Sev-enth and Third armies formed a junction in the Saarland yesterday in a great co-ordinated assault that virtually wiped out the last German resistance west of the Rhine and captured the historic cities of Saarbrucken, Zweibrucken and Worms. Congressman Irvin Urges Private Subscription to Save Grand-father Mountain

N. C. MOUNTAIN

WOULD RESCUE

Washington, March 20-The case of Grandfather mountain, about to be subjected to commercial exploibe subjected to commercial exploi-tation, was called to the attention of the house of representatives and the people of North Carolina today by Congressman Joe W. Ervin, 10th North Carolina district. Mr. Ervin said that this mountain, the highest and most rugged peak the Blue Ridge range, said to be peologically the most ancient of any mountain on the American con-

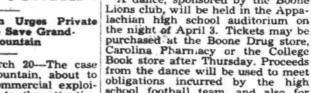

any mountain on the American continent, should be preserved for future generations. "There are no federal funds available at this time with which to pur-chase this property," he said, "and in view of the size of the public debt after the war, we cannot rely upon any expectation that federal funds will be available for this purpose after the war."

The congressman expressed hope that the people of North Carolina, by private subscription, would "see fit" without delay, to acquire this property and preserve it in its nat-ural beauty. He suggested that pri-vate subscription for such purposes vate subscription for such purposes could be deducted, in large measure, for income tax purposes. "It occurs to me," said he, "that it would be appropriate for the people of the state to acquire and save it as a memorial to the patriots who will have sacrificed their lives in this war" this war.

Mr. Ervin has written North Carolina government officials concerning this matter and has discuss-ed it with Arlan P. Kelsey, of East Boxford, Mass., who formerly lived in the shadow of Grandfather mountain and whose article appearing in an issue of "Planning and Civic Comment" on the venerable land-mark Mr. Ervin today placed in the Congressional Record.
