

Schedule of Local AAA Elections Is Announced by Co. Committee

The schedule for agricultural conservation program (AAA) elections in Watauga county was released this week by Ned Glenn, chairman of the county committee.

Farmers in each community will elect a committee of three farmers plus two alternates. At the same time a farmer delegate to the county convention will be chosen, who, with delegates from other communities, will elect a three-man county committee.

This important committee election will be held Saturday Dec. 7, 1946. Polling places will open at 9 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. Polling places for the 20 communities in the county will be as follows:

- Bald Mountain community: Cook's store, Todd.
- Beaver, Dam No. 1: Dean Reese's store.
- Beaver Dam No. 2: Clyde Perry's store.
- Blowing Rock: City Hall.
- Blue Ridge: M. O. Coffey's residence.
- Boone No. 1: Vilas Service station.
- Boone No. 2: AAA office.
- Boone No. 3: Greene's Filling station, Perkinsville.
- Cove Creek No. 1: Denver Church's store.
- Cove Creek No. 2: Sherwood's store.
- Elk: Simmons' store.
- Laurel Creek No. 1: V. D. Ward's store.
- Laurel Creek No. 2: Vance Harmon's store.

Meat Camp No. 1: Green Valley school.

Meat Camp No. 2: Meat Camp Filling station.
North Fork: Howard Thomas' store.
Shawneehaw: Clyde Tester's store.

Stony Fork: A. G. Miller's store.
Watauga No. 1: Howard Mast's store.
Watauga No. 2: Church's store, Foscoe.

Eligible farmers are being urged to show their interest in the local administration of national farm programs by full attendance at the meetings. Eligible to vote is any farmer participating in the 1946 agricultural conservation program, including owners, operators, tenants, and sharecroppers, and anyone who has a contract with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.
The duties of local committees include recommending programs, action, determining acreage allotments, and otherwise administering federal farm programs; choosing conservation practices for which federal assistance is offered in Watauga county; allocating among farmers the funds available for meeting agricultural conservation needs, and handling price-support operations, including community loans and purchases.
For those tobacco growers who do not sell their tobacco before the polling date, tobacco cards will be available at the polling places. A community committeeman will be on hand to take performance reports, orders for lime for 1947, and farm plans for 1947.

$200,000 Fire Razes 2 College Buildings

would be undertaken to replace the fire loss.

Of Historical Value

The music building had been valued by the college and the people of the community, quite as much from an historical viewpoint, as from its material contribution to the college plant, since it was the nucleus of the present college, was built in 1899 by public subscription, as the first step in the dream of the Dougherty brothers to establish an outstandingly useful educational plant in this community.

Dr. Dougherty recalls that the huge frame structure which contained six big rooms and an auditorium, was built by donations of from $5 to $100 by people of Boone and the sections roundabout, that labor in many cases was donated, and teams used without cost in bringing lumber to the building site. He recalls that the lumber was bought at $4.50 per 1000, that the weatherboarding, floors and ceiling were hand-planed, Granville Sherrill, John Culler, and Wilson Beach being some of the builders employed.

The structure was first used as a public school, and later when the State established the Appalachian Training School was taken over by that institution.

The art building, the second permanent type structure to be erected on the campus, was built by the State in 1908, at a cost of $20,000. The building was of brick, contained twelve rooms, and for many years was used as class room space for the higher grades in the Training School.

Jonas Wineberger, 82, Dies In Elizabethton Following Brief Illness

Jonas Wineberger, 82 years old, native of the Meat Camp section of Watauga county, died at an Elizabethton, Tenn. hospital Sunday from a few days' illness. Mr. Wineberger had just returned to his home in Elizabethton from a visit with relatives in Watauga, and suffered a paralytic stroke on Tuesday evening of last week, from which he failed to rally.

Mr. Wineberger left Watauga about 25 years ago, and lived at Piney Flats, Tenn., until five years ago when he established his residence in Elizabethton. At the time of his death he was residing with a daughter, Mrs. Dale Nave. The deceased was a member of the New Bethel Presbyterian Church at Piney Flats.

Funeral services were tentatively set for Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the New Bethel Presbyterian Church with the Rev. J. Leo Hall, and Rev. Dan Graham officiating. Pall bearers and flower bearers were nephews, nieces and friends. Mr. Wineberger is survived by nine daughters: Mrs. G. M. Mabry, of Coburn, Va.; Mrs. John Thayer of Ogalla, Neb.; Mrs. Willie Proffit, of Zionville, N. C.; Mrs. Harlow Crosswhite, Mrs. Harry Ritchie, Mrs. Lawrence Roberts, Mrs. Roy Merritt, Mrs. Dale Nave, and Mrs. Lawrence Greer, of Elizabethton. There are three sons: Carlson of Piney Flats Eugene and Charles Wineberger of the Navy. One sister survives, Mrs. Emma Lookabill, and one brother, Mr. Noah Wineberger of Meat Camp, N. C. There are 29 grandchildren, and 25 great-grandchildren.

GI STUDENTS

A total of 1,958,083 former servicemen have enrolled in the education and training program for veterans, according to the Veterans Administration. Applications still being received indicate that it will soon pass the 2,000,000 mark. Of the total, 1,292,893 are taking regular school and college courses, while 665,160 are enrolled in on-the-job training programs. Disabled veterans, totaling 88,771, are taking vocational rehabilitation courses.

TWO "TASK FLEETS"

The Navy has announced that its operating forces will be reorganized with "task fleets" established in both the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, capable of dealing with what is called "any fast-moving situation." The present system of numbered fleets is to be abandoned. The Pacific Task Fleet will be commanded by Vice Admiral A. T. Montgomery, while Vice Admiral W. H. P. Blandy will have charge of the Atlantic Fleet.

The Senate Campaign Investigating Committee has voted to hold an investigation into the fitness of Senator Theodore C. Bilbo, Democrat, of Mississippi, to be a member of the Senate. The Committee announced it would hold public hearings on the question in Jackson, Miss., no later than December 2.

Hi - Land Cleaners!
BEN WOOD, Manager

An Appreciation

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the people of Watauga County for their support in the recent election, which resulted in my re-election as sheriff of Watauga county.

There has been some criticism from the people in the town of Boone because I do not help police the town. As we have an officer to patrol the town, I do not feel that it is my place to do so. However, I will gladly co-operate in any way with the city policemen and town officials.

Some complaint has reached me to the effect that home brew is being made in the county. According to the law, someone must make an affidavit of the percentage of alcohol in the home brew or wine before I have the official authority to capture same.

Any time that I can render any assistance or service to my good friends and citizens of Watauga county, please do not fail to call on me.

C. M. Watson,
Sheriff of Watauga County.
