85 to 90 degrees, undesirable germs grow faster than the milk souring germs.

If the problem is not solved in this way, Roberts suggested that the milk be brought to 160 degrees and cooled. Then, add some commercial or high-grade country buttermilk and let the milk sour.

He pointed out that keeping the buttermilk at about 50 degrees after churning retards the separation of whey and hardening of the curd.

In 1934 a poster of the Polish League read: "Our archenemies, the Germans, are getting evermore threatening. The Hitlerites are committing bestial atrocities against the Polish populace, and are seeking to destroy, in a barbaric manner, everything that is Polish. The German hydra is raising anew its many-headed body. Its jaws are spitting flames of hatred and its thievish claws seek prey."—Atlantic Monthly.
