

Scouting News

A course in the training of scoutmasters will begin at the science building at the college on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 3, at 2 o'clock, Dr. D. J. Whitener, leadership training officer of the Watauga district of the Old Hickory Council, will conduct the classes, and all interested men are urged to begin the lectures from the first. Fathers of scouts are particularly urged to take the course as are others who need a refresher course in scouting.

Under the supervision of Alfred Adams, chairman of the finance committee, a drive will be underway shortly to raise a small fund for current expenses of the scouting work. Mr. Adams hopes to receive donations to the amount of $125 or more, and contributions will be received either by him or other members of the finance committee, Russell D. Hodges, Sr., Howard Holshouser and S. F. Horton. Any contribution towards carrying out this work will be gratefully received.

A meeting of the executive council of the Watauga district was held at the home of Eugene E. Garbee, district chairman, on Monday night to formulate plans for the year. Those present at the meeting in addition to Mr. Garbee were Lee Stout, vice-chairman; Dr. R. C. Busted, district commissioner; Dr. Wm. M. Matheson, health and safety; Dr. D. J. Whitener, leadership training; Alfred Adams, finance, and Leonard Eury, publicity. At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Garbee served refreshments.

Due to the large enrollment of Troop 41 it has been necessary to divide the troop. The organized Troop 41 is now composed of 19 boys, and Herbert Wey is scoutmaster and Grady Moretz, Jr., the junior assistant scoutmaster. Each boy is working on advancement, and it is hoped that by next fall many of them will be first class scouts. Troop 41 is made up of the following three patrols: First patrol, Buck C Robbins, patrol leader, Harry Ray Brendell, assistant patrol leader, scribe, Bill Blackburn, and Donald McCracken, H. W. Moretz and Lawrence Phillips. Second patrol, Phil Busted, patrol leader; Marvin Casey, assistant patrol leader; Roscoe Brown, scribe; and Dale Hodges, Archie Lyons and Hal Vannoy. The Lion patrol, Teddy Barnette, patrol leader; Gene Craven, assistant patrol leader; Johnny Barnette, scribe, and Glenn Wilcox and Bobby McConnell.

Troop 40 met at the boys' gym on Thursday night at 7 o'clock with Mr. Garbee conducting the training work on second class scouting. Members present were Jesse Hutchinson, Alvin Joines, Guy McCann, Leo Mast, Dennis Franklin and Jimmie Reece.

An average of 30 railroad trains were required to move the personnel and equipment of an armored division from the training camp to the port of embarkation, says the transportation office, Fourth Service command.

SEAMAN WHITE, BLOWING ROCK, EN ROUTE HOME

William Isiah White, seaman first class, USNR, Blowing Rock, is serving on the destroyer Charrette en route to San Diego, Calif., with orders to report to the 19th fleet.

The Charrette claims the record of catching more Japs than any other ship in the navy. She picked up 112 survivors of a Jap cargo vessel, picked up another off a life raft a little more than a week later and then built up her total to 1,776 by taking over a Jap hospital ship carrying ammunition in violation of international law.

Carload freight traffic for military activities of the Fourth Service Command during the war is shown as approximately 5,667,000 tons.

FEAST DAYS OF A PEOPLE

Lesson for Feb. 3: Leviticus 20:7-8; 23:4-6, 15-16, 24, 27-28, 34, 39-44

The ritual of the Hebrew religion, in addition to the daily sacrifices, provided for six annual feasts.

Most important was the Passover celebrating the birthright of the nation. Similar to our own Fourth of July it had a patriotic significance but was chiefly important because of the religious ideas it conveyed. The blood of the paschal lamb, standing for deliverance from sin, pointed to the work of Jesus and was closely associated with the institution of His supper.

Fifty days after Passover was observed came the feast of Pentecost. It was a feast of thanksgiving for the first fruits of the fields and it may be significant of the full fruits of the spirit.

The seventh Hebrew month was regarded as specially sacred and the first day was marked by the blowing of trumpets. This was a reminder to the people of their privileges and may symbolize the joy of religion.

On the tenth day of the seventh month, the great day of atonement, the high priest entered the holy of holies to make atonement for the people. An animal ceremonial, it foreshadowed the final and perfect sacrifice on the cross.

Five days after the day of atonement the full harvest was celebrated in a feast of seven days during which the people dwelt in booths made of the branches of trees. This commemorated the journeys in the wilderness. It was a season of rejoicing in which men acknowledged God's goodness. We may be reminded by it of our own Thanksgiving Day in the autumn.

Many lessons of value will appear in a close study of the Hebrew festivals. First is that the whole round of our lives should be related unto God.
